PUBLISHED EVERY TWO WEEKS DURING THE SCHOLASTIC YEAR.

Vol. II

BIRMINGHAM, ALABAMA, OCTOBER 13, 1919.

No. 1.

OPENING DAY WAS GREAT EVENT

Attendance This Year Largest in the History of School. Bright Outlook for Year.

In the presence of a great concourse of students and patrons Birmingham-Southern College began its new season on Wednesday, September 10. The President, Trustees, Faculty and speakers were seated upon the rostrum and the visitors and students practically filled the auditorium.

The enrollment this year will exceed all other records as the total number of students will reach the 300 mark. The friends of the institution are very gratified to see this splendid student body. The new dormitory should be rushed to completion so as to not crowd anyone. It is to be hoped that spring will see the building very near completion. The year's work is now well under way and the prospects are rosy indeed.

PROF. J. M. MALONE IS NEW HEAD OF TRAINING SCHOOL

Birmingham-Southern is fortunate in securing the services of Prof. J. M. Malone as Principal of the Training School.

Mr. Malone is a graduate of Birmingham-Southern College and before entering the Y. M. C. A. war work taught mathematics in the college for several years. After war was over he was released from the "Y" service and is back at his profession of training young men again.

Prof. Malone is very popular with the students and we feel confident that this year, under his administration, will be a banner session.

GLEE CLUB

Dr. Richardson is Talented Director.

Almost a month has now passed since the opening of the school and many students are turning their attention to a source of much inspiration and worth in college life, the glee club. Over half of the members of last season's club are in the school again this year, and in addition to these there are about twenty new men working for places on the club. Recently Dr. Richardson asked all those interested in trying for places on the club to meet him in the auditorium. After the fellows sang a few tunes, he expressed himself as being well pleased with the quality of tone produced, and said he hoped to build a good club from the material at hand. Those who had the good fortune to sing with the club last season are looking forward with great anticipation to the work this year, not only because of the splendid training afforded but also because of the inspiration that comes from associating with Dr. Richardson. He certainly proved himself to be a friend of the boys and they are devoted to him.

The fact that "Darling" will not be with us is a source of keenest regret. "Darling" possesses a wonderful baritone voice and his loss from the quartette and as accompanist will be distinctly felt. He is now studying music in Chicago and his friends are delighted to know of his success. He richly deserves it. The manager, Mr. A. L. Branscomb, is already planning some good trips for the year. It is probable that a northern and southern trip will be made one before and one after the holidays. Of course, Dr. Richardson will see us that making a tour before Christmas will depend upon the cooperation of the members of the club.

What a song of pennies,
That's very hard.
A dollar has no value
Without its little pard.

Where is the old fashioned who used to turn the children off?

Prospects Bright for Birmingham-Southern Panther

Continues to Sharpen Her Purple Claws For the Coming Contests

That the Panther gridiron will equal, if not surpass, the famous 1916 Panther eleven is the belief of the student body at the Birmingham-Southern College. With six men from the 1916 team back, and indications of the return of another in addition to the men from last year's team, Panther hopes are still high despite the little setback acquired in Tuscaloosa Saturday.

The Alumni association has been backing the football team as well as other athletic projects, at the college grandly this year. They gave the football squad a 10-day camp at Winnetka just before school opened and by other means have shown as well as expressed their determination to back the athletic teams to the limit.

Cosch Charlie Brown started his candidates to training on Mungler Field September 10. The number of candidates grew as time went by and 33 men were reporting daily after the first week of practice.

Eddie Lewis soon rounded into old-time form and has been setting a fast pace for the Panther opponents in the first two games of the season. Eddie is one of the 1916 men. He was quarter back on the team that year and did good work. Coach Brown changed him to half back this year, however, and indications are that he will be a big factor in the Panther's strong backfield.

Another factor in the Panther backfield will be the return of the 1916 line backer, who was the star of the 1916 team.

THE BIRMINGHAM-SOUTHERN EXPANDING.

The Birmingham-Southern has enrolled more students than it could accommodate. As it will be several months before the new dormitory will be available, the institution was under the necessity of doing one of three things: renting, purchasing or sending some of the boys home. The last was unthinkable. The first was impossible; no property in that section to rent. To buy became a necessity. And so the property owned by Dr. Frank W. Brandon was purchased. This property is so located that sooner or later the college would have been compelled to own it. So it is well that we have purchased it before it fell into the hands of some one who would have forced the institution to pay two prices for it. We understand the price paid Dr. Brandon was $9,000 for his commodious home and six lots. In addition to this, the college agrees to cancel Dr. Brandon's unpaid subscription to the college, which is from $300 to $500, making the property cost the college about $9,500. It has cost Dr. Brandon much more than that.

With the present splendid body, the building of the new dormitory, the purchase of the Brandon property and the ever increasing number of its friends, it seems that Birmingham-Southern has entered upon a day of prosperity hitherto unknown to Methodist's male colleges in Alabama—Alabama Christian Advocate.

MY GEOMETRY.

A. L. Branscomb.)

The hours I spent with thee, hard thing
Are as a string of agonies to me,
And every book dread memories bring.
My Geometry, my Geometry!

Each agony a thought, each thought a claw
To seize and tear the heart of man,
Thou art!

I dread thy mystic—dread, I do,
Thy geometry, my Geometry!

Tink was the most consistent ground gainer on the 1916 Panther team. He played half in 1916, as he will this year.

For quarter back Scott is back. He held down the position of quarter on the 1916 team very efficiently and is expected to be a tower of strength for the Panthers in the backfield.

Big Levi, manager of tackle in the 1916 squad crashes through the opponent's line like a ton of brick and will be a big factor in a strong line.

Another lineman who makes an opponent go his best to gain a yard of ground is "Slim" Neese. Slim fills the position of guard completely with his 200 pounds of bulk, mostly muscle.

The sixth man to star on the 1916 team and who may return this year is "Scotty" Nell. Although it has not been definitely settled as to whether he will return or not, it is generally believed at this time that he will. Nell started this year at Vanderbilt but was ineligible to play on the team under the S. I. A. A. ruling that a player has either to be a freshman or to attend school at that college one year before he is eligible for the varsity team. Nell played and on the 1916 Panther team. He was credited with being the best punter in America last year.

There are four men from last year's team who are back. Bob Rowe, Aubrey Miller, Jim Baty and Cooper Green. These four men, who were the 1916 team, will be a big factor in the Panther's strong backfield.

Y. M. C. A.

One of the real functions of college life is the training of young men with respect to their moral nature. For the purpose of more adequately directing this particular phase of training the college Y. M. C. A. has become the main factor. The weekly programs include devotional exercises, talks and addresses by leading men of the community. And occasionally the young men of the college are given places on the programs.

The college "Y" also provides for special social activities. In these affairs the students come together more closely, and the faculty and student body develop a more intimate fellowship with each other. This feature makes the "Y" particularly effective in the development of the young men.

It is the purpose of the Y. M. C. A. leaders to arrange some phase of mission study during the year. The study of the Negro Question of the South, and Latin American conditions are considered of special importance. We hope to have a class in one of the courses very soon. To supplement the study class, at various times, there will be lectures by men who are familiar with these questions. In this way, every member has an opportunity to learn a part of the church program, and become a real factor in the religious work of this country and South America.

Last, but not least in the college "Y" program is the Student Volunteer Movement. The world is calling today for real men, volunteers who are willing to dedicate their lives in service for humanity. Through the volunteers who have already signed the life service card and the prospective volunteers we hope to respond somewhat to the great cry for leadership. A Volunteer Band will be organized in the near future.

The Y. M. C. A. takes its place on the campus, not to deaden life, but to fill it with those ideals that go to make life "a grand, sweet song."

plays tackle. They will help strengthen the team greatly.

Among the new members who are showing up well are James Larson, Stanton Gandy, Rogers, Morrell Montgomery, Landrum, Propet, Bawer, Norton, "Sophie" Malone, "Chick" Mays, Bagley, and Douglas Streit. They go together to complete what is hoped to be the strongest team that ever cavorted on College Hill under the gold and black.

At present, there is a little uncertainty, however, as to whether Douglas Streit will get back. He was injured in the opening game of the season with the Hamilton Aggies, having a rib broken, and may be out for the rest of the season, but optimistic boosters say that he will be able to play in the next game, October 18, with Marion. Streit is one of very few men who can make a 100 yards in 9-12 seconds, and at half-back will have plenty of opportunity to show his speed. He was all-American prep school half-back last year.

The opening game of the year against the Hamilton Aggies was a very decisive victory for the Panthers. They ripped the Aggie line to shreds and scored 16 touchdowns. The final score was 66 to 0.

Coach Brown used every man who appeared on the field in a uniform to his effort to hold the score down. The Panthers won the game by a score of 66 to 0.

MEN RECEIVE LETTERS.

There were 26 men to receive the coveted "B" from the athletic association at the beginning of the scholastic year, September 10. The letters were won by the men last year. There were three men to receive the old English "B" in addition to the 26. The old English "B's" are given the men who made the three major teams or more which puts them in the all-round athletic class.

"Frog" Miller, "Mike" Norton and "Tapple" Bradford were the men receiving the old English "B's". Miller made football, baseball, basketball and tennis. Norton made football, basketball and baseball and Bradford made football, baseball, track and basketball.

The complete list of the men receiving letters and the teams they made follows:

Football—Miller, Baty, Montgomery, C. M. Green, W. C. Green, Bradford, Hatcher, Rowe, deYampert, Haynes, Scarbrough, Norton and Osborne.

Baseball—J. Stuart, Burney, Henderson, Bradford, Miller, Malone, deYampert, Griffin, Rowe, Norton and J. W. Stuart.

Basketball—Burney, Norton, Miller, Bradford, Godby, Bagley and Shores.

Track—Smith, Hatcher, Davison, Bradford, Malone, Bagley, Cooper and Baty.

Tennis—Miller, Hyatt and Gould.

All-round athletes—Bradford, Miller and Norton.

A "rat" hearing various noises, and sounds, and shouts and yells proceeding from the room occupied by Dr. Colbeck stopped in amazement. It sounded somewhat like a revival, did it, sonny? Innocent "rats."

Advice to "rats"—Don't study too hard because teacher might think you have got your book open in class and give you more.

PANTHERS LOSE TO ALABAMA.

Panther hopes received a hard jolt last Saturday afternoon in Tuscaloosa when the University of Alabama defeated the locals by a score of 27 to 9. Not that the local boosters thought for a moment that Birmingham-Southern would be able to beat the husky and well trained Alabama crew but the decisive victory for Alabama eleven hit the hopes of the Panther followers heavily. The decisive victory of the Crimson and White team can be accounted for in a measure, however.

James Larson, our star plunger and consistent gainer was out of the game with an injured knee received in the opening game with Hamilton, and Douglas Streit was also out with a broken rib. The locals were outweighed considerably and in addition to having some of the strongest players of their career Alabama has two all-Southern stars, Rogers and Semolina.

Birmingham-Southern carried a much stronger team than was expected by Alabama and a stiff contest was the result.

"Slim" Neese played the entire game and deserves mention for his steadiness and effective playing.

Tink Gilliam did valiant work as fullback but could not hold against the charging Crimson and was smothered time and again.

Six substitutes were made on either side, the majority as a result of bruises and knockouts. The game was practically void of features with the exception of the splendid work of Lenoir, Alabama's right half back, who was the individual star of the game.

It is with optimism that the Panthers are looking toward the next game, October 18, at Marion.

Officials—Referee, George Watkins of Squawnee; Umpire, Red Harris of Auburn; head linesman, Fuzzy Woodruff of Birmingham; timekeepers, Borden Burr and Norton.

Score by quarters:
Alabama ..... 6 7 7
Birmingham-Southern ..... 0 0 0

NEW DORMITORY WILL BE ERRECTED AT AN EARLY DATE.

Definite Plans Are Now Being Made and Actual Work Is To Begin at Once.

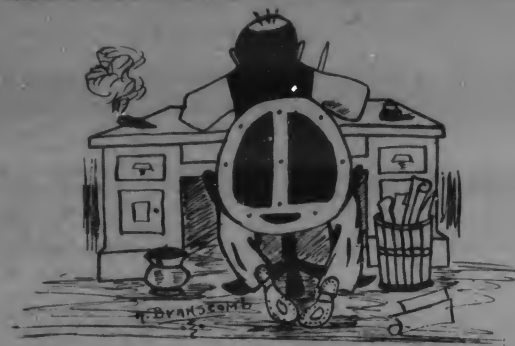

The handsome new dormitory which has been planned for Birmingham-Southern College is now, not a dream, but a reality. The building will be both beautiful and commodious, costing for something like $60,000 by the time it is completed and furnished. It will be modern in every feature and will furnish accommodations for from 50 to 100 students. The work will be pushed as rapidly as possible in view of the urgency of obtaining quarters.

GREETINGS TO THE READERS.

With this issue the Gold and Black makes its bow to the readers. It hopes to live up to all the worthy traditions of the past and to accomplish still greater things in the future. It will endeavor to faithfully reflect college thought and accurately report current events in the college world it serves. The Gold and Black will continue the policy of giving the news in as unbiased a manner as possible, in keeping the reader informed concerning the different phases of college life at Birmingham Southern and at all times standing for high ideals, fostering noble aspirations, cherishing clean sports and working for the best interests of our alma mater. In doing so may we not have the co-operation of every student in contributing news items, timely articles and humorous remarks?

THE MAN IN THE WELL.

A man crossing a desert one day was surprised to find a lion in his path. In great fear he sought means for escape, and soon espied a well, to which he ran with all possible speed. Growing from the top downwards into the well was a grape-vine, which he eagerly grasped and by its aid descended, just in time to escape the lion. When at a safe distance below the well's mouth, clinging tightly to the vine, he rested and began to think over his situation.

In the meantime his eyes were beginning to adjust themselves to the darkened conditions of the well, and he noted the fact of his surroundings. At the bottom, coiled up with yawning jaws, was a huge serpent; just above him were two little mice, one dark and the other white, gnawing away at the vine; while at the top was the ravenous lion awaiting his prey.

His dilemma was a real one. If he remained where he was the mice in time would gnaw through the vine and he would drop into the serpent's open mouth. If he attempted to escape this fate, he would probably be devoured by the lion. The latter course meant a struggle to which he felt unequal. So he decided to await events.

The desert represents the experiences of life; the vine represents the thread of life; the white and black mice the days and nights that are unceasingly gnawing it away; the serpent death and the grave; and the lion one's appetites and desires. The walls interfere with one's vision.

Many souls fearing to face themselves and the experiences of life become negative and inactive, under the false impression that they are thus living good lives. Goodness (Godness) is not a negative quality, nor can it be inactive. It is a most positive and active condition, and among the first things it teaches us is the divinity of desire; the holiness of creative instinct.

Desire, mastered (not repressed) and transmuted become a most helpful servant, and creative instinct directed into proper channels becomes the most potent dynamic power for goodness and achievement possible to man.

Men have faced lions and tamed them. Come upout of the well and behold the wondrous beauties of nature! With day and night time you are not concerned; you are living in eternity now! Death is not a part of the scheme of things; it is simply a bad habit. Yours is the life everlasting.

THE OWL'S NEST.

There comes to every student a time in which he naturally steals away from the noise and frolic to seek some quiet haunt where he may indulge in reveries and do his more serious thinking undisturbed. Those who live in the Owl's Nest have come to love it because it is such a quiet haunt and can be equalled by no other spot on the college campus.

The old place affords a charming picture of real country scenery. Surrounded on all sides by dark stretches of woods, it really resembles an old owl's nest, being filled too, as it is, with overwise students.

When twilight falls and the big yellow moon comes up above the jagged line of trees, and all the insects of the night harmonize in an anthem to nature, the fellows gather on the front and view a scene which is indeed a benediction from God.

But speaking of insects! The affectionate mosquito held sway when the Owl's Nest was first opened and each night with a touch as swift and soft as the brush of an angel's wing, the little fellows would imprint luscious red kisses on the faces and exposed parts of the usurpers of their country estate. I speak as one who is a "blood relation" to every generation of the mosquito that has ever hummed in or around the "Nest." With but a few exceptions which make life a bit hard in the Owl's Nest, the dormitory-in-the-woods is a splendid place in which to live. A group of fine, big-hearted fellows room there and we all manage to pass the days together very pleasantly indeed.

BE GLAD YOU'VE "GOT TO."

By Nixon Waterman.

Yes, thank the Lord each morning there is work you've GOT TO do: A worthy task you must complete before the day is through.

A service you must render to yourself and to your friends
And all the world's great brotherhood,
Before the glad day ends.

Thank God you've GOT TO do it, for the chances are, alas,
But that you've GOT TO labor, you would let the moments pass
With little to the credit of your head and hand and heart
To show that in this busy world you play a worthy part.

Don't waste your moments pondering:
"If I just had a chance,
I know that I'd do something that would make the world advance!"
Ah, there's a chance for you to show the world you're worth while. How?
By putting your best self in what you've GOT TO do just now.

Dear Mr. Rowe:

Had you ever considered what the result would be if another "o" was added to Bob?

Internally,

I. Wonder.

Howard Stansell informs us that he considers reorganizing the famous "B. V. D. Club" of 1917 fame. It did the work all right.

Every school, of course, boasts of a gallant Romeo. Beauregard is at it again. Dear! dear! will he never stop his wicked ways?

Wonder who the co-eds will elect as mascot to succeed dear little Porter? Wasn't he a cute little sonnofagun!

Tipton opposes the regulation which requires a student to remain on the campus. He maintains that it is much quieter when they leave the hill.

Wasn't "Dr. Coley's" chapel solo charming?

Why doesn't Miss Gregory put up a sign—"The Mall Ain't Come"? She would have to talk less.

Prof. Hawkins to Charlie Maxwell. "Tell me something good we might say about Jezabel."
Charlie—"She was a wicked woman."

It certainly are hot, ain't it.

When the church and Sunday school roll is called each Monday morning why not have all who attended stand up. The monitors would have much less to do.

Miss Gillam to Miss Gregory—"Look there goes Mr. Daniel bareheaded with his hat off!"

What's exciting her these days?

Wonder who "Iekie" Pegues is. There are some who would like to know.

Some of our co-eds persist in flirting with our charming professors!

Can you imagine Dr. Coleback singing tenor?

Can you possibly picture Beauregard Bagley staying away from the co-eds?

THE CO-EDS.

We, the old (?) co-eds, wish to welcome the new co-eds to Birmingham-Southern. We have been working and playing together for several weeks now and we feel that we are all good chums by this time.

Boys, haven't you noticed how good looking some of the new girls are? There's "Baby" Williamson, Frinastance who is very attractive with her baby voice and languishing eyes. And "Polly Sanders—have you ever seen such blushes as she possesses? I am sure all will agree that Ada McDaniel is also attractive—even when she has a fever blister on her lower lip! Mary Robertson is certainly quiet, isn't she? But 'still we gaze and still the wonder grows, that one small head can carry all she knows." Central High School is represented among the new co-eds by Hazel Haynes, who is a special student. We all see very little of Hazel, but we all like her very much. And what would we do without Anna La Page? We don't know but we are thankful that she is here.

Have you noticed the pieces of black and white ribbon that some of the girls are wearing? That is the insignia of the Tau Deltas, a successor to the "D. D. D. Club."

There is no use to discuss the old (?) co-eds—in fact it is best to not do so—for too much is known about them already. With this let us give three cheers for the new girls for they have all been initiated in to the "Co-eds Psalm of Freedom."

THE Y. M. C. A. ENTERTAINS.

The faculty and students of the college and high school were delightfully entertained on the evening of September the twenty-sixth at a reception given by the College Y. M. C. A.

The president of the organization, Mr. A. L. Branscomb, had charge of the very interesting program which was rendered in the chapel. Two of the entertainers of the evening were Dr. Bert P. Richardson, who sang "Little Boy Blue," and Mrs. E. P. Green who gave a very humorous reading on "Higher Culture in Dixie." Rev. Kimbrough of the Owenton Methodist church introduced the chief speaker of the evening, Rev. E. G. Mackey, pastor of the Fairfield Methodist church and a former teacher in the college. Rev. Mackey was in the Y. M. C. A. during the war and he spoke very interestingly and instructively on the subject of Y. M. C. A. work. "Professor Pat Mackay" as the students know him, is an old friend of the college and they were especially glad to have him with them on this occasion.

At the close of the lecture Mr. Branscomb asked that the guests adjourn to the society halls where they might enjoy the social hour. The whole lower floor was decorated for the occasion with vines and Japanese lanterns. Mrs. Bradford and Miss Elliot presided over the punch bowl and music was furnished by various students throughout the remainder of the evening.

The entertainment was thoroughly enjoyed by all and the Y. M. C. A. has the wish from all its friends for the greatest success through the coming year.

ATTENTION STUDENTS!

Have you been introduced to your library?

Do you know that students of the Birmingham-Southern College enjoy library facilities which are not surpassed by any school in the state?

The librarian is desirous that every student avail himself of these advantages. You are urged to bring your problems to the library whether they concern your class work, programs for your literary societies, an address that you will have to prepare, a big sermon you are soon to deliver, an important letter to write, a class motto to select—whatever the work you will receive courteous attention.

You may feel free to ask questions. Learn to USE your library.

Some one has said: "The chief difference between men is not in their gifts and opportunities, but in their USE of them."

See that your spare hours are used to intelligent purpose.
Make the most of your opportunities.

PERSONAL.

Dr. W. R. Bowme, our former education professor, is to take an active part in the School of Methods which meets in Birmingham October 21 to 24.

Mrs. D. M. White, of Goodwater, visited her son, Dana White, this week.

Mr. Clayton Branscomb was in the city to witness the Auburn-Howard game. He speaks very favorably of his fondness for Auburn.

Dr. C. C. Daniel and family spent the week-end at Moundville.

A good number of the students attended the game at Tuscaloosa last Saturday.

Mr. A. L. Branscomb spent the week end with friends at the University of Alabama.

FOOT-BALL SONG.

Over field, over goal, as we hit old Munger Bowl,
Keep that Football a-rolling along.

Smash and crash, lunge and plunge.
Watch the passes and end-runs,
Keep that Football a-rolling along.

Well it's hi, hi, he, the Panthers roar with glee,
Shout out your praises loud and strong.

Rah! Rah!
Where e'er they go, you will always know

That that Football is rolling along.

GOLD AND BLACK

RICHARDSON-SIMPSON WEDDING TODAY IN WOODLAWN.

A marriage of interest throughout the state was solemnized this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Woodlawn Methodist church, when Miss Hortense Hemphill Simpson, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. John Dixon Simpson, became the bride of Mr. Roswell Hine Richardson, Jr., of Athens, Ala.

The bridal party entered to the strains of Wagner's wedding music from Lohengrin, played by Mrs. W. M. Sharpe, and proceeded to the altar which was adorned with palms and ferns and white flowers. Preceding the ceremony Miss Evelyn Going's beautiful mezzo soprano voice was heard in two songs, Grieg's "I Love You," and "Until."

The bride's only attendant and maid of honor was Miss Jen Rives, of Athens, Ala. She wore a charming gown of orchid chiffon and silver lace. Her becoming picture hat was of black velvet and she wore black slippers. Her flowers were snowy white chrysanthemums tied with orchid colored tulle.

The bride entered on the arm of her brother, Dr. John W. Simpson, by whom she was given in marriage, and was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. Charles B. Richardson, brother of the groom.

The bride, who is a charming young woman of the brunette type, wore a smartly tailored suit of dark blue with a small hat of blue panne velvet trimmed with wings. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and valley lilies.

The Rev. John Dixon Simpson, pastor of the Woodlawn Methodist church, performed the ceremony.

The groomsmen were Mr. John Robert Russell, of Athens; Mr. Nelson Cartwright, of Athens; Mr. R. L. Martin, also of Athens, and Mr. James A. Simpson, of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Richardson will immediately for New Orleans and upon their return will be at home in Athens.

Among the out-of-town guests were Miss Sarah Rives, Miss Helen Ledbetter, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Richardson, father and mother of the groom, and Mr. Harry Walker, all from Athens.

Mrs. Richardson has endeared herself to a host of friends here by her loveable disposition and attractive personality and it is a matter of regret that her marriage will take her away from Birmingham to reside.—Ledger.

THE GOLDEN RULE

"Do Unto Others As You Would Have Them Do Unto You."

The merchants who advertise in the Gold and Black are our friends. They are aiding the paper materially by using its columns to tell the merits of the goods they sell. It is our duty to reciprocate this patronage by buying the goods we need from these merchants.

In the course of a college year the students of the Birmingham-Southern College spend thousands of dollars in the stores of the city. This large sum of money should go to those who prove themselves helpful to the college paper. Therefore, let us remember that one good turn deserves another. Trade with those who trade with us.

THE ANNUAL.

The students have elected the editorial staff for the Review for 1920. Those elected are as follows: Editor-in-Chief, Vaughn Howard; business manager, Dana White; athletic editor, James Meigs; class editor, Eugene Malone; society editor, Lois Williamson; Y. M. C. A. editor, Albert Branscomb; co-ed editor, Gladys Green; art editor, Gladys Harlee. The assistant editors and assistant business manager will be selected later by the staff.

With a strong staff like the above, we feel sure that the Review of 1920 will be one of which the school will be proud.

squad scored at will in the last quarter.

The Panthers scored two touchdowns in the first quarter. Rogers carried the ball over after Baty, Rogers and himself scored gains through the line, for the first touchdown. Baty carried the ball over for the second touchdown.

In the second quarter the Panthers scored another touchdown bringing the total score up to 18 and nothing. The Panthers failed to kick goal after all three of the touchdowns. Larson carried the ball across twice in this quarter. The first touchdown did not count when Referee Bill Streit penalized the Panthers for holding.

The Panthers scored two more touchdowns in the third and five in the fourth quarter. The Aggies completed but one forward pass and had first down once.

Summary: Touchdowns, Lewis 3; Larson, 3; Baty, 2; Rogers, 2. Goals from touchdowns: Lewis 4; Gandy, 1; Jaffe, 1.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

J. B. Burford.)

The Senior Club.

The Senior Club of the High School was organized last Friday with a membership of twenty-five. The election of officers of the class of 1919-1920 was held at this meeting. Those elected were: President, J. B. Burford; vice-president, W. M. Parks; secretary and treasurer, Elizabeth Branscomb.

The R. E. Lee and Rumanian Literary societies have not completed their organization yet, but there is a keen rivalry between the two in placing new members.

Prof. J. M. Malone is the new head of the High School. He is teaching mathematics in addition and is supported by a strong faculty composed of the following men: Mr. Robinson, instructor in science; Mr. Godfrey, in the English department; Mr. Tinsley, professor of Latin and Modern Languages. Mr. J. M. Baty and Mr. G. L. Reynolds are assistant instructors this year.

The different departments are down at work and a good year is expected.

A number of new co-eds are favoring us with their presence this year.

Mr. H. B. Byars, a former student, was seen on the campus recently. He is teaching at Huntsville this year having graduated here last spring.

MY SOUL AND I

(By Edgar A. Guest.)

When winter shuts a fellow in and turns the lock upon his door, There's nothing else for him to do but sit and dream his by-gones o'er
And then before an open fire he smokes his pipe, while in the blaze,
He seems to see a picture show of all his happy yesterdays.
No ordinary film is that which memory throws upon the screen.
But one in which his hidden soul comes out and can plainly be seen.

Now, I've been dreaming by the grate.
I've seen myself the way I am,
Stripped bare of affection's garb and wisdom's pose and folly's sham.
I've seen my soul and talked with it, and learned some things I never knew.

I walk about the world as one, but I express the wish of two.
I've come to see the soul of me is wiser than my selfish mind,
For it has safely led me through the tangled paths, I've left behind.

I should have sold myself for gold when I was young long years ago.
But for my soul which whispered then: "You love your home and garden so,
You never could be quite content in palace walls. Once rise to fame,
And you will lose the gentler joys which now so eagerly you claim.
I want to walk these lanes with you and keep the comradeship of the trees.

Let's you and I be happy here, nor seek life's gaudy luxuries."
Mine is a curious soul, I guess. It seemed so, smiling in my dreams.
It keeps me close to little folks and birds and running streams.
To Mother and her friends and mine; and though no fortune we possess,
The years that we have lived and loved have all been rich with happiness.

And when my worries shut me in, for I have had a chance to see How fortunate I've been to have that sort of soul to counsel me.

WHAT NIAGARA TAUGHT ME
Ignorant in Central Christian Advocate.

Late one June evening I stood on the shores of Lake Ontario waiting for my steamer to leave her moorings. The waters were restless and somewhat angry, as they always are in that region. I turned my face from the city of Toronto. Sundown found me at Lewistown, aboard an electric car that makes it way up the Great Gorge.

Running beneath frowning cliffs, about 20 feet from the water's edge, it furnishes every scenic feature as it drifts along with measured pride deep and lucid, yet of immense body—the most stately of torrents. No human tongue can describe the sights I beheld. The history of Niagara began with the commencement of the Great Gorge. The life-work of the river continues to be the digging of the mighty chasm from the Falls to Lewistown. Those who have studied this enchanting region realize that no other agency save the chiselling waters through the ages have rent the breast of nature here. From time to time great boulders are undermined and plunge into the seething waters. They form one more giant obstruction to tease and fret and already worried stream. How could one describe the sensation that creeps over him! What chronicles of past ages are nicked in those eternal walls! What monuments of mighty changes are sculptured in those hoary rocks! Who can divine its mystic lore? Dumb and silent, one listens to the moaning of old Niagara. What scene? How indescribable! Above the Falls, it is a vast battle-charge of tempestuous waves that outline themselves in fury against the sky. Over the Falls the plunge is deliberate and fascinating. The water here passes in glassy green to disappear in the mist and mystery below. But now the great river is crowded into a narrow chasm and appears as a multitude of streams, each trying to break away from an awful imprisonment. For a moment they move uninterrupted, only to leap madly into the aid. Countless currents are in desperate contest for some release from bondage. I saw no obstructions, and yet the surface told me of giant boulders that lay far beneath. The frantic river, in a terrific effort to free itself from the clutches of the Falls, strikes these gigantic rocks. What a lesson! Whence these fretted, worried lives of ours? Why all these moans and sighs? Put your ear close to the human heart—it's like listening to the sobbing sea. Surely down under the erst while smile there is a hidden reef. How I really longed for power to blow out the fallen cliffs and set that worried river free! Every day I see hearts whose moaning makes me desperate to know the hidden boulders in the breast. That's my trouble—that's your trouble! The more is the pity that our lives do not flow in unobstructed channels. Our lives would be serene and calm. The worried face and the stormy outer life are certain signs of great rocks hidden far away.

A PRAYER.

Most merciful Father, who orderest the wills and affections of men, inspire the heart of this thy servant, holy wishes and aspirations, that all base imaginings and sinful broodings may be cast out. Spirit of purity and grace, cleanse the thoughts of his heart and bring his whole being into captivity to the law of Christ. So direct and control his mind that he may ever think on whatsoever things are true and pure and lovely. Let no corrupt thought get dominion over him. Enter thou into the house of his soul. Enlarge and renew it and consecrate it to thyself, that he may love thee with all his mind and serve thee with all his might. Free him from the fascinations of false pleasure and the allurements of debasing desires. Fill his eyes with the eternal beauty of goodness, that vice and sin may appear as they really are, the last shame and despair of life. Keep him outwardly in his body and inwardly in his soul, and constrain him to reverential obedience to the laws thou hast ordained for both. Sustain him in health of body that he may the better control the motions of thought, and repel the assaults of passion. We ask it for thy Son our Saviour's sake. Amen.

Samuel McEomb.

WHAT IS THE CENTENARY MOVEMENT?

It is commemorative of the one hundredth anniversary of Methodist Missions. It is God's trumpet call to Methodism to face the world's greatest crisis. It is a call to repent. The Church has been raying "Thy Kingdom come on earth" but has not ministered to hungry millions in foreign fields and nearer home.

So world-wide emergencies crowd upon us demanding vast expenditure of wealth and large enlistment of the youth of Methodism. Adding to the seriousness of the situation comes the general warning to the Church for "preparedness" for the great "after-war." The Church of Christ is soon to be tested as never before.

The need of the hour is a revived and mightily spiritualized church. The Centenary Movement, in God's providence, was raised up by the General Conference not primarily to supply millions of money, but to lift Methodism to a new plane of spiritual vision and ministry from which it shall accomplish its part of the Christian Conquest of the World.

Vol. II

BIRMINGHAM, ALABAMA, OCTOBER 24, 1919.

No. 2

In the picture above can be seen some of the Panther players. They have contributed largely to the good record made by the Panthers so far this season. The Panthers opened their season on September 27 by crushing the Hamilton Aggies by a count of 66 to 0. The next game was on October 4, when the Panther held the husky and well trained University of Alabama team to a score of 27 to 0. No two of the four touchdowns were made in one quarter. October 17 the Panthers defeated the Marion Institute team by a score of 25 to 0. Marion held the heavy Auburn team to a score of 37 to 0. The next game on the schedule will be tomorrow, Saturday, October 25, with the Southern Military Academy, on Munger Field. Then on November 8 comes the crucial game of the season—Howard College. They will be played at Rickwood. Spring Hill will be played at Mobile on November 15. On November 22 the strong University of Chattanooga team will be played on Munger Field. This completes the schedule as it now stands, but efforts are being made to get a game for November 1, at present an open date.

Panthers Win Decisive Victory Over Marion Cadets

Good Sportmanship Displayed By Both Teams
Final Score 25 to 0

In one of the hardest fought and most exciting games of the season, the Panthers, of Birmingham-Southern College, defeated the Marion Institute cadets by the decisive score of 25 to 0, the Birmingham aggregation scoring one touchdown in the first half and three in the second.

Although outclassing the cadets in all departments of the game, the Panthers were compelled to fight hard to keep their goal line from being crossed because of frequent penalties. Several 10 and 15 yard penalties were inflicted, while in the first quarter the Panthers were penalized half the distance to the goal line, when the umpire claimed that Evans, right guard, had kicked an opposing player. The distance penalized was 25 yards.

This afforded the cadets their only chance to score, and placed the Birmingham-Southern boys on the defensive for the remainder of the half. Marion completed one of her two forward passes soon after the penalty, making 30 yards on the play, and placed the ball on their one yard line. Baty halfback, moved the Panther goal line from being crossed when he tackled the Marion end from behind. Marion had their downs to carry the ball over, but the Birmingham aggregation held the ball for a score and the Marion backs were thrown for losses, when they tried to buck the ball over. Four line bucks failed to carry the ball over, and the ball went over to Birmingham on her own one yard line. This was the feature of the entire contest.

Marion was in striking distance of the goal line several other times, but a series of forward passes were broken up by the Panther backs. Both teams completed two passes.

To begin the game, Gilliam for Birmingham-Southern kicked off to Marion, who returned the ball 20 yards. Marion tried the Panther line, and found it invulnerable, and was forced to kick. By a series of line bucks and end runs the Panther backs brought the ball well into Marion's territory. They failed to make first down after being penalized 15 yards, and it was Marion's ball on her own 25 yard line. Marion again failed to gain, and Birmingham received the ball. Gilliam carried it over a few minutes later for the first touchdown of the game, requiring seven minutes. Birmingham-Southern failed to kick goal.

Birmingham kicked to Marion, who returned it 20 yards. Marion made first down. At this juncture the Panthers were penalized half the

New Church for the College

TO COST APPROXIMATELY $60,000.

Realizing that Birmingham-Southern College is the important center from which the future ministers and christian laymen of Alabama Methodism are to emanate, and feeling the great need of a better church for the spiritual welfare of these future leaders, the college authorities are making aggressive steps toward the erection of a new church to cost approximately $60,000. It will be built of brick, modern in every respect, and is to accommodate not only the student body, but also the people of this community.

A large Sunday School building and Church is necessary for Owenton. The building which is being used now is too small to satisfy the needs. A church on the campus would be not only in a more central position, but it would also help to beautify our campus.

The Board of Church Extension, through the medium of the North Alabama Conference, will be asked for $25,000 toward the building fund, and loyal Methodists throughout the state will be approached for liberal contributions.

The work will proceed as rapidly as possible and the new church will be erected on the college campus during the next conference year.

The following committees have been appointed:
Site Committee—Dr. Daniel, Mr. R. S. Munger, Dr. J. D. Simpson.

CAMPUS CLUB TO ENTERTAIN. PANTHER SCRUBS DEFEAT CENTRAL HIGH—TIGHT GAME WITH SCORE OF 19-0

The ladies of the Campus Club are making preparations for the Halloween party which they are planning to give to the entire student body on Munger Field. Bonfires will be built on the grounds, where the frolicking crowd may toast marshmallows to their young hearts' content. The athletic field is smooth and a fine spot on which to give an entertainment of this nature.

The "Gym" is to be open for the evening, where refreshments will be served. All who are present on that night can rest assured that they will enjoy a splendid Hallo'een party.

THE "OWLS" ORGANIZE CLUB.

The Owls are stirring! Several nights ago they all perched on the front roost and were addressed by a fellow Owl, who proposed an organization. The body adopted certain rules regarding study and conduct and decided to install athletic recreation for themselves.

The garden spot in the rear of the "Nest" will be cleaned and packed and games of volleyball and tennis are to be enjoyed.

This new Owls' Club is to meet with much success, as the fellows are interested and will co-operate to the fullest extent.

Committee on Architecture—Dr. Daniel, Dr. E. I. Colebeck, Rev. S. O. Kimbrough.

Committee to Annual Conference—Dr. G. R. Stuart, Mr. W. H. Stockham, Dr. J. D. Simpson, Mr. R. S. Munger.

The Panther second eleven defeated the Central High School Varsity eleven Friday afternoon, October 11, on Munger Field by a score of 13 to 0.

The game was hard fought on both sides. The Panthers did not make a touchdown until the second half. The second touchdown was made in the last half.

Frank Katzenstine threw a surprise on his fellow students and teammates by his play at right end. He was in practically every play and his interference was very good. He played about one-half of the game. Yielding tackle, played a good game. John Burney carried over one of the touchdowns and Scott and Jaffe made several good gains.

The Central aggregation had a strong team, but were outweighed by the Panthers.

THE MAN SELECTS THE GOAL.

"One ship drives East, another drives West,
While the self-same breezes blow.
'Tis the set of the sails, and not the gales,
That bids them where to go.
As we journey along through life;
'Tis the set of the soul that decides the goal,
And not the storm or strife."

EACH IN HIS OWN TONGUE.

A base on the far horizon,
The infinite tender sky,
The ripe, rich tint of the corn fields
And the wild geese sailing high;
All over upland and lowland
The charm of the golden-rod,
Some of us call it Autumn,
And others call it God.

The tides on a crescent sea beach,
When the moon is new and thin,
Into our hearts high yearnings
Come swelling and surging in;
Come from the mystic ocean,
Whose rim no foot has trod,
Some of us call it Longing,
And others call it God.

A picket frozen on duty,
A mother starved for her brood,
Socrates drinking the hemlock,
And Jesus on the rood,
And millions, who humble and nameless,
The straight, hard pathway plod,
Some call it Consecration,

A VITAL NEED.

The college authorities are arranging for the erection of new buildings on the campus, in order that the students of this institution may be more comfortably located, and being so, will be contented and able to do better work. This is a most worthy policy and is going to figure largely in the success and advancement of our alma mater. However, while consideration for the comfort and happiness of the boys is being shown, no thought for the affairs of our teachers is given much material support.

This institution may well be proud of its faculty, composed as it is of men who are strong in intellect and wide awake to the needs of the students. The longer these men are connected with the college the more valuable will they become to the institution. We are afraid that the college can never retain a really good faculty for any great length of time, until she realizes that a most vital need has been neglected—the erection of a number of homes on the campus, where the professors may live in happiness with their families, instead of being forced to be forever moving around.

We are sorry that these splendid men do not reside on the campus, for they would do much to promote social life among the students, as well as to create the homelike atmosphere we all desire.

THE FRATERNITIES.

The several fraternities of Birmingham-Southern College are enjoying more propitious conditions than were at all possible last year. The "frats" are assuming an important place among the college activities and are living up to their purpose of existence by fostering the best in social life and friendship. The fellows in bonds of friendship grow intimate and deeper than might otherwise be experienced.

TO THE ALUMNI:

By special arrangement with the officials of the Birmingham-Southern College paper, The Gold and Black, the Alumni Association is to have a column devoted to alumni news. This will be edited by Ed. Norton and this announcement is surely in itself that the column will be well worth reading.

Norton will appreciate the co-operation of all alumni in making this column of interest. Send him, Little-Guarantee Building, any items of news about our alumni and former students. He may not use it or he may use it in a different form from that in which you send it, but he will be glad to hear from you.

This is just another means that your association is taking to keep you in touch with the college and the fellows who have gone out from its walls. If the paper doesn't reach you at each issue, write J. M. Malone, Secretary, at the college.

With all good wishes, I am

Sincerely,

C. M. DANNELLY,

President.

We gladly give this column to the Alumni Association. Its contributions will add greatly to the success of The Gold and Black and will also serve as a medium through which the members may learn each other better. The association is doing things in a spirited way this year and the college is proud of the honor they are reflecting on their alma mater.

EXCHANGES.

We have on our desk at this writing a number of exchanges from various schools. The papers are all good and the editors are to be commended. We are delighted to receive these exchanges and trust that they will continue to come.

THE THINGS WORTH WHILE

By Newton Newirk.

Som'times I get t' thinkin'
An' it kind o' seems to me
Th' things worth while in this ol' world
Jest simmers down t' three.

A lovin' heart's th' first thing
An' th' sweetest part o' life
Is when you come at end o' day
To kiddies, home an' wife.

Th' appetite fer hard work
An' fer trugin' to'rds th' goal—
That's second in my little plan
Fer happiness o' soul.

An' last a smilin' count'nance
Jest to chase away the blues
An' paint on other people's souls
Them shinin' rainbow hues.

If you'd make life worth livin'
Try these big things worth while:
They're three ('Til sum 'em up ag'in)
Jest love an' work an' smile.

Love may be blind. But there is nothing wrong with its sense of smell when one of the lovers cats on-ins.

BY THE WAY.

Have you noticed Prof. Owsley's new suit? It has a plach-back cost!

We understand that Rudolph Scott has been absent from 22 classes this year. Rudolph, how many have you attended?

Have you noticed that Prof. Owsley may be found, during all of his vacant periods, in the office occupied by Miss Elliott and Miss Gillam? What we'd like to know is "which one is it?"

We "hear" that A. L. Branscomb spent the night way from home on Friday, Oct. 10. Where was he?

The old saying is that "everything is peaches down in Georgia." How about it, Jack?

Why is it that there is always something the matter with either Beauregard's eyes or mouth?

We'd like to know whether Tink Gillam intends to get his A. B. (or B. S.) from Birmingham-Southern and his "Masters" from the University of Chicago, or whether he intends to get both from B. S. C.

Did everyone see Larson at Chapel the other day, or were we "seeing things?"

IMAGINE:

Jack Stuart cutting a class.
Dr. Cooper conducting a class without using the word "babe."
Prof. Cornyn with red hair.
Gladys Green having a date with someone who is neither a preacher, an old bachelor, nor a widower.

"Baby" Lee knowing her lessons.
C. M. Rosamond going to class unprepared.

Sophie Malone with his mouth closed.

Miss Gillam not trying to "vamp" a history teacher.

Lucian Allgood with black hair, no blushes, and no "ego."

A co-ed and a boy sitting out on the campus talking.

Harry Denman in love.

John T. Bradford staying away from Inglenook.

Little Miss Echols wearing long skirts, high heel shoes, and having her hair "done up."

Harriet Chappel not being an athlete.

A girls dormitory adorning the hill.
Prof. Reynolds making a date with one of his pupils.

Prof. Perry getting excited.

CHUCKLES.

Old Dollar Bill sez:
One beauty about wimmen wearin' furs in the summer is they don't have to wash their necks so often.

Not Shaped Right.

A very short, fat man with an enormous stomach was taking a swim at the beach. He got out too far and started to swim back to land but failed, as his legs were too short to reach bottom and on trying to swim out his enormous stomach scraped the mud beneath. Ain't nature wonderful?

Right.

A teacher called an unruly boy to her desk, and, grasping his arm said, "Young man, Satan certainly has hold of you." Pupil: "Guess you're right mum."

The wife of a good man died and was duly buried. The devoted husband had the following inscription carved on her tombstone: "The light of my life has gone out."

A few months later he fell in love with another woman and married her. He then had this inscription added to the one already on the tombstone: "But I have struck another match."

The inscription now read: "The light of my life has gone out, but I have struck another match."

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

(By J. B. Burford.)

Everyone is walking around as though they were walking on pins, with curiosity keyed to the highest pitch wondering whose name will be on the exemption list for the first six weeks. It seems as though there will be several on the list as all whose daily average is eighty-five per cent or over are exempt. There will be several contenders for the scholarship medal this year as a great many students have their eyes set upon it already. Last year this honor was won by Miss Lucia Mae Giddens and as she is back again this year she may be counted as a contender again.

The Senior Club held its weekly meeting Friday afternoon and a very interesting program was enjoyed by the members. At the last meeting Mr. Phil Limberlake was elected critic. He took up his duties Friday and gave all some good points.

The writer visited the R. E. Lee Literary Society at their last meeting and must congratulate them on the manner in which the program was carried out. They have elected the officers and it seems they made fine selections. They are: President, Mr. H. O. Johnston, Vice-President, Mr. Farrish; Secretary-Treasurer, Miss Wanda Alldridge. The Lee Society has a good membership and should develop some good orators. The start will soon be made for the annual debate between the Lees and Eumeneans. Last year this was won by the Eumeneans, but the Lees are determined to win this year.

TARTARUS

By O. W. Holmes.

While in my simple gospel creed
That "God is love" so plain I read, Shall dreams of heathen birth affright

vale,

With Thee my faltering steps to aid,
How can I dare to be afraid?

Is there a world of blank despair,
And dwells the Omnipresent there?
Does He behold with smile serene
The shows of that unending scene
Where sleepless, helpless anguish lies,
And, ever dying, never dies?
Say, does He hear the sufferer's groan,
And is that child of wrath his own?

O mortal, wavering in thy trust,
Lift thy pale forehead from the dust
The mists that cloud thy darkened eyes

Fade ere they reach the o'erarching skies!

When the blind heralds of despair
Would bid thee doubt a Father's care,
Look up from earth and read above,
On heaven's blue tablet, God is love!

STATEMENT OF THE OWNERSHIP, MANAGEMENT, CIRCULATION, ETC., REQUIRED BY THE ACT OF CONGRESS OF
AUGUST 24, 1912.

Of "Gold and Black," published bi-monthly at Birmingham, Ala., for October 1, 1919. State of Alabama, County of Jefferson.

Before me, a Notary Public in and for the State and County aforesaid, personally appeared A. L. Branscomb, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the editor of the "Gold and Black," and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of management, etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912 embodied in section 443, Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse of this form, to-wit:

1. That the names and addresses of the editor, and business manager are:

Editor A. L. Branscomb, Birmingham-Southern College; Business Manager G. R. Stuart, Jr., Birmingham-Southern College.

A. L. BRANSCOMB, Editor
Sworn to and subscribed before me this 17th day of October, 1919.

THE BELLES LITTRES LITERARY SOCIETY OUTLOOK IS AUSPICIOUS

The Belles Lettres Literary Society began its years work under very auspicious circumstances. There are a large number of the old members on hand this year to engage in the literary work, and quite a number of strong new members have been added to the roster of the Society. Interest in the activities of the Society is at its height. The colors of the society are very much in evidence upon the campus. The attendance at the meetings is far in excess of last year. The programs this year are well gotten up, consisting of music, and declamation.

The aim of the Belles Lettres Literary Society is to give to its membership that training and equipment that will enable them to take their places, and to acquire themselves with honor, in the church, the state and the business life. The history of the membership of the organization is replete with records of men who have risen to leadership in the halls of the Belles Lettres Literary Society that today hold some of the highest and best positions in the state and in commercial life. What is true in reference to these two vocations is also true of the church, for some of the largest and best churches of the whole connection are occupied by men who got their training in the Belles Lettres Literary Society.

The ambition of the Belles Lettres Literary Society is to defeat the Clarosopic Literary Society in all the contests in which they engage this year, and to furnish from among its membership the student who will win the medal in the State Oratorical Contest next spring.

The following officers were elected to act for the first six weeks of the scholastic year: President, Mr. D. D. White; Vice President, Mr. J. T. Bradford; Secretary, Mr. Stanley Morgan; Treasurer, Mr. R. A. Baker; Chaplain, Mr. J. Y. Johnson; Critic, Mr. L. M. Gibbs; Sergeant At Arms, W. R. Tipton.

distance to the goal line, and Evans was ejected from the game. After completing a forward pass, Marion failed to carry the ball over from their one yard line, and Birmingham kicked out. The remainder of the first half the ball was mostly in Panther territory, and the Birmingham aggregation was fighting hard to keep the ball away from the goal. The half ended with the ball in Birmingham's possession in the middle of the field.

Gilliam kicked to the cadets to start the second half, and the ball was brought back 10 yards. Marion was forced to kick, and Birmingham-Southern, by a series of end runs and line bucks together with a forward pass to Miller, carried the ball over for the second touchdown. Jaffe kicked goal.

Gandy (Birmingham) kicked off, and Marion brought the ball back to the middle of the field. Marion made first down. After exchanging kicks, Birmingham-Southern recovered the ball when a Marion back dropped a punt. Marion held and received the ball. In an attempt to kick out, Propst broke through the center of the Marion line, blocked the punt, and fell on the ball. Birmingham carried it over. They failed at goal. This ended the third quarter.

The Marion cadets, who again received, fought gamely to keep the Panthers from scoring the last quarter, and almost succeeded. The ball sesawed up and down the field until the last minute of play, when the ball was Birmingham's on their 35 yard line. Burney, the diminutive Panther quarterback, who had been put in for Scott, threw a long forward pass to Montgomery, who, racing at full speed, reached up into the air and grabbed the ball. It was a beautiful catch, but he stepped out of bounds just before he crossed the goal line. The pass was for 25 yards and Montgomery ran 15 more.

Burney had 15 seconds to run another play. He called some signal, and as the backfield called signals off, the little quarter grabbed the ball from the center, and squirmed through the line for the last touchdown as the timekeeper called time out. It was a nice piece of work.

The cadets, although outweighed, fought gamely throughout the contest, and were aided materially by frequent penalties against the Birmingham aggregation. Marion was not penalized at all.

For Birmingham-Southern, Propst, Levie (Captain), and Neese played the stellar roles in the line, while the whole backfield played a good game, especially Larsen, Lewis and Baty.

"Chief" Argo, tackle, played the best game for Marion, being the best that the cadets had. Wilcox and Dupre also played well for Marion.

The score by quarters and the line-ups are as follows:

Birmingham Southern—6, 0, 13, 6—25.
Marion—0, 0, 0, 0—0.

Referee, Vandegraft (Alabama).
Umpire, Harks (Mississippi).
Timekeepers, Captain Allen (Marion Institute), Kelly (Birmingham Southern).

Touchdowns—Gilliam 1, Rogers 1, Larson 1, and Burney 1.

Goals from touchdowns, Jaffe 1.

Following were the line-ups:

Birmingham Southern — Propst, center; Neese and Evans, guards; Green and Levie, tackles; Miller and Rowe, ends; Jaffe, quarterback; Gilliam, fullback; Lewis and Baty, halfbacks.

Marion—J. M. Argo, center; Wilcox and Vann, guards; Dyer and Argo, tackles; Otter and Caruth, ends; Dupree, quarterback; Ives, fullback; Allen and Reeder, halfbacks.

ANNUAL REVIVAL TO BEGIN SOON

Rev. J. M. Culbuth to Conduct Evangelistic Services

The regular annual revival of the college will begin on November 12. Services will be held on the campus twice daily. Rev. J. M. Culbuth, a prominent minister of St. Louis, will conduct these revival services. He comes highly recommended as a minister who understands college men and who is able to meet their needs.

The College needs a revival for several reasons.

In the first place, the college itself needs a revival and has expressed its consciousness of this need with reference to the student body and also the faculty. A real revival will bring about that perfect relation between the faculty and student body whereby the recitation hour becomes a real pleasure.

In the second place, a college revival is needed in order that the college may give back to the Church a perfectly developed spiritual life as well as mental life. The need of today in our colleges is not a better curriculum or better trained teachers, but a deeper and more abiding spiritual power. This can be realized only through a sweeping revival.

In the third place, and by far the most important, we should have a college revival because of its effect upon the church-wide revival we are expecting. The college is the place for every really great revival since Paul's day has been led by a college or university trained man. Methodism was born in a university, and we are trusting that the great Revival Campaign of this year will be born in our Church schools through the series of services held, and will go from these centers of influence to the ends of the earth in its saving power.

GREENSBORO IS PANTHER VICTIM

Charley Brown's Charges Get Nice Tender Meat

The Southern Military Academy grid team was the third victim of the year for the Panther, who set them down by a score of 28 to 0.

This is the third victory of the year that the Panther has won by keeping its opponent from crossing its goal. The only team to score on the Panther was the University of Alabama, and as that team continues to crush other colleges and universities rated much higher than Birmingham-Southern, the students' eyes open wider with surprise.

The S. M. A. was a succession of stalls on the part of the S. M. A. team, who showed little sportsmanship and much less inclination to fight the game out to a finish. The score would have been considerably larger if this had been the case.

"Buck" Larson was knocked out of the game and had to be carried off the field. He had played a good game, however, and made several good gains on end runs. He was headed for the goal when about half of the S. M. A. team hit him all at once, and he was knocked so completely out that he dropped the ball.

"Tanic" Burney, the midget quarter who started the game, broke loose more than once for long gains. The feature of the whole game was his 70-yard run for a touchdown. Referee Watkins, who seemed pleased that he

CAMPUS CLUB IS HOST AT PARTY

Guests Are Witches, Gypsies, Ghosts and Everything

Not only witches, but Gypsies, Spanish and Indian maidens, and all kinds of apparitions were abroad on the campus last Friday evening, when the Campus Club entertained the College and High School at a Halloween party.

The crowd of the masked and unmasked gathered in the chapel during the first part of the evening to witness the meetings of the mock faculties of the College and High School. Mr. W. W. White imitated Dr. Daniel, and he very ably presided over the meeting of the College professors, which was called to discuss the possibility of expelling Miss Polly Sanders for "vamping," and Mr. Duncan for concealing a bottle of "Mountain Dew" in his room. Serious charges were brought against the students of the High School, also by their faculty, which was presided over by Mr. J. Barnes, who took the part of Professor Malone. Music was rendered by Messrs. Allgood, Scribner, A. L. Branscomb, and G. Myer. The first part of the program was concluded with the announcement by Mr. Howard, who was in charge, that the entertainment would be continued in the gymnasium.

The spooky time began with the grand march to the gymnasium. The ghosts were met there by other ghosts who led them through the weird and dimly-lighted hall to the fortune tellers' tents and to the witches' haunts where Jack-o-lanterns peeped out from behind tall stalks of corn and where punch was served from the witches' cauldrons.

Gradually the guests drifted out to the campus and soon they built a big bonfire and gathered around to toast marshmallows. The fortune tellers, too, came out of their tents and continued to tell fortunes by the light of the fire. Groups of boys and girls scattered about the campus sang and talked until a late hour and went home at last as the firelight died away having fully enjoyed the evening.

Sombody nearly woke up the party by saying that Howard had our goat, but, of course, Howard didn't.

SCHOOL OBSERVES ROOSEVELT WEEK

Tribute Paid by Speeches to Great Men

"When the soul of Theodore Roosevelt marched on there was a spontaneous movement to preserve for his country the full memory of his leadership. This has taken form in the organization of a Roosevelt Memorial Association, covering the whole country and including people of every faith and creed. The work of this association has progressed to a point where definite arrangement of its aims and purposes may be made. The memorial contemplates: First: An opportunity for the people to record their determination to uphold and maintain the staunch Americanism of Theodore Roosevelt. Second: A permanent memorial that will as nearly as possible perpetrate an interpretation of his character and American ideals to the future generations."

Birmingham-Southern College has not been delinquent in paying tribute to the memory of this great exponent of Americanism. During the past week of October 20-27 four-minute speeches emphasizing different phases of Roosevelt's Americanism were delivered by members of the faculty at the chapel exercises.

On October 27, the birthday of our great leader, a most appropriate address was delivered by Dr. Colebeck on Roosevelt's life and character.

A committee was appointed to canvas the student body for the purpose of securing contributions to the Roosevelt Memorial Fund. Every student who believes in the great doctrines of Americanism and who wishes to see these doctrines promulgated throughout the land has contributed to this splendid cause.

SENIOR CLASS ORGANIZES.

The first regular meeting of the Senior Class was called several days ago and the following organization effected: "Sig" Lewis, president; Mr. J. T. Bradford, vice-president; Mr. E. C. Malone, secretary-treasurer; Mr. O. K. Lamb, poet; Mr. W. R. Tipton, lawyer; Mr. L. V. Howard, historian; and Mr. Marvin Dery, prophet.

PANTHER AND BULLDOG TO STAGE ANNUAL GRID SQUABBLE SATURDAY

A game that has been looked forward to by the students and team since the opening of school will be played tomorrow afternoon at Rickwood Park.

The fighting Panther will charge the Bulldog tomorrow in their annual gridiron clash and the battle will be a hard one.

The Howard College team has made both a good and bad showing this season. They opened up with the Auburn Tiger and scored a touchdown on the husky eleven. The final score was 18 to 0. Dopesters immediately predicted a three-touchdown defeat for the Panther. The Bulldog next engaged the Sewanee Tiger, the final score was 18 to 0. It was thought to be a creditable game for the Bulldog.

In their next game, however, the Bulldog air castles came tumbling down. The University of Alabama's "thin red line" mopped up the horizon with them to the tune of 48 to 0. Their air castles fell further in the dust when the Mississippi A. & M. defeated them by a score of 39 to 0.

Their air castles crashed to 'feet in a mass of rubbish, however, when they played the Hamilton Aggies last Friday and the latter beat them by a score of 7 to 7. Coach Chester Dillon, of Howard, admitted that it was his first team with the exception of the guards.

Coach Dillon's alibi is that his schedule was too heavy, but that he would "make up for it on the eighth." His schedule may have been too heavy, but the game on the 8th will not lighten it.

The Panthers have carried a pretty light schedule so far this season. They opened up with the Hamilton Aggies, who were considered as pretty strong foes—the same team that held Howard 7 and 7—and crushed them by a score of 66 to 0.

The University of Alabama, who played the Panther next, failed to score but four touchdowns—one in each quarter—and admits that it was one of their hardest battles.

The heavy Marion team was next. They went down 25 to 0. The Southern Military Academy was next and their scalp was annexed by a score of 28 to 0.

If comparative scores counted for anything we would walk away with the game on the 8th—BUT comparative scores amount to exactly zero, for if they did amount to anything we would now be figured among the South's aspirants for the championship.

Coach Dillon has been giving his men plenty of work. The team traveled over 900 miles last week and played three games. They played the University of Middle Tennessee, the results of the game were withheld; they defeated the Morgan Prep School, of Tennessee, by a score of 13 to 0, and swung back to Hamilton, where the Aggies tied them.

Coach Dillon has perfected about 25 trick plays for his team. It is expected that the air game will be played considerably. At any rate the Panthers own not expect that they are going into the game and win with hands down, for they will never do it. They have got to fight. Coach Dillon is too good a coach to put out a team that another team of its class can win over without working—and over-confidence may cause the Panther a little trouble in the game.

A comparison of players shows that the Panther has a fair margin over the Bulldog. It is figured that the Panther has at least a little margin over the opponents in each position.

The first quarter will probably tell the winner in the game and the student body had better back the Panther to the limit during that first quarter—for on that may rely the game.

THE TAU DELTA SOCIETY.

The co-eds of Birmingham-Southern have organized a local sorority known as the Tau Delta. This organization has five active members at present, namely, Nelle Waldrup, Gladys Harlee, Sarah Newsom, Anna LaPage and Harriett Chappell, and two honorary members, Elizabeth Branscomb and Lucia Mae Giddens.

These members are planning to have quite a pleasant time together this year and have already started their social activities with a party in honor of the new members, given at the home of Gladys Harlee on October 28.

HERE COMES THOSE HOWARDITES

Here comes those Howardites, We'll smash their window lights, Show them some breezy sights.

We play football, We boys, we never fail, We'll twist old Howard's tail, We are from Birmingham.

CONFERENCE IS IN SESSION HERE

Body to Name Twelve Trustees For College

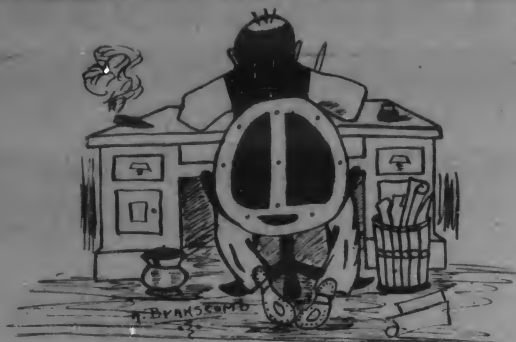

The fiftieth session of the North Alabama Conference convened at the First Church last Wednesday morning, November 5, with Bishop James Atkins presiding. This conference is one of the most important as well as most interesting in the history of Methodism in the state. About 500 delegates are attending and besides these there are several prominent visitors.

Saturday night has been designated as "Epworth League" night, when the chief speaker of the occasion will be Rev. Andrew Sled, M. A., D. D., Ph. D., LL. D., professor of Greek and New Testament literature at Emory, and ex-president of old Southern University.

Another feature of the conference will be the appointing of North Alabama's quota of trustees for the Birmingham-Southern college, which will be 12 in number. Twelve are also appointed by the Alabama conference when they meet. The college, at present is working under a commission which effected the consolidation of Birmingham College and Southern University over a year ago.

"PEP."

One of the most important factors in the morale of a football team is an appreciative and enthusiastic crowd of students at the games.

Silent bleachers, with a few half-frozen scare-crows emitting an occasional spasmodic scream, is a regular hoodoo, and enough to kill the spirit of any player.

On the other hand, a bunch of students, with a few organized yells, has just the opposite effect on a team. The players will do their best to show off, and when a chance is would be not to hit the guy opposite you an extra poke, especially if they drag you into the limelight occasionally and let you know that they appreciate what you are doing.

Hero-worship, if carried to extremes, has a tendency to give the players "big-headedness," but a little so-called appreciation gives a man just enough heart and encouragement to go on plugging away at practice and endure the trying work for the praise that comes later on.

THE "HE-MALE" OF THE SPECIES IS MORE DEADLY THAN THE "LADY."

(With apologies to Kipling.)
(A. L. Branscomb.)

Oae very sultry summer day,
I wandered in a meadow,
And there by chance I came across
The old cow of Von Vedder.
She nipped the grass in silence,
And slowly twitched her tail,
But when she failed to let me pass,
I struck her with a rail.
She moved a few steps forward
And never noticed me,
But glancing behind I saw a bull,
Galloping o'er the lea.
I turned and fled in full retreat,
Till I came to a "shady."
For the "he-male" of this species, was More deadly than the "lady."

Here's a nifty song to adopt for Howard's special benefit. It was adapted for us by Prof. Godfrey:
Birmingham had a Panther
With long and grisly hair;
Howard had a Bull-dog.
Now wou't that make a pair.
When they get together,
There's sure to be a scrap;
Now boys, just watch the Panther
Wipe that Bull-dog off the map.

Sometimes hit's a mighty good thing to be de lowes' spoke in de Wheel of Fortune, you jee' blesseed to come up, no matter which way de wheel turns.—Gally Ryland.

At the foot of thy crags, O Sea!
But if you should break for a thousand years

ALUMNI RUMBLINGS. (By Tommy Hanes.)

Brothra:

We come to you as a child in the woods of knowledge, skidding along from tree to tree, ever on the alert lest the great big bugaboo of ignorance drag us off. Maybe a dead limb will fall on our defenseless head and end it all. We wait, breath bated.

But that is not the question. The Gold and Black has consented to give over a few lines every issue to the alumni. One Ed Norton was slated to dish out the dope, he being a seafaring man with an unlimited store of information. But the elusive Ed possessing an ancient grudge against the honorable us wiggled his shoulders and in two minutes was out and gone.

Well, friend Dannelly came into our sanctum last week and after berating the Norton person at length, with me interspersing "Amen's" frequently, came out with the order for us to shake out this column. He said to edit it—not write it, and that's what we propose to do. The only thing we ever wanted to edit before was that semi-annual school report card which the faculty has the provoking habit of sending to one's parents.

But in the meantime, all of you street cleaners, alley rats, chauffeurs and unclassified members, both active and ornery, of the Alumni, snap out of it and dispatch a few notes about the other delegates. If you decline to accept this invitation we will begin talking at random and then some of you birds are going to squawk for the brakes. And there won't be any! If we really don't know anything on you, just bear in mind that we possess a very vivid imagination and the innocent public believes anything that comes out in print. Beware!

Now this shrinking violet stuff is not going through with us. We demand action. Send in the dope. If a graduate or former student of our justly famous (J. T.) institution hops up and gets married, tell us about it. If he stays married, by all means let us hear from you.

If you know anything, just wig-wag it to us, in care of the editorial rooms of the Birmingham Ledger.

And remember, next time, this column is going to be chock full of names. This is not a promise—it's a threat.

When I was but a little chap
My soul was free from guile,
I thought there's frier in every tear
And joy in every smile;
I thought that men were always true,
That love could never die,
But thinking now of what I thought,
think I "thunk" a lie!

Kidder—"I want a cake of soap."
Miss Pert—"What kind, Grandpa?"
Kidder—"No, Sweetheart."

Jack London on a visit to New York, was introduced to a certain musician.

"I, too, am a musician, in a way," London said. "My musical talent was once the means of saving my life."

"How was that?" he was asked.
"There was a flood in our town in my youth," he replied, "and when the water struck our house my father got on a bed and floated down the stream."

"And you?"
"I accompanied him on the piano."

Old Maid—"I'm 'avin' me tooth out tomorrow!"

Neighbor—"Goin' to 'ave gas?"
Old Maid—"I should think so! You don't get me sittin' in the dark wiv no dentist!"

Moselle to Jim—"You don't call me a 'cutie' any more."

Jim—"No, girle, that word is too reminiscent of life in the trenches."

Bro. Smith—"How is it I haven't seen you at church?"

Cotton—"I ain't been."

Little Boy—"Engaged? What cher giving us, who's married?"

ECHOS FROM THE PANTHER'S LAIR.

(By Light Gold and Awful Black.)

And now for Howard, the next victim for the feline Panther!!! The old spirit of Birmingham College and the Southern University broke forth on the Hill during the past two weeks anticipation of the gridiron struggle with the Bulldogs of Howard—it broke forth with such a vim and with such cyclonic power that even the old heads were amazed and astounded at its magnitude and intensity. "Down with Howard!" has been the keynote of every meeting and the by-word of every student.

Out of his secluded lair nestled snugly among the wooded foothills of Sunshine Slopes the gold and black spotted Panther, led by the sterling Charlie Brown, will boldly issue forth to Rickwood Field on the historic 8th day of November to grapple in deadly combat the Howard Bulldogs from the kennel of Coach Chester Dillon. The battle for supremacy will be the greatest in the history of local football. Yes, gentle reader, take it from me, it will be some fight!

Tell me not in mournful numbers,
How the Panther came out his lair,
And decisively licked the Bulldog,
In a battle grim but fair.
(Dedicated to Coach Dillon.)

OUR ALABAMA GAME.

Immediately following our game with the University of Alabama, in which the Panther after a hard fight was defeated by the "Thin Red Line" by a 27-0 score, some wise critic voiced the opinion that before the end of the season Birmingham-Southern would have reason to be proud of this low score. And this wise critic was exactly right; the Panther held the strong University team to the lowest score that eleven has run up on an opposing team so far this season, even Sewanee. Since Alabama has defeated Mississippi 50-0, Howard 48-0, Marion 61-0, and the proud mountain Tiger of Sewanee 40-0, the followers of the Gold and Black are justly proud of their favorites!!! Now Alabama is being touted as the champion eleven of the South—we'll say we are proud of that score!!!

THE MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATIONS OF BIRMINGHAM-SOUTHERN COLLEGE.

During the past year so many war-time hindrances occurred that some of the more important college activities were neglected. One of these was the Ministerial Association. However, the Association has been reorganized and the following officers have been elected for this year: President, Rev. O. K. Lamb; vice-president, Rev. H. E. Middlebrooks; secretary-treasurer, Mr. C. D. Mathews.

Every ministerial student should help to make this a permanent organization in the college. There are to be worth-while programs from time to time, and special addresses from able men as often as possible.

At a recent meeting the question of doing work in the town and community was discussed. Every one present pledged himself for service any where, any time. We trust the city pastors will plan to use the young ministers as often as practicable in Sunday school and mid-week services. They are here for service and training. The following were named as Extension Work Committee: Perry D. Scrivner and John Hicks Howell.

A committee was also appointed to see Dr. Geo. R. Stuart and if possible, secure him for a series of lectures on Practical Preaching.

The Editor of Gold and Black has kindly given space for reports and articles from the association. We wish to thank him for this favor, and will use this means to let the faculty and student-body know that we exist.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES. (J. B. Burford.)

The High School is beginning to look like old times. The spirit is at a high pitch and they are determined that the college shall not show more "pep" than they do. When "THE" game comes on the 11th of November backed by every student as well as every member of the faculty.

The Senior Club meeting last Friday was very interesting indeed. The debate, "Resolved, That All Schools and Colleges Should Have Student Government," was well handled by Mr. Ed S. Moore and Mr. Porter Florence on the affirmative and Mr. Hosson and Miss Thelma Stacy on the negative. The decision was rendered in favor of the negative. All the speeches showed that mind, time and study had been put on them. Mr. James Butler gave the biography of General Pershing.

The co-eds wonder why Mr. Baty "picked on them" for their room instead of somebody else. Say, boys, the threshold of the room is not quite as sacred as it was last year, is it? It was once known as "No Man's Land."

The Faculty has been busy several days trying to find out how many times Rat Walston has been sent out of classes. They are still far behind with the work.

Extra!!! They are now going to put on a night shift to see about how many times "Slats" Farris has been dismissed also.

Prof. Godfrey in English: "The antecedent is a word for which the pronoun stands."

"Slats" Farris: "In the sentence, 'Mary milked the cow,' did the cow 'stand' for Mary?"

PERSONALS.

Miss Lucile McClesky was at home from Woman's College last week, and while in Birmingham paid us a visit.

Mr. Dick Randall, graduate of 1916, was a visitor several days ago.

Mr. Ira Pogue, graduate of 1919, was here Monday. He is principal of the High School in Sulligent, Ala., this year.

The different High School teams have been busy the past few days gathering money for the Roosevelt Memorial Association. There are three teams in the High School. The leaders are Jerry Bryan, J. B. Burford and Mr. Beard.

Mr. Horace Coulette was a visitor the past week. He is now teaching in the Selma High School.

could penalize the Panther players, ruled that the touchdown was illegal on account of holding by one of the Panthers, and penalized the team 1 yard.

Eddie Lewis' line plunge proved a thorn in the side of the S. M. A. team. He often crashed through the Greensboro line for good gains and unless the Cadets "piled on" generally got up and on with the ball.

"Chick" Mays proved himself a backfielder of worth. He went in as a substitute for Eddie Lewis and after several other good gains ran 20 yards for a touchdown. He had a gash cut in his eye and had to be taken out.

Ruff, of whom little has been said, who substituted for Mays, played a good game during the short time he was in the game. He made several good gains.

Bagley, that fighting guard, broke through and blocked a punt behind our own goal line near the end of the game, and netted the Panthers two points when Greensboro near fell on the ball for a touchback.

"Slim" Neese had a hand in practically all the plays going, but had to be taken out late in the game.

"Gabby" Scott, Sig Levie, Propst and the other old heads played their usual good game. Scott made several good gains.

The Panther team as a whole, however, were not putting forth much effort, for they did not think it necessary, as for the student-body, they were absolutely dead—petrified. Not a squeak was heard from the grandstand as touchdown after touchdown went over. It was the rottenest show of spirit displayed this year.

The summary follows:

PANTHERS DEFEATED IN ANNUAL CLASH

Bitterest Football Battle of the Year is Won By Howard's Bulldogs

In their annual clash at Rickwood Park the Howard College Bulldog came out victor by two points over the Birmingham-Southern Panther in one of the bitterest football struggles of the year. The Bulldog saved the score from being 0-0 tie by blocking an attempted punt by Eddie Lewis from behind the Panther goal line. The ball was deflected and failed to cross a corner of the field and the referee ruled a safety for the Bulldog.

Lewis was penned up in one corner with the Bulldog line about a foot from the Panther line. One of the Howard men slipped through the line and blocked Eddie's punt before he could get it off.

One of the most marvelous football feats of the year was staged after the Bulldog had crossed the Panther 5-yard line. It was then that the Panther fought the bitterest struggle of the year. With a line that outweighed the Panther line by a good margin the Panther held the Bulldog for four downs, without letting them gain over three or four yards. Three times the Bulldog lunged at the right half of the line and once at the left and neither time did they gain over a yard.

One of the great factors in the Panther's fight at the door of her lair was the chubby 200-pound guardman, "Slim" Neese. Three times the Bulldog tried to break through Slim's half of the line and with two men against him on each down Slim gave not a yard. The line as a whole presented a front that would defy the efforts of many superior teams in their fight on the one-yard line.

Among the Panther stars who broke into prominence in the Bulldog battle were Tink Gilliam, Jim Baty, Slim Neese, Capt. Sig Levie, Eddie Lewis and "Tanlac" Burney.

Jim Baty, who took "Buck" Larson's place at half, was one of the hardest Panther men to stop. He started in shortly after the beginning of the second half and hit the Bulldog line like a ton of brick. It generally took

Students Stage Football Parade

Seen in City

The spirit of "pep" and enthusiasm of the students of Birmingham-Southern College and High School burst forth in a "grand and glorious fashion" when they turned out in full force for the parade on Friday, November 7. Dr. Daniel gave that day as a holiday to be used in preparation for the parade, and for the climax, the game.

Roll was called at 2:30 at Capitol Park, and at 3:00 o'clock the parade began. The standard, Birmingham-Southern College, carried by two of the boys, headed the procession. Then came "Parson McWaters," followed by the black coffin bearing Howard's mourners, followed by the student body. Here and there, at regular intervals, various signs were seen bearing the scores of the previous games. Each student carried a letter at his side, the whole spelling "Birmingham-Southern College."

Immediately following the students was a car of Red Cross Nurses holding a bandaged bull dog. On each side of the car was a sign, "We'll Tend to Howard." Then came the truck bearing Howard's goat. This was followed by a long line of cars decorated with gold and black.

The line of march was through the business section of town. Now and then the line was stopped and the students stopped to give the college yells and songs. When the body of young people reached the First Methodist church they found the members of the North Alabama Conference awaiting them, and again they gave a great exhibition of their enthusiasm and joy.

The very successful parade was ended when the students marched to Capitol Park and disbanded.

Glee Club Is Now Complete

Splendid Season Assured

Composed of the following men the Glee Club is now hard at work on the best selected program it has ever given.

First Tenor	Second Tenor
Barnes, W. G.	Allgood
Howell	Baker, R. A.
Katzenstine	Burchfiel
Morgan	Stuiga
Scrivner	White, F. P.
White, D. D.	White, W. W.
Baritone	Bass
Harrison	Bagley
McWaters	Branscomb, A. L.
Meigs	Davidson
Myer	Lee
Riggan	Rice
Rowe

Paul White and Barnes are placed on the Waiting List, in the order named, but it is thought best to limit the members to six men on a part, as nearly as possible. This leaves one place in the Bass section open. It is desired that a good man may be found for this place. This would make 24 members, which is 33.3 per cent more than the Club had last year. I feel that we have fine prospects for a good Club, and for pleasant trips this year. It has been practically decided that we make no long trip before January Examinations, but it is expected that we shall make a trip soon thereafter, and also about the last of April.

No man has his place on the Club "climbed," which means that, just as on the Athletic Teams a man holds his place by constantly making good, so it is necessary that a man shall appreciate his place on the Glee Club sufficiently to do his very best at all times to make its work a success.

With very great appreciation of the cooperation of the members of the Spring 1919 Glee Club, and confident is the hope of just as great loyalty on the part of the new men, etc.,

MURT P. RICHARDSON,
Director

Apology Is Made To Howard College

Unfriendly Feelings Erased

A committee selected by the students, with John Bradford as chairman, went to Howard College Wednesday, November 5, with an apology to the student body of that institution for unseemly actions, in a thoughtless moment, by some of the students of this college.

The committee spoke to the students of the Baptist college and received a very warm reception from the student body at Howard. They read the resolution adopted by the student body of this school and the resolution was unanimously accepted by the Howard student body.

The committee was composed of the following students: John T. Bradford, chairman; L. Vaughn Howard, representing the senior class; Albert Branscomb, representing the junior class; J. H. Meigs, representing the sophomore class; J. L. Allgood, representing the freshman class, and R. A. Hodge, representing the high school department.

Much of the unfriendly feeling between the two student bodies passed away with the adoption and acceptance of the apology. It is believed that students from this institution will never again be called upon to take an apology to Howard for unseemly actions on the part of any of its students.

Rock the Baby.
Daddy had just gone to bed again, after walking the floor for the third time with a wailing infant and finally succeeding in getting him to sleep. Then the youngster started to cry again.

Mother said: "Dear, won't you please get up and rock the baby?"
And the "brute" retorted: "I would like to, if I had a rock!"

A Hot One.
Teacher: "Now, Robert, what plants flourish in excessive heat?"
Bobby: "Ice plants."

School Observes Armistice Day

The celebration of November 11, 1919, was quite different from that of November 11, 1918. When the great news of the signing of the armistice reached this country last year, the entire populace seemed as if it would go wild with joy. This year the occasion was celebrated in a more appropriate way.

Dr. Cooper had charge of the program, which was given in chapel. As Dr. Cooper had seen service in France, he was in a position to give a most interesting and instructive talk.

Following the talk the entire student body joined in singing a few of the war-time songs. The armistice program was brought to a close with the singing of "Home, Sweet Home."

PERSONALS.

A goodly number of Birmingham-Southern supporters were at the football game on November 8. We recall, at present, Barton and Goodloe, Morris, Edgar Glenn, Grace Jones, Mrs. Pogue, Diana and Lucile McCleskey, Hosmer Scott, Herbert Byars, Jack Nolen, Hugh Smith, Joe Burns, Dewey Ruffin, and the visiting ministers who attended conference.

New Course Is Popular Here

Prof. Cornyn Is Instructor

Professor Cornyn has organized a class in journalism which meets weekly for the purpose of giving the students some practical instruction in newspaper work. Professor Cornyn has stated that he desires to acquaint the students with the general routine of a newspaper office, to tell them of the work of the editors, reporters, etc., to teach the different sources from which news may be gathered and especially to stress the news value in stories and to give the students the form in which these stories should be written.

The class is very fortunate in obtaining Professor Cornyn as its instructor since he is a man who is well acquainted with the work having been actually engaged in some work of that character for a number of years. He has been a newspaper representative in Cuba, Mexico and Central America. He was also Latin American editor of the American Encyclopedia and has been managing editor of several newspapers.

The course in Journalism is a one hour course and those who take it are receiving full credit for their work.

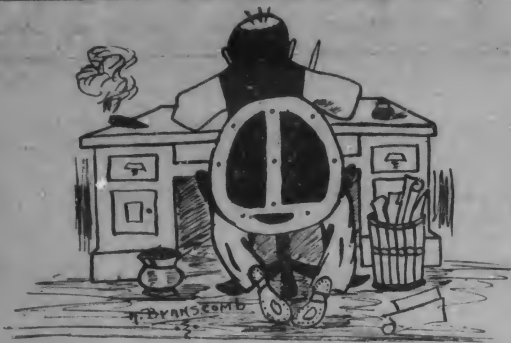

If the students of Birmingham-Southern want to become newspaper men or women now is their chance.

BIRTH AND DEATH.

If little babies knew this old world
they're coming to,
If they knew its grief and sorrow and its round of dreary strife, If they knew the hurt and ache on the path that they must take,
I wonder would they venture through the swinging gates of life?

Yet with all its grief and pain and its days of dreary rain

And despite the disappointments which the passing years may bring,

There are joys to compensate us,
to entrance us and elate us.
And this mortal life we know of is the life to which we cling.

Babies may view the Land of Breath as we view the realm of death.
Birth to them may be as dying, and we men who walk the earth

When we break through life's thin cover and pass upward, may discover

That the death we had been dreading is a brighter, happier birth.

SOME OF THE REASONS WHY HAZING SURVIVES.

No one who has never been to college and has never passed through one of the periodic hazing crisis which occur from time to time at most American institutions of learning—even at the girl's schools—can understand the deadly seriousness with which a sophomore or a junior, rarely a senior, regards his obligations towards a freshman.

It does not content a sophomore to know that he has lost somewhat of the greenness and unsophistication which is supposed to characterize all first year men. It is vastly consoling to know that he has passed through his novitiate, as it were, and has acquired the aplomb of an old collegian, but that does not suffice. He wants to impress the new comers with his greatness. He is jealous of his rights and privileges. By such as he, bumpiness in a freshman simply cannot be tolerated. Ninety-nine freshmen out of a hundred, so the sophomore thinks, will fall victims to meg-alomania if not taken in hand. For the sake of the school, his own self-respect and dignity and for the benefit of the freshman himself, the sophomore feels called on to perform this duty. To a lesser degree the junior shares the sophomore's sentiment, but the task has become a bit wearisome to the junior. The senior is a lofty creature. As a rule, hazing is beneath him.

Often this disciplining of the sophomore is good-natured and harmless.
Carried to extreme it becomes brutal, even dangerous, and then is the time for constituted authority to assert itself.—Age-Herald.

Thanksgiving is rapidly drawing near, and a few more days will entirely end the anticipation of many who are eagerly looking forward to a grand and glorious turkey dinner with the "old folks at home."

EXCHANGES.

We are very glad to receive the exchanges that come to our desk from week to week. They show the talent that would otherwise be latent in our sister colleges throughout this country. We trust that you are regularly receiving the "Gold and Black," and that our contributions are a source of some good to you.

A Hard Week.

The week had gloomily begun
For Willie Weeks, a poor man's

He was beset by bills and duns
And he had very little

This cash, he said, won't pay dues
I've nothing here but one's and

A bright thought struck him and he said
The rich Miss Goldrocks I will

But when he paid his court to her
She hesped, but firmly said "No

Alas! he said, then I must die;
His soul went where they say sands

They found his gloves, his coat and hat
A coroner upon them

BY THE WAY

McWaters is good! He extended his right hand to Ewart Speare the other day and said, "Shake Speare!"

Tipton seems to have severed diplomatic relations with the fair dame he once admired in Pigeon Creek, Alabama.

Jack Stuart very solemnly arose in the mess hall the other day and said,
"I have eaten a good bite, I have finished the course, I leave an empty plate." Reckon he takes Bible?

Paul White in class the other day learned to his surprise that this old world really revolves at a terrific speed. He cannot see why, if he should leap from the Science Hall, he would not fall to the earth over in Pratt City somewhere! Help!

Dr. Richardson very wittily informs us that he holds, not a "chair" in this college, but a whole "bench."

Dr. Daniel also informed us recently that he once was pastor in a church that was heated entirely by hot air.
Wonder did he realize how that statement sounded?

"Tapple" Bradford recently went to South Alabama on business. We understand he eventually looked over his share of the stock in the "chicken farm" at Woman's College. "Tapple" says she is a prize winner!

ECHOES FROM THE PANTHER'S LAIR.

(By Light Gold and Awful Black.)

And there came a deadly quiet
To the campus, sad and drear;
No more rings the raucous riot
Of the dizzy college cheer;
But a brooding pall did hover,
And the laurel turned to moss;
For the great game of the season
Had been turned into a loss.

The great game of the year is but a memory—a memory of the great fight staged by the Panther as he gambly defended his goal line and as gambly charged the Baptist line for gain after gain. Every man of the great contest was a star, but most deserving of mention are the Captain, Sig Levie, Tink Gilliam, Jim Baty, Slim
Neese, Eddie Lewis and Tanlac Burney.

(Dedicated to the Panther quarterback.)

The quarter waits down the beat,
He sees the spiral whirling high;
He hears the big ends' rushing feet,
To nall him roughly on the fly.

He knows the girl is somewhere near,
He knows the verdict of the mob,
If he should muf the whirling sphere,
I've never envied him his job.

PANTHERS ON AN ALL-STATE.

How many men would the Panthers have on an all-state team composed of the stars of Birmingham-Southern, Howard, Spring Hill, Marion, and Greensboro, that is, all the colleges of the state with the exception of Alabama and Auburn? According to the opinion of the writer, the Panthers will probably have five men who will make this mythical eleven in "Slim" Neese, guard; "Tink" Gilliam, feebled; "Buck" Larson, propst, center; "Sig" Levie tackle, and "Buck" Larson, halfback. These stars could hold their own with the best of them.

And, by the way, we have in our midst an all-American entry in the person of Baker, the sensational, side stepping phenom. Baker was being touted for all-southern by his numerous admirers, but since the S. M. A. contest a berth on the mythical all-American seems assured for him.

Fred Sparks in a rousing speech several days ago referred very emphatically to "the abdominal crimes of Germany." We understand, of course, that you meant "abominable," Freddie,
but it sounded funny!

Dr. Richardson—"Gibbs" what is a cloud?"

Leon Gibbs—"A cloud is something that holds water."

Dr. Richardson—"Is this bucket a cloud?"

Didja ever hear a sweeter voice than has Paul Hutto?

Tipton missed his calling! With his wide knowledge of "keyology," he could make a successful robber out of himself.

Ewart Speare gets the dog! He says that at the age of two he walked a barbed-wire in mid-air all the way from Maine to Texas, with two wildcats under his arms and did not get a scratch! Ouch!

Would it make Dana White to see Neil Dark?

Paul Hutto is called by his friends,
"Pluto," for short. He was addressed in this way at the dinner table, "Have some water, Pluto?" Reader, didja ever drink any?

Fatherly advice—If you are real homesick take a strap and "rat" somebody.

SPONSOR FOR GAME

Miss Catherine Williams was sponsor for the Panther-Bulldog football game on November 8. She well deserved this honor as she is an enthusiastic booster of all college activities, both athletic and otherwise.

Miss Susie Rosamond and Miss Gladys Green were elected as maids for this justly famous event. They are both also popular with the students and are supporters of the different phases of college life.

These three young ladies looked charming indeed in their box at Rickwood Park, and inspired the gallant Panthers to fight ferociously.

SORORITY GIVES WEINER ROAST.

After the game between Birmingham-Southern and Howard on Saturday, November 8, a group of Sorority girls gave a weiner roast at the home of Miss Anna LaPage. A huge bonfire was built on the lawn and a jolly bunch of girls and boys roasted weiners and toasted marshmallows until a very late hour. Those included in the hospitality were Misses Anna LaPage, Gladys Harlee, Sara Newsom, Lucile Williams and Harriet Chappell. Messrs. Bob Rowe, Jesse Dyle, Gary Birchfield, Joe Wheeler, Horton Martin, Beauregard Bagley and Fred Riggan.

Spring Hill Bests Panthers

The second team of the season to come out victor over the fighting Panther by other means than crossing the goal line was the heavy Spring Hill team who beat the Panther by a score of 3 to 0 on the Spring Hill field Saturday afternoon.

Moulton kicked a field goal for the only score of the game. No team except the University of Alabama has crossed the Panther goal this year. Spring Hill crossed it but was called back and penalized 15 yards for holding.

Fumbles were costly to the Panther. They threatened the Spring Hill goal line in the second quarter but a fumble broke up their chances. Lewis had intercepted a forward pass on the Spring Hill 30-yard line.

The Panther started down the field in the last quarter and placed the ball on the Spring Hill 20-yard line. An attempted field goal went low however and Spring Hill started back across the field with the ball. They reached the 38-yard line and Moulton made his field goal on a drop kick. They attempted a field goal two times later. Gillam made the attempt at kicking the field goal for the Panther and the ball went under the bar about six inches.

John Burney, the midget quarter, got to play only about four minutes of the game. Bill Donahue broke through the line and was heading for the goal when Burney hit him. Burney injured his shoulder when he tackled him. Toto Jaffe played about three-quarters and Buck Larson played at quarter for a few minutes of the last quarter.

Capt. Levie had to be taken out late in the last quarter when a man in the opposing line hit him in the side. Rogers went in for Levie. Levie played a good game until taken out.

Jim Baty played splendidly at fullback.

Substitutes, Panthers—Jaffe, for Burney; Evans for Yellding; Montgomery for Miller, and Rogers for Levie. Time of quarters, 12 minutes.

Substitutes, Spring Hill—None. Officials—Referee, Moriarty (St. Mary's); Umpire, Overton (Alabama); head linesman, Maxon (Cornell.) Time of quarters, 12 minutes.

Chuckles

One Better.

The oldest good story is the one about the boy who left the farm and got a job in the city. He wrote a letter to his brother, who elected to stick by the farm, telling of the boys of city life, in which he said:

"Thursday we auto'd out to the country club, where we golfed until dark. Then we motored to the beach, and Friday there."

The brother on the farm wrote back:

"Yesterday we buggied to town and baseballled all afternoon. Then we went to Med's and poked till morning. Today we muled out to the corn field and gee-hawed until sundown. Then we suppered, and then we piped for a while. After that we staircased up to our room and bedsteaded until the clock fived."

And He Knew.

This is a jury room secret that has come into circulation in some mysterious way.

"Look here," said one of the jurymen, after they had retired, "If I understand aright, the plaintiff doesn't ask damages for blighted affections or anything of that sort, but only wants to get back what he's spent on presents, pleasure trips and so forth."

"That is so," agreed the foreman.

"Well, then, I vote we don't give him a penny," said the other hastily. "If all the fun he had with that girl didn't cover the amount he expended it must be his own fault. Gentlemen, I courted that girl once myself!"

Pat Couldn't Say.

The case concerned a will, and an Irishman was a witness.

"Was the deceased," asked the lawyer, "in the habit of talking to himself when he was alone?"

"I don't know," was the reply.

"Come, come, you don't know, and yet you pretend that you were intimately acquainted with him?"

"Well, sir," said Pat dryly, "I never happened to be with him when he was alone."

A Slight Mix-Up.

Editors have their troubles. One of these men who presides over the destinies of a Western newspaper is mourning the loss of two subscribers.

One wrote asking how to raise his twins safely, while the other wanted to know how he might rid his orchard of grasshoppers. The answers went forward by mail, but by accident the editor put them into the wrong envelopes, so that the man with the twins received the answer:

"Cover them carefully with straw and set fire to it, and then the little pests, after jumping in the flames for a few minutes, will be speedily settled." And the man with the grasshoppers was told to "give castor oil and rub their gums with a bone."

Very Liberal.

"Don, did you give Bessie the best part of that apple, as you were told?"

"Yes, I gave her the seeds. She can plant them and have the whole orchard."

Job-seeker (entering office unannounced): "Is there an opening here for me?"

Chief Clerk: "Yes, sir, right behind you."

MY PONY.

I had a little pony,
And in my desk he'd stay.
I fed him neither corn nor oats,
Nor yet a wisp of hay.

I loved this little pony,
And oft he'd pace along,
And take me with him on his back,
To where Helvetians throng.

But as one day I rode him,
Through Caesar's hardest spot,
My Latin teacher caught me,
And now I have him not.

ALUMNI RUMALINGS

By Tommy Hanes.

Some people think that denominational colleges make preachers only. Among the Birmingham-Southern alumni are Charles Rice, Ben F. Ray, Frank Spain, Gus Benners and others of Birmingham who are following the practice of law. All of which goes to show that there ARE two exrtimes.

Although the Educational Department, as such, has been in existence at the College only since the Legislature of 1914 made such a requirement necessary for its graduates to receive a first grade teacher's certificate without further examination, we have turned away some men who have attained prominence in the teaching world. Just recently, at the now completed session of the Alabama Legislature, the Chairman of the House Educational Committee was W. E. Dickson, Principal of the North Birmingham School, and an Alumnus. R. E. Ledbetter, is another Alumnus recently in the educational lime-light. He went from the County Superintendency of Schools of Escambia County to the State Department of Education where he now serves as Rural School Supervisor.

The Speaker of the 1919 session of the Legislature of Alabama was Hon. H. P. Merritt of Tuskegee. The Governor of the State has recently honored him by appointment on the newly created State Board of Education. Mr. Merritt is an alumnus of great influence and we are pleased to note this newly conferred and merited honor.

Howard Game [from page 1] three men to stop him while none evaded his fierce tackling.

The unfortunate injury that brought "Gabby" Scott out of the game was another factor in the Panther defeat. Although Burney showed up well in "Gabby's" place Scott knows the team better, probably, and his weight would not have handicapped him. Scott was was a marked man however and the blow that knocked him out was received while he was on the ground.

Paul Norton, at full, played a good game. Norton seldom failed to gain on his line plunges.

The game could be summed up in brief by giving Howard the third quarter and Birmingham-Southern the other three. The only quarter in which Howard outplayed Birmingham-Southern was the third. That was when they made their two points. In the last quarter the Panther played their best game. They completed practically all of their five forward passes in this quarter and had they started the aerial game sooner the story would have been entirely different.

Statistics show that the Panther gained 254 yards while the Bulldog gained but 184; the Panther bucked the line for 162, to the Bulldog's 165; Howard completed but one forward pass while the Panther completed five for a total distance of 41 yards. The statistics also show that Newman out-punted Lewis but 5-7 of a yard.

The summary follows:

Line up:

Substitutes, Birmingham-Southern—Jaffee for Scott, Burney for Jaffe, Baty for Larson, Rogers for Norton.

Substitutes, Howard, Carlisle for Wheeler, Ingram for Drennen, Drennen for Ingram.

Score by quarters:

BASKET BALL SEASON OPENS

Galaxy of Stars Will Try to Make Cage Team

Basketball has begun at Birmingham-Southern College and the loud noise on the court of the Methodist gymnasium rung out as the Panthers emerged in their freshly catalogued garb for the initial workout of the basketball season.

The Methodist lads have rather good prospects for a winning five this season, and should be heard from before the veil of winter is lifted and the coming of spring brings forth the stars of the diamond. Indeed, the caged Panther will be seen in all his native viciousness when the call of the court is sounded on Sunshine Slopes.

Five letter men of last year answered the summons when coach Charlie Brown began the cage season this year. Three of these, Tanlac Barney, forward and center; Mike Norton, forward, and Aubrey Miller, captain of last year's squad and guard, were varsity members of last year's five, while Bagley, guard, and Tapple Bradford, forward, played in enough games to win their coveted B. Besides these men, Shorty Probst, center, Gandy, guard; Hall, center, and a large number of new men who have played good basketball, will probably appear in the thinly clad uniforms when the whistle blows in the Panther gymnasium to formally start the season.

The ability of Barney and Norton at forwards is known to Birmingham fans. Both are light, but exceedingly fast and have a good eye for the basket. Barney dodges and squirms around, and always plays a thoroughly consistent game, while the steady Mike Norton plays over the entire court with ease.

Miller captained the squad last year and in the absence of a coach, acted in this capacity for the aggregation during the past cage season, and will make a strong man as guardian of the opponent's basket during the winter pastime. He knows the cage game from every angle, and is one of the best defensive men in the city.

Bagley and Bradford will make somebody hustle for positions on the varsity this year. Bagley is a consistent guard, while Bradford, when in condition, is a goal shooting forward. He throws from any angle and any distance, and is very accurate in his shots.

There is elected to hold down the pivotal position for the Panthers, and certainly has the height and the weight to make a strong cage catcher. Much is expected from him. He formerly played basketball at Wesley Hall.

Gandy is a tower of strength, and should make use of the guard position on the Panther five. Hall, a center, can be switched to guard, and will play a consistent game at either position.

Griffin, captain of the Central cage team last season, will make the Panther forwards struggle to keep their positions. Griffin was one of the best of Central last year, and should make the locals a good team.

There are a number of other good men coming out, and their ability can be better judged after they have had a chance in some cage work.

The coach of Birmingham-Southern College has announced a basketball team. They have been very fortunate in securing Fred Higgins, an coach, the best and a great deal of experience among the new men. Higgins secured a number of other players. They have secured as "forward," Tapple Bradford, and as "center," Aubrey Miller, and as "guard," Shorty Probst, and as "point guard," Mike Norton. Higgins also secured a number of other players. Higgins secured a number of other players.

ANNUAL REVIVAL IS GREAT SUCCESS

Many Students Inspired to Live For Christ

The announcement some time ago, that Rev. J. M. Culbuth, of St. Louis, Mo., was coming to hold a series of revival services on the hill, galvanized the hearts of students and faculty. After he came and closed the meeting there was much praise for what the services had meant to those who heard Bro. Culbuth.

A few days before the arrival of this gifted young man, a religious census of the students had been made, in order to ascertain the spiritual attitude of the students, and that organization could be made for reaching the non-Christian. A conference was called for the leaders, and the available personal workers were assigned to various groups and individuals. At each service a short conference was held for the workers to report what had been done, and to be advised as to further procedure. These conferences not only gave facts, but the workers received encouragement to "follow up" their solicitations with short talks and friendly handshakes.

Bro. Culbuth won the respect of the entire student body through beautiful character, admirable personality, and good preaching. His sermons were earnest, clear cut, and bore witness of the spirit of Christ. Every student's heart was touched and inspired to live the life of service for Christ and humanity. Several young men dedicated their lives to holy, Christian service. The real results of the meeting will become more visible as the weeks go by, for the remembrance of these services will always be a source of inspiration.

STUDENTS ASSIST CHURCH SURVEY

Rural Churches Sadly in Need of More Funds

Students from Birmingham Southern have been assisting Rev. R. M. Archibald in carrying on a survey of the rural churches in this section of the state. The survey is under the auspices of the Interchurch World Movement of North America, and in this state, is directly under the supervision of Brother Archibald who is the state supervisor. This movement in its broader sense is "a plan of co-operation between evangelical churches in North America in their entire educational and missionary program at home and abroad."

Among those from Birmingham-Southern College who have assisted in the survey in Jefferson County are: J. M. Metcalf, J. L. Williamson, C. D. Matthews, Gordon Rice, J. Hilver, Dewey Harris, and P. D. Scrivner. They have found the work very interesting and instructive, and certainly they have done an inestimable service for the rural churches where they worked. In many instances the church buildings were found to be old and poorly equipped, and church organization, poorer still. The crying need of the rural churches is more money, and it is to be hoped that through the startling revelation of their true condition, the great Methodist Centenary, the Baptist $75,000, the campaign, and other great church movements may give these the assistance they so sadly need.

FRESHMEN ORGANIZE.

The Freshmen met in the Chapel, November 24 and elected officers for the coming year. These officers are as follows: President, Fred Higgins; Vice President, Frank Richardson; Secretary, D. C. Braden; Treasurer, Sam Henderson; Historian, Edw. H. Henson; Post, John Waring; Prophet, Elmer Hester. The class under the leadership of

PANTHERS WIN IN FINAL SQUABBLE

Charlie Brown's All-Star Cast Piles up Huge Score

In the last battle of the year the mighty gridiron Panther, of the Birmingham-Southern tribe, sank her mighty claws into the University of Chattanooga Moccasins and defeated them by a score of 40 to 0.

Whether the Moccasins are supposed to be snakes or shoes, John Burney 118-pound quarterback, took them off their feet, if the latter, or pulled their fangs, if the former, when he nabbed the first kick-off of the game on the Panther 10-yard line and ran 90 yards for a touchdown.

The Panther outclassed the Moccasins in every department of the game. They played them off their feet with the exception of the aerial game where the Moccasins staked their only chance at a victory. Even here, however, the Panther outplayed the Moccasins but not so badly as in other departments.

The summary follows:

Substitutions: Birmingham-Southern: Larson for Miller; Hall for Probst; Probst for Gandy; Gandy for Neese; Jett for Burney; Norton for Gandy; Gilliam for Levie; Levie for Gandy; Gandy for Yelding; Miller for Larson; Neese for Evans; Ruff for Lewis; Rogers for Gilliam.

Score by quarters:
University Chattanooga 0 0 0 0—0
Scoring: For Birmingham-Southern: Touchdowns—Baty 2, Burney 1, Lewis 1, Gilliam 1, Miller 1. Goals after touchdowns—Gilliam 4.

JOINT SOCIETY PROGRAM.

The Belles Letters and Clarionophic Literary Societies had a most successful joint meeting in the chapel on the afternoon of the twenty-fourth, when a delightful program was rendered by members of both societies. Mr. D. D. White of the Belles Letters gave the president's address after Miss Rosamond of the Clarionophic. A declaration contest followed between Mr. Edwin Brancomb of the Belles Letters and Mr. A. B. Davidson of the Clarionophic. Those present were very disappointed in that Miss Parr and Dr. Richardson who were to have given musical selections were unavoidably absent from the meeting.

The debate of the afternoon was on the subject of co-education in American colleges and it was upheld on the affirmative by Messrs. Dark and Sparks, and on the negative by Messrs. Tipton and Scrivner. Much humor as well as serious discussion was brought into the debate and it was thoroughly enjoyed by all. The declarations, too, were both interesting and entertaining. The judges gave the honors to the affirmative in the debate and to the Belles Letters in the declaration.

It is believed that this joint meeting will stir up a keener interest in the society work among the students and an even greater friendly rivalry between the societies.

These able officers, has prospects for a very successful year. As green and as inexperienced as the freshmen are, they certainly seem to be the present litter of "rocks" as not as used as usual.

STUDENTS ELECT FOUR DELEGATES

To Represent College in Great Student Convention

The Eighth International Convention of the Student Volunteer Movement will be held at Des Moines, Iowa, beginning at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon, December 31, 1919, and closing on the evening of January 4, 1920. The conventions of the Student Volunteer Movement are held once in a student generation.

The purpose of the convention may be stated as follows: (1) To bring together at Des Moines representative delegations of students and professors from all the important institutions of higher learning of Canada and the United States and leaders of the Christian enterprise throughout the world; (2) to consider unitedly the serious situation in all countries today, and the problem of evangelizing the non-Christian peoples; (3) to gain inspiration and a vision of world-wide missionary responsibilities of the church; (4) to unite in prayer and work for a great advance in the direction of extending the kingdom of Christ among the nations.

One of the leading features of the convention will be addresses by some of the ablest speakers of Christendom. The addresses will vividly picture and forcefully emphasize the moral, social and religious needs of the world today, and the lines of effective and speedy mastery of all phases of life in every nation by Jesus Christ.

There will also be Sectional Conferences and Smaller Group Meetings where the great fields, i. e., China, India, Africa, etc., as well as particular problems of the institution, represented will be considered.

Analysis reasons will be the primary theme in the program, and will focus on the United States and Canada, but from Europe, Asia and Latin America. Not less than five hundred foreign students and leaders are expected in Des Moines.

This is the first Student Volunteer Convention held since the war. Because of the time at which it comes, because of the problems which this country and the world face, and for many other reasons, it promises to be the greatest and most important student gathering ever held, one in which no institution can afford not to be represented.

As Christian students it is our duty to become acquainted with and find our relation to the great call of the Churches, in view of the enormous sums of money which many of them are raising. At the convention this great challenge of the Christian will be presented as it can be nowhere else.

Clearly, this is the greatest opportunity students may have at this time of seeing the world in perspective. Men and women thoroughly informed on national problems will be at Des Moines, representing probably forty different nations.

The delegates who will attend the convention from Birmingham-Southern College are J. M. Metcalf, J. Fred Sparks, Harry Denman, and one faculty representative who has not been named. J. M. M.

PANTHERS ON AN ALL STATE TEAM

Gilliam, Levie and Neese on Mythical Eleven

When the final gong rang for the close of the 1919 football season, the followers of the Gold and Black found that three Panthers had won a place on an all-State team. Not only did they land a berth on the all-State team, but they won admiration from the hearts of football fans on account of their consistent, earnest, clean and gritty work on the gridiron.

Gilliam our "flax maned" half back, is known not only in Alabama, but over the South. Never did a harder nor grittier warrior tread upon any field than this 145 pound piece of humanity. He hits a line twisting and squirming and never fails to unravel a few yards. His offensive work is great, but nothing to be compared to his defensive work. This lad is known as "Tink," but on the football field it should be "Tank."

In the line stood Captain "Sig" Levie at tackle. He was always feared and dreaded by his opponents, as the old "Levee" turned their tide. Not only did he turn their tide, but he cleared the way for his "backs" to follow. "Sig" deserved the title of Captain, and did reverence to those who chose him. With a cool head, a determined spirit, and powerful statue, he led his team to success. This is his last year with us, as he completes his course next June.

Another reason why he is the chosen one is his size and weight. He is 5 feet 7 inches in height and weighs 250 pounds. He is a gatling gun.

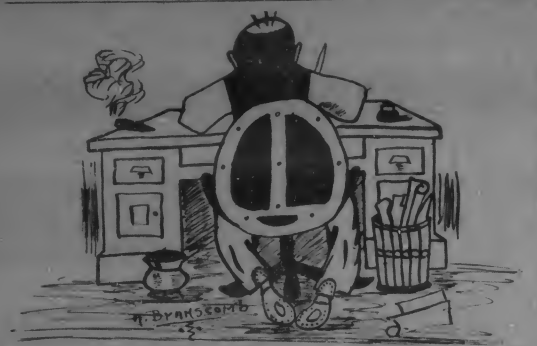

All Southerners could not have him, but he managed them, then, and he helped them up, and again with a smile he downed them. He is 5 feet 7 inches in height and the same in longitude, so how can anyone go around or over, and who would dare attempt to go under him?

Old fellows, the school honors you for your splendid record!

A DREAM.

Editor of Gold and Black:

As President of the Alumni Association, my mind has been dwelling on BIG things for our Alma Mater. While fresh in mind and before the on-rush of business details blurs the vision, I want to impose on your space and place on the minds and hearts of my fellow Alumni and the many other friends of the school the dream that I have recently dreamed.

I saw a greater Birmingham-Southern with a magnificent entrance and most beautiful grounds. The drive up the hill to the administration building was a fine asphalt drive, spanned on either side by broad concrete sidewalks. The entrance had three gates, one large one for vehicles and two on each side for pedestrians. As I walked up one sidewalk, I passed between buildings of beauty and structures of grandeur. The asphalt drive and concrete walks continued over the campus and I wondered at the great fine trees that seemed set about over the place with care. And the explanation was made when I reached a huge granite boulder in the midst of the "quadrangle" just in front and a little back from the Science building, which stood not alone, but as the older building on the campus. This stone stated that the campus had been beautified by the friends of the College, through the efforts of the Alumni Association, as a memorial to those boys who saw service in the great World War. In fact, there was a large bronze plate on this boulder containing the names of every boy from Southern University and Birmingham College who saw service abroad in Germany. The boulder contained in its body the records of each and everyone of these boys. A great thing that, and it thrilled my heart!

In place of the ugly red structure that now commands the most prominent place on the campus and which "is" Birmingham-Southern College to many thousands that pass by in the valley below, there stood a quarter of a million dollar structure that Birmingham pointed to with pride; that Alumni and friends and student bodies loved; that housed hundreds of boys and girls as they received instruction from the minds of great men.

Munger field had a great steel and concrete "bowl," similar to that of Yale, but distinct and individual. It seated thousands of people and all the great athletic contests played in Birmingham were scheduled there, the field being a source of financial revenue for the Athletic Association and placing it on its feet. A beautiful gymnasium rested back of the field, and the street car company had built a spur of their track around the Science Hall to serve the field and the gymnasium. This "bowl" stood as a monument to the generosity and love of Mr. Munger.

The present dormitory now being built on the hill above Munger field had been completed for some time and where larger and more beautiful had been added to care for the larger enrollment.

training and was fast forging itself to the front of southern educational institutions.

A dream? Yes, but with my eyes open! Impossible! No, impossible not to happen. All depends on TIME and MONEY. I hope and pray that all its friends may put shoulder to the wheel, pen and ink to check book, tongue to talking, brain to thinking, and let's make the dream come true!

C. M. DANNELLY,

TO WHICH CLASS ARE YOU HASTENING?

A government publication says:
"Out of every 64 men at 65 years of age:

- 1 is rich.
- 4 are well to do.
- 6 are self-supporting, but must work for a living.
- 53 are dependent upon relatives or charity."

With such a statement by such an authority, the average man of today ought to sit down and reckon with himself. Then he ought to so plan his expenditures as to live within his income and save a little. He who cannot or will not do this is a bankrupt already, and the succeeding years, instead of bringing relief, will but add to his embarrassment and to the burden of his friends.—Advocate.

BY THE WAY

Prof.—"I shall be tempted to give you a test pretty soon."
Rowe—"Yield not to temptation."

Dana White made this ambiguous remark in his address to the societies in their joint program last week: "Ah, Friends, nothing prepares us, as students, for the life to come as much as work done in the society room."

"Dusty" Rogers is surely an optimistic piece of furniture! He says that there is one consolation when a fellow "funks out", for he won't have to buy new books the next year.

Tipton is a shrewd old thing! He says that he always eats for two meals ahead, as he doesn't know what will turn up to make him have to miss "soup" the next time.

Catherine Williams burst into the Library the other morning and asked anxiously: "Where is Jack?" Did she mean Jack Stuart or "Jack Livy"? Reply, Latin sharks!

Is Miss Elliot blind and deaf? She was seen at church Sunday with Charles Maxwell. She mus' be!

There are many liars on this Hill! A fellow who says, "All right, I'm gettin' up," and then rolls over for a short nap is simply "lying in bed."

Professors—and other folks who know everything (almost)—delight in high-toned expostulations, don't they? One spoke of a fellow's inability to run when scared as being "motor insufficiency." Ever had it?

Please hand me "The Review of Reviews," he said.

How Mrs. Reynolds' eyes did flash! For the fresh young student looked calmly up
And solemnly passed the hash.

ECHOES FROM THE PANTHER'S LAIR.

One of the greatest gridiron seasons in the history of the sport for the Birmingham-Southern College ended in a blaze of glory as the curtain formally fell with a thud as the Moccasins of Chattanooga were snowed under a 40 to 0 score by the Panther.

Very few colleges in the south have made as envious a record as our own gridiron Panther, who, although defeated in three fierce conflicts, held their goal line immune from the onslaughts of their enemies with the exception of the strong University of Alabama eleven, runner-up for the championship of the south. On three different occasions the Panther, backed up against his own line on the one-yard line, held his opponents for downs. This, indeed, is a record of which to be proud.

With the football season only a vivid memory of the great gridiron struggles, the sporting critics have begun the annual pastime of selecting mythical eleven of the several colleges' individual stars. On the mythical all-state eleven six of our own Panthers have been mentioned for these honors. They are Captain Levie, tackle and guard; "Slim" Neese, guard; "Tink" Gillam, halfback; Jim Baty, fullback; Eddie Lewis, halfback and fullback; Aubrey Miller, end; and "Big Hoss" Gandy, guard.

To the Football Squad:

Greetings! Just a word to officially thank you for your efforts in behalf of our Alma Mater and your College on the gridiron. I've seen you play in four games and you fellows quit yourselves like men. A finer bunch personally is hard to find—a better team is rarely seen. We Alumni are thankful for your record—it's great! Your goal line is untarnished except in the Alabama game. We want the world to know that you boys will be back next year and keep even Alabama from crossing it. Come on back and let's keep even field goals or fuke safeties from being scored on us. You boys are the stuff!

Appreciatively,

C. M. DANNELLY.

Birmingham-Southern is not the only college in the south that has been beefing against the Birmingham Ledger sporting editors.

We submit the following as our humble opinion in regard to the ranking of the southern colleges for the inter-collegiate championship: Birmingham-Southern, Auburn, Alabama, Georgia Tech, Vanderbilt, Mississippi A. & M.; Georgia, Tulane, Louisiana State, Sewanee, Spring Hill, Marion, Hamilton Aggies, Howard.

While picking, we favor Bessemer as the high school champions of the state.

"Everybody's picking now," and

Center, "Sherty" Propst.

Right Guard, "Slim" Neese.

Right Tackle, "Coop" Green.

Fullback, Jim Baty.

A Gateway—Electrical

ONLY a forty-foot gateway bounded by two brick pilasters and ornamental lamps, but unlike any other gateway in the entire world.

For back of it is the General Electric Company's main office building, accommodating 2300 employees. And just next door is its laboratory with the best equipment for testing, standardizing and research at the command of capable engineers. Then down the street—a mile long—are other buildings where everything electrical, from the smallest lamp socket to the huge turbines for electrically propelled battleships, is made by the 20,000 electrical workers who daily stream through.

What a story this gate would tell, if it could, of the leaders of the electrical industry and business, of ambassadors from other institutions and from foreign lands.

The story would be the history of electric lighting, electric transportation, electric industries and electricity in the home.

This gateway, as well as the research, engineering, manufacturing and commercial resources back of it, is open to all who are working for the betterment of the electrical industry.

Illustrated bulletin, Y-863, describing the company's several plants, will be mailed upon request. Address General Electric Company, Desk 43, Schenectady, New York

SORORITY ENTERTAINS FOOT- BALL TEAM.

The Tau Delta Sorority entertained the football team very delightfully at the home of Miss Anna LaPage on Thursday, November 19. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion in the colors black and gold. A football was suspended from the center of the room while miniature footballs, containing a fortune for everyone, hung in clusters from the large ball. A contest containing the names of the football players was enjoyed, the prize being awarded to Mr. Bob Rowe.

After much frolic and fun a delightful ice course was served to the following: Misses Anna LaPage, Gladys Harlies, Mary Rodgers, Nelle Waldrup, Madge Waldrup, Sara Newsum, Lucile Williams and Harriet Chappell; Messrs. Aubrey Miller, Beauregard Bagley, Sig Levie, Bob Rowe, Tappie Bradford, Stanton Gandy, Jim Rodgers, Howard Yielding, Tink Gillam, Tanlac Burney, Robert Lee, Slim Neese, Eugene Malone, Fred Riggan and Prof. Owsley.

CHAPEL EXERCISES.

The chapel exercises have taken on new interest. Last week Dr. Daniels announced that a new feature had been arranged, one in which all the students would have a part and one which assuredly would not run over into the sacred precincts of "soupy." Accordingly, after the devotional exercises, the meeting was turned over to Dr. Richardson. Professor Cooper presided at the piano and the fun began. First all sang, "There's a Long, Long Trail A-winding," next, "Church in the Wildwood." Then things livened up to the tune of, "Little 'Liza Jane" and this was sung with a vim and "go" that was great. From time to time this new entertainment will be a feature of the chapel exercises.

WHO'S WHO IN FOOTBALL.

(Harriet Chappell.)
"Sophie," the Neese of her uncle, went for a Row with her "Beau" down the stream to the mill, and much to her disgust her escort got Ruff and said great Scott, and so she gave him a Tap (py) on the head. A friend of the Miller was standing around talking. He looked sick, and she immediately told him of the wonderful medicine known as Tanlac. He thanked her and said he must be very Green, but he had never heard of it before. The next thing she said was: "Did Sig Levie after he fed the "Chick" (s) this morning?"
"By the way," she said, "what do you know about that Birmingham-Southern-Howard football game? They say the Panther fought as Robt. E. Lee fought during the Civil war. Propat played a good game at center."

"Yes," agreed Stanton, the man who has the name of Virginia's famous military academy, "In the last quarter although Howard had scored a safety, Birmingham-Southern had no thoughts of Yielding, but Buck (ed) the line with all their force and neither pounds Norton (s) could move them. I suppose you heard about the team going to Mobile and what a time they had getting Baty away from Woman's College as they passed through Montgomery."

"Oh! but don't you hear that bell 'Tink' (ling) for noon, and I'm so hungry for some cookies spiced with nut Meigs, so I'll be off to the dining Hall. I've enjoyed the football dope immensely and I'll say vedy good Eddie for Jim Rogers, Toto Jaffe, Landrum and the whole team."

THANKSGIVING

The Old Hill looked rather lonesome last week when the boys went home to see the folks and get a turkey dinner. Hardly anybody was left here Wednesday night and hardly anybody came back until Sunday. All seem to have had a most glorious Thanksgiving. Even those who didn't go home say they had a first class Thanksgiving dinner and they must have enjoyed the quiet on the Hill for a change.

Many of us planned to have a good time out of doors on picnics, week-end camps, hunting, etc., but the bad weather interfered. In spite of that, though we enjoyed our holidays to the fullest and we can't think of anything now but what a good time we had Thanksgiving and what a grand time we are going to have Christmas.

Right Back.

She—"I wonder why men lie so?"
He—"Because women are so inquisitive."

Kuppenheimer Clothes and Leadership

The best dressed men in college are usually the leaders. The clothes don't necessarily make them leaders, but their judgement does. It is this same judgment which leads them to buy Kuppenheimer Clothes, the best clothes, in or out of school hours of today. Possessing snap, beauty, style and quality not to be duplicated. Kuppenheimer Clothes are the best buy at any price, but our prices are as low as those for the ordinary kind.

CO-ED PANTHERS TAKE TRIP SOON

Girl Basketeers Are To Meet Woman's College

The co-ed basketball team of the Birmingham-Southern College is practicing daily at the gymnasium of the local institution in preparation of a series of games to be played in the near future with girl teams over the state.

The first game to be played will be with Woman's College. The co-ed team will journey down to Montgomery on next Friday to encounter the quintet of the Woman's College there, and the local girl basketeers expect to put in a hard week of practice in order to be in good condition to meet the Montgomeryans.

Professor Frank L. Owsley, head of the department of history at Birmingham-Southern, has been coaching the girls' teams and states that much progress has been made toward rounding out a good five. A number of co-eds have been showing up exceptionally well. At the forward positions, Jane Grace and Elizabeth Branscomb have been showing up well, while Sarah Newsome has been doing good work. The best centers are Harriet Chappell and Catherine Williams, who will probably play the center and side-center positions. At guards are Thelma Stacy, Ophelia Pearson and Sarah Pritchett.

The manager of the team is trying to get a game with a local quintet for next Saturday night, and it is thought a game will be secured.—Age Herald

AS A MEMORIAL TO BISHOP McCoy

It has been decided to build on the campus of Birmingham-Southern College a memorial Methodist church, to furnish adequate facilities for worship for the students of the college and the large and growing college community. Christianity is the central idea of a Christian college and the church concrete that idea. The more strength the church embodies in building organization and ministries, the greater the power. The two conferences can not do a better thing for the Christian manhood of this country than to build a church at the Birmingham-Southern College, which will command the respect of the students and preserve and increase their worth in the strength and solidity of the Christian church. Life insurance companies, banks and other secular institutions, which bid for the confidence of the people, express their permanence and solidity in stone and mortar. The confidence and respect of the young are won by concrete objects. Great men and great buildings create and dominate an age.

This church, as a memorial to Bishop James H. McCoy, one of the great men in our whole church, if built on a worthy plan, will make an appeal to the young men who attend this institution which will be inestimable.

Let us do the worthy thing.

DELEGATES HOME AFTER FINE TRIP

Bring Enthusiastic Reports From Student Convention

To have been a delegate to the Eighth International Student Volunteer Convention held at Des Moines, Iowa, from Dec. 31, 1919, to Jan. 4, 1920, means at least one "mountain peak" experience in the life of a student.

The trip to Des Moines from Birmingham was full of interest. In the student body, the Birmingham-Southern delegation was about 30 of the 57 Alabama delegates. A happier bunch could not have been found. At St. Louis the party had four hours for rest and recreation. Some visited the parks and others visited down town stores or spent the time with friends. Leaving St. Louis at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, we reached Des Moines Wednesday at 9:30 a. m.

Des Moines seemed to be full of delegates when our train arrived, but they kept coming until over 7,500 had registered. Long before the hour for opening the great Coliseum was full of delegates who had already found their places and begun giving their yells. Soon every state in the union and every state and province in Canada were known to have representatives there. At 2:30 p. m. the gavel fell and Dr. John R. Mott opened the great convention with music and prayer. At all meetings after this a spirit of prayer was noticeable.

It is needless to say that the addresses were overflowing with the spirit of consecration and inspiration. To have heard such men as Dr. John R. Mott, Dr. Robert E. Spear, Robert P. Wilder, George Sherwood Mady, Dr. James Endicott of Canada, Dean Brown of Yale, Dr. Truett of Texas and Bishop McConnell can only mean an awakened knowledge of the world in its present crisis and need, a deeper revelation of God to man and a greater vision of one's responsibility in the task of evangelizing the world in this generation.

The sectional conferences, the music, the exhibit of missionary literature and the organization of the great convention showed that the power behind the movement was dominated by men of prayer.

The convention closed Sunday evening at 9 o'clock. Soon after the close, special trains were carrying delegates to every part of the United States and Canada.

As only a short report may be given this time, a more complete account will appear in the next issue of the Gold and Black.

STUDENTS WORK FOR UNCLE SAM

Assist in the Census Enumeration and Mail Service

Many of the students of Birmingham-Southern College are constantly taking advantage of the opportunities that come to do work of various kinds to assist them in the expenses of their college life. During the Christmas holidays Uncle Sam was able to give valuable assistance to college students throughout the country. Many of our students, while in the city, rendered a service not only to themselves but also to our government. Many of them went into the mail service and handled thousands of Christmas packages daily. They were represented both in the railway mail service and the local postoffice. Others took the census enumerator's test and are assisting in the fourteenth census of the United States. Most of them were assigned districts within the city and they are expecting to complete their enumeration by January 16, while those assigned to rural districts are allowed one month to complete their work.

LEWIS ELECTED CAPTAIN FOR 1920

Star Half-Back Succeeds Levie As Panther Pilot

On the night of December 15 the Panther football squad held its annual meeting at the Y. M. C. A. After a few remarks by Coach Brown and Captain Levie, the task of electing a captain for 1920 was assumed. Lewis, our star half back, for the past two seasons, was chosen. In that position he is a successful player. He was a successful real football player on the field, but now he is "kicker" again when it comes to knowledge of the college pastime. He knows football and his team-mates know it. Watch the Panthers under Captain Lewis. Also letters were awarded the following men: Propst, Neese, Gandy, Evans, Levie, Green, Miller, Montgomery, Burney, Rogers, Baty, Scott, Larson, Jaffe, Norton, Gillam, Lewis and Bradford.

QUARTET SINGS FOR MUSIC STUDY CLUB.

On last December 4 the Birmingham-Southern Quartette sang for the Birmingham Music Study Club at Cable Hall. This was the first engagement of the quartette as a part of the glee club for the season, but it did itself great credit. A feature of the program of the club was the negro folk-lore songs of Miss Mary Gillen, who was really an artistic singer. The Birmingham-Southern Quartette, consisting of Scrivner, Algood, Myers and Branscomb, sang "Kentucky Babe" and "There Little Girl Don't Cry." This was followed by a wonderful bass solo by Mr. Leon Cole of the First Methodist Church.

THE PANTHER FIVE'S RECORD

"Mike" Norton is Popular Captain of This Season's Crew

The Panther has the basketball season in full swing and has played five games up to date with varied luck.

They opened up the season with the Majestic High team, whom they defeated by a score of 25 to 14. The next game was with Woodlawn in the City League. They fell victim to the Panther by a score of 28 to 14. The next game was a tie. The Panther went to Goodwater and played that team on an out-door court, to which the Panther was not familiar and the score was 19 to 19. The next game was forfeited to Stockham Branch Y. M. C. A. in the City League, when a disagreement arose as to the rulings of the referee. The last game was played with the North Birmingham team in the City League Wednesday night. Lack of team work and an inability to find the basket proved fatal to the Panther. The final score was 14 to 11 in favor of North Birmingham.

"Mike" Norton, who has played varsity ball two years, is the popular captain of this year's quintet.

Among those doing the best work are Propst at center, Burney at forward, Capt. Norton, forward; Griffin, guard; Candy, guard. Bagley has backed the varsity as substitute well, as have other players, including Hall, Green and Miller. The second team may be substituted for the first in the City League soon and have the varsity team to play the next night, according to the board.

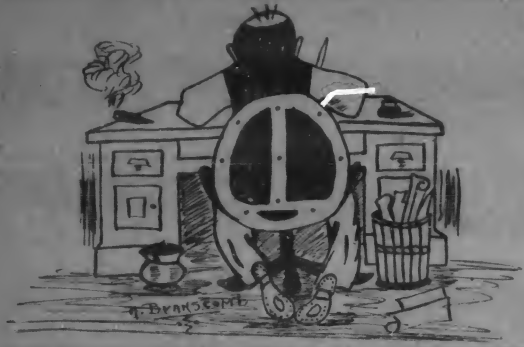

The Panther will play a game with Goodwater of the local court. There has been no definite schedule arranged but there are several other games that will probably be played outside of the City League.

LIBRARIAN IN CALIFORNIA.

Our very popular librarian, Miss Gregory, has been absent from the college for some weeks, having been called to California on account of the illness of her brother. She has written that her brother is not improving rapidly and it is uncertain when she will return. Miss Gregory has been a very great help to the students and they have missed her and will continue to miss her during her absence. They are glad, however, that she can be with her brother at this time and they extend sympathy and sincere wishes for his immediate recovery. Mr. Vaughn Howard of the senior class is the assistant librarian and he has very ably taken charge of the library during Miss Gregory's absence. It is open for use as usual and Mr. Howard also is a great help to the students in directing them in the use of the library.

OUR NEW YEAR.

(Nelson Powers)

A flower unbloomed, a book unread,
A tree with fruit unharvested;
A path untrod, a house whose rooms
Lack yet the heart's divine perfumes;
A landscape whose wide border lies
In silent shade 'neath silent skies;
A wondrous fountain, yet unsealed,
A casket with its gifts concealed.
This is the year that for you waits
Beyond tomorrow's mystic gates.

DO YOU KNOW HIM?

Editorial by Bruce Barton.

Let me introduce you to the most attractive, most delightful young man in the world.

You have never known Him as he really is! All the pictures ever drawn portrayed Him. They have made Him out a weakling, a woman's features with a beard—He who for thirty years swung an ax and drove a saw through heavy timbers, who for long days tramped the borders of His loved lake, and would not sleep indoors if He could slip away into His garden.

An outdoor man He was a man's man who could stand watch when all His friends deserted Him in sleep, and could face the tempest in a little boat calm-eyed and unafraid.

They have called Him a pacifist. How could they forget that day, I wonder, when in the midst of the hard-faced crowd He stood, and braiding a little whip, drove them out before Him?

Think you it was only the glance of righteous anger in His eye that sent them scurrying? I tell you that behind that little whip were muscles of iron, made strong by many years of labor, and a spirit that never once knew fear, not even in the presence of the cross.

I have met men long-faced and sorrowful, wagging their heads bitterly over the evil of the world, and by their very joylessness adding to that evil. And in their hearts they supposed that they were representing Him.

Think of it—representing Him, to whom little children flocked with joyous laughter, and men, beseeching Him to have dinner with them in their homes.

No one ever felt His goodness a cloud upon the company. No one ever laughed less heartily because He had joined the group. His was the gospel of joyfulness; His the message that God of men would have them travel happily with Him, as children by a Father's side, not as servants shuffling behind.

They killed Him, of course, in the end, and sometimes I am almost glad—glad that He died at thirty-three, with youth still throbbing in His veins, and never an illusion lost or an ideal dimmed by age.

Claim Him, you who are young and long life; let no man dispute your claim.

For He too was young, and is; He too loved laughter and life. His age and the crowds have had Him too long. I offer Him now to you—and in creed but in truth—Jesus as He was, the joyous companion, the man who was so young and so long.

EVENING PRAYER SERVICE.

The boarding students, aided and encouraged by members of the faculty, conducted a prayer service each evening during the month of December. There is no doubt that this little prayer service was beneficial to those who came regularly. It was conducted a few minutes each evening immediately after supper, thereby taking no time from study hours. Now that vacation is over we hope the little service will be a bigger success. Fellows, come! Out of twenty-four hours each day can you not devote at least ten minutes to Him through whose providence you are in college?

BY THE WAY

A freshman student remarked wisely that if so much of Prof. Owsley's legs had not been turned up to form his enormous feet, he would easily rank with the tall men of the college! Go on Blue Bird!

Austin Cain, of Co-ed fame, equals the Owenton-Enaley car in speed when, in his slow, drawn-out way, he endeavors to say anything. He was making a valiant effort to recite in History when Paul Norton yelled loudly "Time Out, Fessor!"

A certain Co-ed on the Hill says she would "just love to vamp Miller, if he only had red hair." O, dear! Dye, Miller, die!

Luke McLuke wisely voiced the sentiment of the "he" element of this institution when he remarked that "a fellow don't object to a little powder on a girl's face, but he can't be blamed for refusing to walk down the street with a human marshmallow." Didja ever see one?

The young gentlemen who daily devastate the tables at mess hall learned to highly esteem the dark-complexioned porter, known as Robert, and it was with a throb of deep sorrow to learn of this coon's honorable resignation as "kitchen mechanic" of this Christian institution. It warms my heart, however, to behold the living image of this departed porter in the person of his honorable successor, Robert II, who, if possible, is several shades darker than Robert I. We understand that he uses Two-In-One shoe polish for massage cream. At that he is quite an addition to the kitchen force. Welcome to our city, Snowball.

A school without a Romeo is not a school at all;

To Dana falls the manly lot

Of loving ladies' mail.

'Tis said of him on Friday eve

Towards old West End he wandered, And there per chance fair maid declared.

And his moments squandered.

Smart Young Man—"What do you think of Jones?"

Indignant Old Man—"Jones, sir! He is one of those people that pat you on your back before your face, and hit you in the eye behind your back."—Ex.

A Bird

"Why do you say he is a bird?"
"Well, he is chicken-hearted and pigeon toed, has the habits of an owl, likes to wear a swallow-tailed coat and collars with wings, he is always acting like a goose, and is a perfect jay."

A Tip

C. T. F.—"Are you fond of indoor sports?"
Miss W.—"Yes, if they go home early."

"Tommy—"What are you taking for your cold?"
Glassey—"Make me an offer."

Chick—"If you could see my heart you'd find your name upon it."
Lucy—"Yes—but I'm afraid it would look like a hotel register."

To Latin

Dead are those that wrote it.
Dead are those that spoke it.
And they die, who try to learn it.
Blessed death, they surely earn it.

Prof.—"Are you acquainted with Chaucer?"
Stan—"Aw, you can't kid me. Chaucer's dead."

A Strong Couple

Shannon—"Did you know they had been going together for some time?"
Dudley—"Who?"
Shannon—"Your feet."

"Follows, ain't you kind the songs sung by 'Coley' at chapel haven't got about a million stanzas? He don't leave out nothing, does he?"

After a long mental ramble searching for a good name for the Co-eds' room, we have selected "The Fountain of Youth."

O, dear, the girls go in with "shiny" noses and come out after a round trip, all sweetly powdered and fresh. Sweet essence of toilet water!

Wanted—A dreamy-eyed girl to vamp Katzenstine.

"Oh," whispered Charlie Maxwell, gazing dreamily into the glowing radiator. 'Tis sad.

"A mighty pain to love it is
And 'tis a pain that pain of miss.
But of all the pains, the greatest pain
It is to love, but love in vain."

The regions of West End and Ingle-nook indeed came forth into the limelight of social prominence, during the Howard Ministerial Reception!

Well, we're all here at last and it "warms my heart" to see everybody back again. Gee, but you're all looking fine! Musta had a heap of turkey, 'cause you surely did get fat. That is, most of you did. Francis White weighs 150 since Christmas and Professor Owsley gained 12 pounds and even Sim Neese ain't no slimmer.

How'd you leave all the folks? Fine. I reckon—from the look on your faces. And I see on your fair countenances no trace o' fika said farewell which must have taken place on the doorstep of some fair damsel about last Sunday night. No, don't look lonesome. Keep cheerful, 'cause you can go back again in June—maybe.

June! Think of it. Five months from now. Of course, that seems a long time, but we must be thankful for small blessings. Remember we did get two whole weeks for Christmas and, believe me, we used them to the best advantage, didn't we? Anding for exams "n" everything? I say we did—not. Everybody just had a grand, glorious time, but I'm sorter glad to get back and see all the folks, including the ladies—ain't you?

MISS ROSAMOND ENTERTAINS.

Miss Susie Rosamond entertained a number of her friends at a most enjoyable Christmas party at her home on the evening of December 12. The guests were allowed to choose their own "fun" during the earlier part of the evening, and everyone had a "jolly good time." Later all assembled in the dining room, which was lighted by means of Christmas candles. In the center of the table was a snow covered house. Old Santa had deposited the gifts within and was seen coming out of the chimney. From out the door of the house were red ribbons leading to each plate and at the end of each ribbon was a beautiful hand-painted place card. As each person pulled his ribbon, one of the gifts left by St. Nick came out of the house. A delightful salad course, with sandwiches, coffee, marguerites, mints and stuffed dates was served to Misses Sue Dicken, Maria Saunders, Catherine Williams, Gladys Greene, Susie Rosamond and Mrs. Rosamond; Messrs. D. L. Smith, Cecil Hitchcock, Perry Scrivner, Albert Branscomb, Jack Stuart and Dr. Rosamond.

THE REVUE FOR 1920.

The time draws near when the Revue must go to press, and it is now that we need the support and co-operation of every student to make it a success. It is your book and to make it a true picture of college life at Birmingham-Southern is the goal we aim to reach. The manuscript must go to press on Feb. 1, and we do not want anyone to fail to do his part in making the 1920 Revue a success. If you have something to turn in, do it on time, so that there will be no rush at the last minute. Especially are poetry and jokes welcome, since they are the things that put the spice and life in the book.

If you have not had your picture made, do so at once, for without your picture the annual will not be complete. Without your co-operation, the Revue must be a failure. So do your part—the editors will do theirs, the printers and engravers theirs and the 1920 Revue will surely be a success.

AN AD.

He saw an ad from day to day
And muttered: "I defy it;
Their stuff may be just what they say,
But I'm not going to buy it."
As time wore on he made remarks
It would not do to mention,
For he was mad because that ad
Was forced on his attention.

But in a week, or two, or three,
He said: "There's no denying
The way that ad gets hold of me—
The stuff may be worth trying."
For just about a fortnight more
He dared mere words to win him,
And then the ad completely had Aroused the spender in him.

Next day he drifted in a store
And quietly expended
A few big iron dollars for
The stuff the ad commended.
He found it filled a long-felt need;
Its excellence surprised him,
And now he's glad because the ad
So deftly hypnotized him.

INTERCOLLEGIATE PROHIBITION:
18TS TO SPEND $1,000,000.

To expend $1,000,000 in the next five years for the development of the college prohibition movement in every college and university of the world is the program adopted by the national convention of the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association at Des Moines, Iowa, Monday, January 5th. This program, first worked out in a conference with the leaders of the national prohibition organizations and then approved by the board of directors of the I. P. A., met with the hearty approval of the student convention.

The program includes a continuance of work in the colleges of America for enforcement of law until National Prohibition is a settled fact in the social life of the nation. The Foreign Department plans first a monster memorial-petition from the university students and professors of North America to convey their approval of the idea of national prohibition, this statement to be printed in various languages and sent to students all over the world. A world student magazine in several languages, an international college news service to educational journals, the furnishing of expert organizers and specially selected speakers in countries where anti-liquor sentiment is already advanced, prohibition missionaries to countries where anti-liquor sentiment is small, international oratorical contests, preparations of books and literature and their publication in many languages, and financial aid to native student anti-liquor organizations, are some features of the program.

NEAR EAST RELIEF CONFERENCE

Dr. Seale Harris, State Chairman of the Near East Relief called a conference of all county and city chairmen in Alabama to meet in Birmingham on January 15th, for the purpose of making final plans and preparations for the campaign that will be staged in this state the first two weeks in February for the relief of the starving and suffering peoples of the Near East, Armenia, Syria and adjoining territory.

Among the persons of national prominence who will be present at this conference are Commander John Brookshire, of the United States Navy, Capt. Geo. B. Hyde, M. D., of the United States Army, Mr. Jas. O. Arroll, who spent eighteen months in relief work in the Caucasus while it was the storm center of the world war, Mrs. Florence Spencer Duryea, Secretary of Women's organizations for the Near East Relief, and Mr. John W. Mace, assistant general field secretary of the Near East Relief. Commander Brookshire, Capt. Hyde and Mr. Arroll have all been active in the actual relief work in the Caucasus and Armenia and will bring to the assembled delegates the story of suffering and starvation that comes from this terror-stricken country, which is now calling on the big-hearted people of America for help to keep its people through the winter and until the coming harvest.

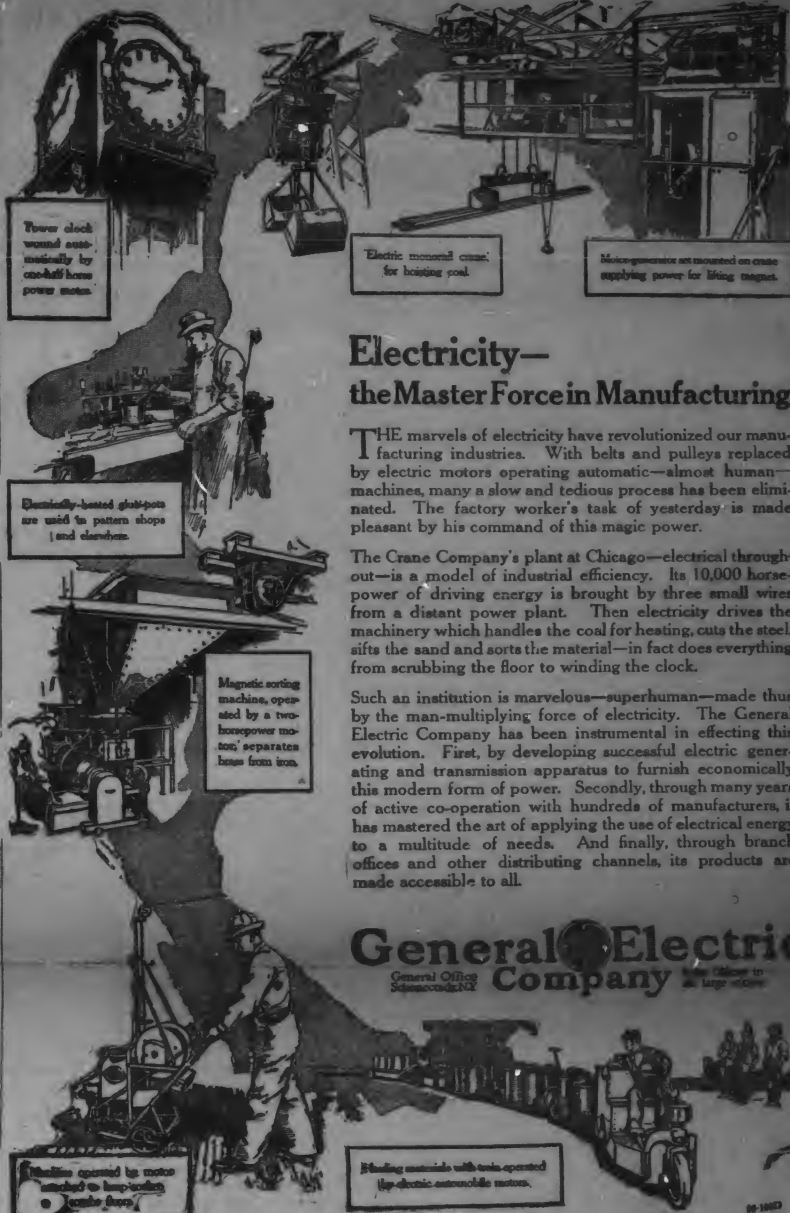

The sessions of the conference will be held at the Tutwiler Hotel in this city, morning, afternoon and evening. Final plans will be made for handling the drive for funds and announcements will be made of the amount that each county and city will be expected to raise for this fund. It is thought that by the time the conference convenes, practically every county will be organized and ready to take up its share of the work, which has the heartiest endorsements of all denominations of the church, as well as the support of fraternal organizations, business organizations, etc.

SORORITY RECEIVES NEW PINS.

The girls of the Tau Delta Sorority are all sporting their pretty pins, which were received several days ago. The pin is a five-sided one with a center of black enamel on which the Greek letters T Δ are blazed.

The sorority has been progressing nicely this year and the girls are to be congratulated for the splendid way in which they have managed affairs.

The Senior Club and literary sections of the High School will meet from 11 o'clock until 12 on Friday hereafter, instead of Friday afternoon. This was done so that students who work in the afternoon might be able to attend.

Electricity—
the Master Force in Manufacturing

THE marvels of electricity have revolutionized our manufacturing industries. With belts and pulleys replaced by electric motors operating automatic—almost human—machines, many a slow and tedious process has been eliminated. The factory worker's task of yesterday is made pleasant by his command of this magic power.

The Crane Company's plant at Chicago—electrical throughout—is a model of industrial efficiency. Its 10,000 horsepower of driving energy is brought by three small wires from a distant power plant. Then electricity drives the machinery which handles the coal for heating, cuts the steel, sifts the sand and sorts the material—in fact does everything from scrubbing the floor to winding the clock.

Such an institution is marvelous—superhuman—made thus by the man-multiplying force of electricity. The General Electric Company has been instrumental in effecting this evolution. First, by developing successful electric generating and transmission apparatus to furnish economically this modern form of power. Secondly, through many years of active co-operation with hundreds of manufacturers, it has mastered the art of applying the use of electrical energy to a multitude of needs. And finally, through branch offices and other distributing channels, its products are made accessible to all.

ALUMNI RUMBLINGS

(TOMMY HANES)

This question will be answered in the J. H. McCoy memorial. Here your investment will function the whole investment. Shall our money already spent be wasted?

Here one thousand will stand sentinel over millions, insuring life and glorious dividends in the lives of thousands of our choicest manhood. Good business!

S. O. KIMBROUGH.

It was recently announced from Montgomery that Pete Jarman of Livingston had been appointed an examiner of public accounts. It is supposed that Jarman will continue to make his home at Livingston but since his duties as an examiner will take him all over the State, his many friends will have the opportunity to see him more frequently than heretofore. We hope that whenever in Birmingham he will make it his pleasure to see our enthusiastic alumni and acquaint himself with the present environs of Birmingham-Southern College. Jarman is Southern University man and has recently been away from the state doing considerable damage to the Fann. He was wounded in action and cited for bravery.

Capt. Richmond P. Hobson, who recently toured Alabama under the auspices of the Anti-Saloon League, left the walls of Southern University many years ago to enter the United States Naval Academy. His record since graduation is well known. He became a national and international hero following his exploit at Santiago. His service in Congress for the Sixth Alabama District for a number of years brought honor to him and many good things for his district. He now lives at Evanston, Ill., but his many friends of his native State always welcome him with outstretched arms in the good work that he is doing.

Congressman John McDevie of the First Alabama District, Congressman S. Hugh Dent of the Second Alabama District and Congressman Tom Hefflin of the Fifth Alabama District represent the Alumni of Birmingham-Southern College in the present United States Congress. Each of these is noted for different talents. McDevie is one of the newer members, this being his first session; Dent who was Chairman of the Military Committee in the last Congress and about whom mention has been made recently in this column, is a veteran of several Congresses and a man with more than a nation-wide reputation; Hefflin is the wit of the Congress and a speaker in great demand wherever the battles of Democracy have to be fought—as a humorous lecturer, he is almost without peer.

HOWARD "THEOS" HOSTS AT PARTY

Tuesday night, December 18, the Howard College Ministerial Association was host to the association of B. S. C. at a splendid entertainment, given in Divinity Hall, Howard College campus.

The hall was artistically decorated,
one room arrayed in gold and black,
though on hostile ground. Introductions were the order of the night. It was an occasion for the sake of acquaintance between the two groups.
There were more than 25 persons present and the crowded rooms rang with merriment. Music and refreshments heightened the good will of the evening.

The ministerial students must score
one for Howard on this proposition.
She was the first to take this step in the direction of the friendly relationship that should be mutual between the colleges, and especially between the ministerial students, in view of the fact that we are schools of the same character and aims. We could not resist the grin, but there was also regret, as we noticed on the walks, by the light of the moon, traces of "color work" done some time ago.
And we felt after meeting and talking with the excellent appearing fellows from Howard that we want to beat them in football, basketball, baseball, oratory, magnificence of parades, etc., and also in politics and sportmanship.

Long live Howard—so long as we can stay a mile ahead.

ECHOES FROM THE PANTHER'S LAIR.

(By Light Gold and Awful Black)

The outlook for the basketball season is not as good as was anticipated before the first game. It appears that the lack of practice and team work has been hampering the team. Some of the players are not taking the interest they should. Basketball is one of the sports that team work only can win and if the Panther wants to win honors in the cage they will have to stick together on the court.

General belief is that there is going to be a free-for-all scrap during the Howard-Panther cage game this year.
Fighting for the honor of your school so to speak, is all right in its place, but although no matter how hard you want to turn a game into a free-for-all, you should restrain yourself and consider the athletic relations of the college, which will undoubtedly be severed with Howard if another free-for-all occurs. We want to continue playing Howard.

We can't help but notice that Coach Chester Dillon, at Howard, has gone to some pains to bring large cage teams from the north down here to play the Bulldog—"seeking new lands to conquer," as it were. We, however, desire to assure him that just as "charity begins at home," so should athletic competition, and the Panther has not yet met the Bulldog.

Red—"I have just been to a lecture on the liver, lungs and heart." Bob—"Aw that wasn't a lecture; that that was an organ recital."

The upstairs store is here to stay!

"Take the EL"

Mister Wisenheimer suggested that if this nice salesroom were on the ground floor we'd get a big volume of trade that now passes us by. Forget it, mister—that's a greedy landlord's argument. We'd like to be getting that big volume, of course, but our first consideration is giving big values—and if we were burdened with exorbitant rent and other useless expenses that go hand in hand with the modern ground-floor store, we'd have to add all that on to our prices, you see. So we'll stay upstairs, thank you—keep right on giving the biggest values in town, and pretty soon we'll be getting the biggest volume in town—if the town's as wise as we believe it is.

GLEE CLUB OF BIRMINGHAM-SOUTHERN COLLEGE

First Tenor: Scrivner, Katzenstein, Morgan, Howell, Moughon, Barnes. Second Tenor: Allgood, Snuggs, Baker, Stansell, White, Burchfield. First Bass: Meyer, Rowe, Riggan, Meigs, Harrison. Second Bass: Branscomb, Bagley, Rice, Davidson.

MRS. FRANK CHAPMAN.

Mrs. Chapman, wife of the late Captain Frank Chapman, who was a former professor in Southern University is living with Dr. C. C. Daniel on the college campus. She is a teacher of French at the Central High School of this city, and is also proving herself a valuable asset to the College Glee Club as its faithful accompanist. We welcome her with open hearts to our circle.

EXAMINATIONS IN FOR FIRST TERM

Clouds of Anxiety Hover Over Hill for Ten Long Days.

For the past two weeks there has been a cloud over the whole school. Everybody looked worried and sleepy and there was hardly a single smile. But the cloud has lifted now, there are many smiles and only the sleepy look remains. A riddle?

Yes, but easily solved. We have just had examinations. And everybody is smiling, even though everybody did not get an A on everything, and even though the grades were posted. We are just so glad they are over that we hardly realize that we have as much to do now as ever.

Examinations began on Wednesday, January 21, and continued through January 30, each department being given one day.

The new term began Monday, February 2. Regular work was resumed immediately and everything is now going on peacefully as before.

We are glad to see so many new students—Co-eds and otherwise. We know that we shall like you, and we are going to make you like Birmingham-Southern. We have a fine school out here with plenty of quality. All we need is the quantity, and we are getting that fast. Of course the mid-term never brings as many students as the new year in September, but we have gained some good material. We regret that our reception of new students this year cannot be as warm as it has been in the past, but even if it has been "rattled," we assure you that you are, nevertheless, as the Irish say, a thousand times welcome.

SPLENDID TALK GIVEN BY COFFIN

Mr. Coffin of Indiana Pays Tribute to Literary Societies.

One of the most interesting talks heard by the students of Birmingham-Southern this year was delivered in the College Chapel Wednesday morning by Mr. Coffin, of Indiana.

Mr. Coffin compared the human body to an automobile, and the mind to the battery, which supplies the electricity. He also compared the college, where the mind is developed, to the store house, where electricity is generated. He then went on to say that although a person had a fine education, it would do him little good without a strong physical body. He said that for twenty years he had taken exercise every morning and exertion of any kind did not tire him in the least. But to my mind the best part of his talk was when he urged upon every student the necessity of being able to stand upon his feet and explain to an audience his thoughts upon a subject. That although a man might be well educated, he could not put his education to the best advantage, unless he could express his thoughts, either by speaking or writing.

In order to show that every student could learn to speak to an audience, he gave an account of his own experiences. When he was in his freshman year at college he was put on the program at a Literary Society meeting. When he got up to speak he failed, and the audience laughed at him. But he remembered having heard the statement, "That he who has courage to fail can learn to speak before an audience." He had the courage to fail and failed fourteen times during his college course. But perseverance triumphed and in his senior year he won, not only the state oratorical contest, but the inter-state oratorical contest. He closed his talk by expressing a hope that every student in the audience would attend a Literary Society and have the courage to fail.

INFLUENZA VISITS SUNSHINE SLOPES

Strikes Hill and Almost as Suddenly Disappears.

The flu epidemic suddenly struck Birmingham-Southern on Wednesday, January 28th, and claimed, in all, 27 victims, but has almost as suddenly disappeared, as only seven cases were reported to be in the hospital a week later, Wednesday.

When it was learned by the authorities that several of the boys had the flu, steps were immediately taken to prevent any further spread of the disease. The upper floor of Middle Hall was transformed into a temporary hospital, and two nurses were secured to take charge. All students with any fever were transferred to the hospital under the care of the trained nurses. Dr. E. P. Green, the college physician, attended the boys.

Six of the most severe cases of the influenza were carried to hospitals in the city, where all are rapidly recuperating, according to the last reports received from them.

In attempting to isolate the sick students and in caring for those already sick, Prof. J. M. Malone, principal of the high school, and Mrs. Joe G. Reynolds, the matron, were both taken sick. Prof. Malone is again at work, while Mrs. Reynolds has not fully recuperated.

It is thought that the epidemic of the dreaded Spanish disease has been practically stamped out, as only two new cases have been noted since Sunday. The situation has been well in hand for almost a week, and some of the flu patients who have recovered are mourning the fact that the two good looking nurses will soon leave the Hill for lack of patients (patience).

GLEE CLUB MAKES ITS INITIAL TOUR

Twenty-One Men to Leave on Trip February 23.

The Glee Club will leave for its first trip of the year on the morning of February 23, and will be away one week. Concerts will be given at Fayette, Vernon, Sulligent, Guin, Hamilton and Jasper. About twenty-one fellows are to make the trip, nine of whom were members of last year's club, and two of the 1916 club. It has been stated that the club of last year was one of the best in the south and we are striving to have its equal this year. The outlook for the success of this year's club is very bright and we are very fortunate in having back in the quartet two old members of last year, Scrivner and Branscomb, and Allgood and Myer to fill the two vacancies. The songs of the quartet is a very interesting feature of the Glee Club program. Another part of much interest is that of the soloists. Scrivner, Branscomb, and Dr. Richardson. Mr. Scrivner possesses a beautiful tenor voice, and enunciates very clearly and distinctly. Mr. Branscomb has a rich, resonant basso of much warmth of tone and of more than ordinary range. Everyone knows Dr. Richardson. He has by his work as director, singer and reader won an enviable place among the musicians of Alabama. He is a soloist of marked ability, possessing a tenor voice which is clear, resonant, of great flexibility, very pleasing and expressive.

Dr. Richardson is very fond of music and loves to do anything pertaining to it. As Glee Club Director, he has proven his ability, and his heart is in every phase of the work, desiring to make it a success. He is loved and honored by every member of the club and he makes scores of friends on every trip. The members have renewed their enthusiasm since the examinations, and are working very diligently in the preparation of the program. With every member working ambitiously for the production of a club equal to that of last year, success is sure.

ANCIENT RIVALS AGAIN IN LUCK

Howard's Bulldogs Wallop the Panther by Count of 33 to 15.

Tuesday night, February 4th, Howard's Bulldog jumped over the back fence, sunk his teeth into the Birmingham College Panther and hung on till the air was full of howls and hair. In other words Howard walloped the daylights out of her ancient rival in a basketball argument pulled at the Central "Y" by a count of 33 to 15.

Despite the intense rivalry between the two aggregations the affair was cleanly played from start to finish and members of both crews proved themselves true sportsmen. Of course an element of roughness predominated but nothing dirty was injected into the squabble.

Howard drew first blood, registering a field goal on two passes after the kickoff. Thereafter the Bulldogs held the lead and at no time during the squabble did the Methodist wax dangerous. The winners hung up 12 points before their rivals even broke the ice. The first period ended 14 to 3 with Coach Dillon's boys doing most of the smiling.

The old time pep, dash and fight which has been characteristic of Panther teams since the first Methodist crew entered an intercollegiate contest was sadly lacking Tuesday night. Their listless playing during the early part of the encounter like the fatal one in November was in a large way responsible for them getting bumped off the limb.

Birmingham Outplayed.
Howard clearly outplayed Birmingham in every department of the game. Bulldog forwards took better aim at the goals and Bulldog guards hung to their men with more tenacity than the Methodists.

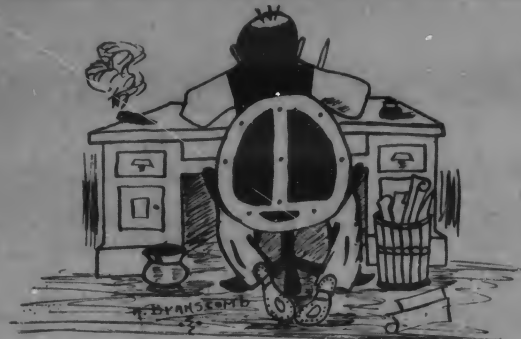

Birmingham attempted to pull a come-back in the second period but the fighting spirit had been dormant too long to be awakened in a few minutes. It is true that an element of luck percolated into the battle and lined up against the Panthers. Time

DEATH.

"A human soul went forth into the night,
Shutting behind it death's mysterious door,
And shaking off with strange, restless might
The dust that once it wore,
So swift its flight, so suddenly it sped—
As when by skillful hand a bow is bent
The arrow flies—those watching 'round the bed Marked not the way it went.
"Through the clear silence of the moonless dark,
Leaving no footprint on the road it trod,
Straight as an arrow cleaving to its mark
The soul went home to God.
They cried, he never saw the

But fell asleep outwearied with the strife.
Nay, rather, he arose and met the dawn
Of everlasting life."

LIBRARY.

Students of Birmingham-Southern College have access to the College library of 15,000 volumes and the city library of 70,000 volumes, to both of which new books are being constantly added.

In the College library the shelving is so arranged as to give the students free access to the books. Upon the tables in the reading room are to be found scores of periodicals, among which are the following: Alabama Christian Advocate, American Magazine, American Historical Review, Atlantic Monthly, Biblical World, Bookman, Carry On, Century, Current Opinion, Education, Educational Administration and Supervision, Educational Review, Harper's Magazine, History Teachers' Magazine, International Journal of Ethics, Journal of Political Economy, Library Journal, Literary Digest, Methodist Review, Modern Philology, McClure's Magazine, National School Life, National Educational Association's Periodicals and Addresses, Nation, Nashville Christian Advocate, New Republic, New York Christian Advocate, Outlook, Philosophical Review, Physical Culture, Popular Science Monthly, Publications of the Modern Languages Association of America, Raleigh Christian Advocate, Saturday Evening Post, School Science and Mathematics, School and Society, Southern's, Sewanee Review, South Atlantic Quarterly, The Voice, The World's Outlook, The World Tomorrow, World's Work, Youth's Companion.

The College employs a trained librarian, who assists the students in the general use of the library, and renders special assistance to the literary societies and to those who may be collecting material for essays or

NEW CO-EDS.

With the coming of each new term there is always an addition of new Co-eds to both the college and high school. There have been only a few to leave us during the past term and we have more Co-eds at present than we have ever had before. The Co-eds' quarters are rather crowded at present, but there is no protesting. We are indeed glad to have everyone of them with us, and we sincerely hope that they will remain with us during the entire term.
The new girls in the college are: Misses Lou Sloan, Lorena Norton, Amelia Jackson and Leral Emerson. In the high school there are: Misses Pauline Godwin, Mary Anderson, Myrtle Painter, Kathleen Montgomery and Telulah Rose Love.
Here's to the new girls. May success and happiness attend them—and all the joys of college life be theirs.

ORGANIZATION OF LOCAL FRATERNITY.

A rumor has been circulated that plans are under way for the founding of a local fraternity among both the frat and non-frat men of this school. The organizer is a new man to us but he has had a year at college and is a member of a national fraternity. He has, for some years, been acquainted with Dr. Daniel, who has given his approval to the movement.
The organization will take place at once in order that it may be included in the "Revue."

THE SPINALE COLUMNE

The Backbone of Our Paper

Beauregard don't go to Chappell any more. Maybe he has Boyles on his heart.

After "Coop" graduates he will still be "Green."

Don't ever think you can "get by" by laughing at the "fessor's" jokes. We have tried that—and failed.

It seems that Prof. Hawkins has chosen as his motto the slogan of the American Doughboys: "They shall not pass."

The boarding students are required to "obtain a permit" when they go to town. What do they have to do if they want to go to Pratt City? GIVE ME LIBERTY OR GIVE ME DEATH!

Who were the men who were going to give a "day" towards beautifying the campus at the beginning of the term.

Instead of writing "Intimations of Immortality," one English "B" student wrote "Imitations of Immortality." Still they live and thrive!

This advice was received by some of the students during Exams: "Pass, pass honestly if you can, but PASS."

ANY LIGHTER?

Postoffice Clerk (in the country of fice in west of Ireland): "Here, your letter is over-weight."

Pat: "Over what weight?"

Clerk: "It's too heavy; you'll have to put another stamp on it."

Pat: "Yerra, get out wid your fool-in'. Shure, if I put another stamp on it, won't it be heavier still?"

EASY TO FIND.

A Kansas newspaper told a sad tale of a woman who advertised some fine Plymouth Rock hens for sale. She made the advertisement sound so good that the hens were stolen the next night.

A rival county seat paper said the thief should be easy to apprehend—that the paper in which the advertisement appeared did not have much of a circulation.

IDEAS CARRIED OUT.

The managing editor wheeled his chair around and pushed the button for the office boy.

"Here," he said to the youthful factotum, "are a number of directions from subscribers as to the best way to run a newspaper. See that these ideas are all carried out."

And Jimmy, gathering them all into the editorial waste basket, did so.

THE MAJORITY WON.

A physician came across a patient while strolling through the grounds of a hospital for the insane, and, stopping, spoke to him. After a brief conversation on conventional topics the physician said: "Why are you here?" "Simply a difference of opinion," replied the patient. "I said all men were mad, and all men said I was mad—and the majority won."

CREAMED ONIONS.

As I see thee here before me,
Lying silent, white and still,
Dread terror steals upon me,
My blood is cold and still.

For, in spite of creamy whiteness
And in spite of aspect meek,
Thou can't not fool me, for I know
I'll taste thee for a week.

AND THEY DID.

Said an Irish leader: "Min, ye are on the verge of battle. Will ye fight or will ye run?"

"We will!" came a chorus of eager replies.

"Which will ye do?" says he.

"We will not," says they.

"Thank ye, me min," says he; "I thought ye would."

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Miss Catherine Williams has just had a birthday and she entertained a number of her friends at her home in West End in celebration of this occasion. The young hostess had intended that the purpose of the party be kept a secret until the guests arrived. But she had no surprise for them. Instead they found out her secret and had a great surprise for her. They discovered that it was Beauregard Bagley's birthday, also, and they planned to celebrate accordingly. Each guest brought a gift with an appropriate note attached, which notes were to be read as the gifts were unwrapped. There was much laughter as the funny notes were read and the gifts, such as whistles, dolls, ties, etc., were displayed.

Soon all went into the dining room where a beautiful white cake with candles adorned the center of the table. The place cards were blue birds to which were attached blue ribbons, leading from the center of the cake. To the end of each ribbon was tied a small favor wrapper in a prophecy for each guest. The prophecies were read, the cake cut to find the thimble, button, etc., and candles blown to see who was the first to be married.

Those whom Miss Williams so delightfully entertained were Misses Gady Green, Susie Rosamond, Mrs. Bessie Barry, Messrs. Beauregard Bagley, Albert Branscomb, Dana White, Francis White and Mr. and Mrs. Williams.

HOWARD BULLDOGS WIN.

and time again Methodist forwards threw what seemed certain goals only to have the ball spin dizzily on the basket rim, hesitate for one heart-rending second and then slide off to the outside. Birmingham had eight more could not come through with the necessary stuff.

Bulldog passwork was brilliant and seemed to bewilder the Panthers. It was Howard's first victory and Coach Dillon's men showed a complete reversal of form as compared with that of their appearance here several weeks ago when they tackled the Chicago "Y."

In picking stars Tuesday night, the cynosure of all eyes was O. B. Newman, hefty and speedy Bulldog center. O. B. stood head and shoulders above anything else on the floor. His performance was of the superbrilliant variety and indelibly stamped him as the best man on the floor.

Gifford Alford, Bulldog guard, was in the affair with large hunks of pep and fight. The big boy's spectacular work on the defense was in a large way responsible for the Panther downfall.

For Birmingham-Southern, Mike Norton, Tanlac Burney and Greek Griffin were probably the best sets. Norton, captain of the quint, had the best intentions in the world but Bulldog guards watched him so closely that he was almost helpless. Burney got a heavy bump against the floor during the first half and after that the doughty little forward was lost. Though knocked almost dizzy, he staid through the whole route. Griffin displayed a large bunch of fight at guard and was in the game from start to finish.

The summary follows:

Howard College (33)—Forwards, D. Newman (12) and Walker (4); center, O. B. Newman (17); guards, Alford and Austin; substitutions, Ingram for Walker, Mobley for Acton, Wright for W. D. Newman, Knight for Alford.

Birmingham-Southern College (15)—Forwards, Norton (captain) (12) and Burney (6); center, Gandy (4); guards, Green and Griffin (3). Substitutions, Bagley for Green.

Referee—Prof. Young.

After watching the antics of the practitioners on the baseball diamond while, one generally inquires of "Rat" Gomez's right arm is useless in catching a ball. "Both hands while learning," Gomez.

AMERICAN ENCYCLOPEDIA

The college librarian announces to the delight of the students that 24 volumes of the new edition of the American Encyclopedia have been received, and are on the shelves in the reference room crying to be used in reference work.

The books are splendidly bound and the leaves are composed of a fine grade of paper. The entire set is not yet off the press, so the complete set of encyclopedia will not be on hand at present.

It is with pleasure that we note one of the contributors to be our professor of Modern Languages, John H. Cornyn, who has for a number of years been Latin-American editor for this encyclopedia. His articles are written in a scholarly style which reveal the insight and knowledge Prof. Cornyn has gleaned, both from experience and research, concerning the Latin-American countries.

He is a valuable member of the college faculty.

MISS GREEN ENTERTAINS.

Some of the college folks were very delightfully entertained at the home of Miss Gladys Green last Friday evening at a Leap Year party. Decorations for the occasion were cupids and hearts and carnations which carried out the Valentine idea in a color scheme of red and white.

The boys were each given a paper heart and several mittens which they gave as they chose to the young ladies who proposed to them. The young lady who received the most hearts was given the honor of being married to the young gentleman who kept his heart the longest. But the lady was the groom and the gentleman carried a shower bouquet of cabbage, onions and radishes. A girl was the preacher, also Mr. Branscomb sang "The Sunshine of Your Smile," accompanied by Miss Dicken. Mr. R. J. Rowe played the wedding march.

Delicious refreshments were served to Misses Gladys and Annie Lee Green, Mrs. Green and Misses Annie Louise Moon, Catherine Williams, Susie Rosamond, Sue Dicken and Messrs. Paul Norton, Jack Stuart, Albert Branscomb, Robert Rowe and Beauregard Bagley.

Some Advantages of Railroad Electrification

- Saving the Nation's coal
- Lower maintenance costs.
- Greater reliability and fewer delays.
- Ability to haul smoothly heavier trains at higher speed.
- Operation of electric locomotives unaffected by extreme cold.
- Ability to brake trains on descending grades by returning power to the trolley.

The Power of Electricity
in Transportation

ELECTRICITY has leveled out the Continental Divide. The steam locomotive, marvelous as it is after a century of development, cannot meet all of the present demands for transportation facilities. Its electric rival has proved to be far superior.

On the mountain divisions of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway—the world's greatest electrification—giant electric locomotives soak up an ever increasing freight tonnage over the mile-high Rockies and also make traveling clean and comfortable. They utilize the abundant energy of distant waterfalls and then, by returning some of this power to the trolley, safely brake the trains on descending grades. And their capabilities are not impaired by excessively cold weather when the steam engine is frozen and helpless.

Electricity is the power which drives the trains of New York City's subway and elevated systems. It operates the locks and tows the ships through the Panama Canal. It propels the Navy's latest super-dreadnaught, the New Mexico. Electric mine locomotives have replaced the slow-moving mule and the electric automobile has also come to do an important service. Such achievements were made possible by the extensive research and manufacturing activities of the General Electric Company.

Electricity has become the universal motive power. It has contributed efficiency and comfort to every form of transportation service and in this evolution General Electric apparatus has played a large part—from mighty electric locomotives to the tiny lamp for the automobile.

ALUMNI RUMBLINGS

(TOMMY HANES)

Congressman S. Hugh Dent, of Montgomery, chairman of the Military Committee of the United States House of Representatives in the last Congress, and now ranking Democratic member since the House went into Republican control, is a prominent and influential Alumnus. His reputation is not only nation-wide, but we have serious suspicions that he may be known even as far as Berlin. The German government does not think very highly of our friend, Mr. Dent, who directed affairs under his control with much pleasure to his friends and discomfort and disaster to the German demons.

R. V. Allgood, principal of the Avondale School of Birmingham, is one of the local alumni that we ought to know. He goes about his work quietly and unassuming, but with diligence and ability, thereby being known, not only locally but over the state, as one of its best educators.

It is almost impossible to associate in Methodist circles in our beautiful capital city of Montgomery without hearing the praises of Rev. J. Fletcher McLeod, pastor of Perry Street Methodist Church, sung out loud and strong. He is at present erecting a beautiful brick and stone church that will grace the section of pretty homes where it is located. In addition to being a pastor of note, he and Mrs. McLeod boast of a great big fat boy by the name of Lionel Powers McLeod. This makes the third child in the family and graced this good pastor's home last June, the twenty-third day.

Montgomery Alumni are anticipating a great time next fall when they hope to see our football squad in action there against Auburn. While the game is not yet completely arranged for, yet the hopes are high and our boys there expect to see football played again in that city. There has been a football famine in Montgomery for several years, and both our Alumni and Auburn Alumni are interested in staging this game there.

We have some sixty or more Alumni in Montgomery, among them Congressman S. Hugh Dent; all of the resident preachers in addition to the nation-wide evangelist, Bob Jones; leading business men as J. R. Gamble of the Tullis-Gamble Hardware Co.; J. M. Chatfield, of Chatfield's Drug Store; Albert C. Davis, ex-President of the Chamber of Commerce and

"chief mogul" of the Montgomery Lime and Cement Company, specializing in concrete sites for the farmers of Alabama; W. Pierce Chilton, who is the Paragon Press, one of the leading printing concerns of Alabama; E. P. Flowers, of the E. P. Flowers Lumber Co.; M. S. Belser, of the Belser Grocery Company, a leading wholesale grocer; traveling men, as J. I. Chilton and Clarence M. Dannelly, President of our Alumni Association; such professional men as R. E. Ledbetter, state supervisor of rural schools; Judge Henry P. Merritt, of the Court of Appeals; Judge Malcolm S. Carmichael, referee of bankruptcy in the Federal Court; Dr. W. Wallace McGeehe, prominent physician; M. H. Pearson, professor of Mathematics and vice-principal of Sidney Lanier High School; L. E. Williams, professor of Mathematics in the Woman's College of Alabama, and Hon. W. J. Fuller, lawyer. We may expect much from Montgomery in the way of support with this bunch of prominent fellows. This list does not include the breaking younger blood who furnish the backbone of our student body. We may expect to hear of them later.

INTERSTATE CHARACTER EDUCATION METHODS RESEARCH.

Owing to the great need for character education in the public schools in the United States a commission, consisting of four hundred and thirty-two selected professional educators, nine in each state, has been appointed for the purpose of studying to discover, if possible, improved methods for educating the character of children in our public schools. Dr. R. F. Cooper, of Birmingham-Southern College, has been appointed one of the nine collaborators from Alabama. The work of the commission is one of great importance and deals direct with the most fundamental need of our public school system and of our nation today. Let us wish the commission God-speed in this most important work!

PERSONAL.

Dr. C. U. Daddie conducted a teacher-training class in the Camden Methodist Sunday school, and sessions were held each afternoon and night.—Camden Journal.

Jose Romano has gone! He returned to his home in Cuba several days ago and his many friends miss him a lot.

A. T. O. CONVENTION IN OHIO.

Jim Baty represented the local chapter of Alpha Tau Omega at the recent Congress of the fraternity held at Cleveland, Ohio. He reported that the national meeting of the A. T. O.'s was the greatest and most enthusiastic in the history of the fraternity, and that a royal welcome was received from the frat brothers of Ohio's metropolis.

Jim ambled back to the old hill about a week after his scheduled arrival, glad to get back, but stating that he had the time of his life on his return trip, having visited Lieut. Earl E. Hodges in Rochester. Lieut. Hodges will be remembered as the popular commanding officer of the S. A. T. C. unit here last year, and according to Jim's reports he is even a more wonderful host than he is a commanding officer—which is going some!

REVUE PICTURES TAKEN.

Dressed up! Goodness! Everyone on the "Hill" has been looking his best for the past few days. Why, they've been having their pictures made, of course. For a whole week De Luxe has been a very popular place with Birmingham-Southern folks. An individual picture of every student and professor in college and the Senior Class of the High School has been made for the 1920 Revue. Then, there have been about a dozen group pictures made of the various organizations such as the Societies, Clubs and Teams. Among the Clubs organized on the "Hill" are such famous ones as the "Happy Go Lucky, Jazz Babies," "I. W. W." (I Won't Work), and the "No Mo" (Noble Order of Ministers' Offsprings). All this and more is being done to help make a success of our 1920 Revue. Do your part!

LIBRARIAN RETURNS.

We are very glad that our Librarian, Miss Lillian Gregory, who for some weeks has been in California, on account of the illness of her brother, has returned. However, we regret very much the death of her brother, Rev. O. S. Gregory, who was a former student of Birmingham College. His remains were brought back to Birmingham and interment was made at Elmwood cemetery. We sympathize very much with Miss Gregory in her loss and as she has always been so willing and ready to help us, let us be considerate of her in a time when it is most needed.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE GAME.

On January 16 the Co-eds Basketball team were defeated by Woman's College in a very interesting game, played on the gymnasium of Woman's College. Although the home team had the advantage of age and experience, the Co-eds made a game fight, and the fact must be taken into consideration that for almost four years these girls have played together, while on the other hand, the Co-eds have played together for about four weeks.

The most striking feature of the game was the team work and pass work of the Woman's College team.

Those starring for Woman's College were: Misses Pugh, Cochran and L. Branscomb. For Birmingham-Southern: Misses E. Branscomb, Thelma Stacy and Harriet Chappell.

The score by periods was as follows:

First period, B. S. C., 2; W. C., 24.
Second period, B. S. C., 1; W. C., 13.
Third period, B. S. C., 0; W. C., 24.
Total, B. S. C., 3; W. C., 61.

Referee, Mr. Coxwell. Umpire, Mr. F. Owsley.

The line-up for Birmingham-Southern was as follows: Janie Grace, Elizabeth Branscomb, forwards; Opheila Pearson, Thelma Stacy, guards; Sara Pritchett, center guard and Harriet Chappell, jumping center. Substitutes: Marie Newsum, center guard; Nelle Waldrip, forward; Wanda Aldridge, guard.

S. A. E. CONVENTION IN ATLANTA.

Several weeks ago delegates of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity from Alabama, Georgia and Florida met in the private dining room of the Piedmont Hotel.

The Chapters were represented as follows:

University of Alabama—Tram Sessions and Bill Moore.

Auburn—Lyons Bradley and Beasley.

Birmingham-Southern—Jack Stuart.

University of Georgia—Torrance and Mallard.

Georgia Tech—Bob Jones (Golf Shark)—Garlington.

Mercer—Jackson.

Emory University—Wilson and Richardson.

University of Florida—Williams and Huff.

The convention, which was presided over by James A. Stimpson of Birmingham, was most successful, more business being transacted than at any previous time.

GLEE CLUB MAKES SUCCESSFUL TOUR

Towns Visited Very Cordial and Appreciative to Club

The Birmingham-Southern College Glee Club returned on the morning of February 29, from a very successful tour over West Alabama. The club was unable to visit Fayette and Vernon, as expected, on account of the severity of the Influenza epidemic, but nevertheless Suligent, Hamilton, Guin, and Jasper were visited and great success came from each concert. A large and appreciative audience was present at each place, especially at Hamilton, where a very warm contest in the sale of tickets took place before the coming of the club. The club was very fortunate in having the opportunity to be under the entertainment supervision of three Southern University and Birmingham College alumni principals: Mr. Ira Pegues of Suligent; Mr. Chappelle of Hamilton; and Mr. J. A. Moore of Jasper. These men were especially kind and generous to the club, and did their utmost to please their visitors in every way, and I am sure that they won the friendship of each member of the club. Although inclement weather was somewhat against the attendance at Jasper, the manager, Mr. Albert Branscomb, reports an almost even balance of proceeds and expenses of the trip.

The club seemed to have a very cordial welcome at every town visited, and the people of them were very anxious to give each member the best entertainment possible. Nothing seemed to please the fellows more than the genuine southern hospitality of the people, and they still retain the most pleasant memories of delicious country ham, eggs, chickens, and butter served them. This reminded them of home and the good old times by the fireside. Dr. Richardson, the Director, and Miss Elliott, the Accompanist, seemed to enjoy themselves very much, and their sociability and courteousness won them many friends wherever they went. The boys tried to be congenial and sociable wherever they went, and their slogan was "entertain new acquaintances." Some carried this out very successfully, and seemingly lovely and we are very fortunate in not losing a single man. The members of the club proved themselves to be true representatives of their Alma Mater, and we trust that many friends were made, not only of the fellows, but also, of the college they represent. The club feels that it is doing a good work and it desires the cooperation of every student in order to make the following tours even more successful than the past one.

THE Y. M. C. A. A LIVE ORGANIZATION.

During the past few weeks the Young Men's Christian Association has been doing a great work among the students. A noon and evening prayer meeting are being held on the campus, open to all, and many previously indifferent students are becoming very much interested in the meetings. A constitution has been secured, and at a recent meeting of the organization the following new officers were elected: President, M. C. Abromble; Vice-President, C. D. Matthews; Secretary and Treasurer, W. P. Snuggs. In completing the organization the following committees were appointed: Social, Miss Harriett Chappell; Membership, P. D. Scrivner; Religious Meetings, S. L. Morgan; Bible Study, P. G. Rice; Athletics, R. B. Bagley; Missionary, J. M. Metcalf. A meeting will be held and a program rendered each Thursday evening, and a short service will be arranged for each Sunday afternoon. With this complete organization of pious workers and revived interest, the influence of the Y. M. C. A. should not only yield a golden harvest among the students, but also among their communities.

CONSIDERS SELF CLARIOS SEEKING MEAT OF RIVALS

Propaganda Pro and Con Fills Air On College Hill.

For several weeks the most important question before the students of Birmingham-Southern College has been that of Student Government. At a mass meeting held week before last, Howard Yelding was elected temporary chairman; and a motion was made and adopted that one chapel period out of each week should be set aside for the discussion of this important question.

The first talk concerning this matter was given by Mr. G. Lewis Bailey, last Wednesday morning. Mr. Bailey, last graduate of the University of Alabama, where he was a member of the Student's Council, which showed that he had had a good deal of experience with Student Government, and was highly in favor of it. Mr. Bailey said that Student Government would make the students more democratic, and would consequently better fit them for their future career.

He then went on to say that the students were capable of writing their constitution and of governing themselves. If they should make a mistake in the constitution it would be better for them to find it out from experience than for the faculty to draw a line through it. He said that since the University of Alabama had had Student Government neither the faculty nor the students had had cause to regret it, and he did not believe that we would.

GLEE CLUB AT THE SEMINARY.

February 20, the Glee Club gave its maiden concert of the year at the Louie Compton Seminary to a very appreciative audience.

The members of the club desire to express their deep gratitude to Miss Morton for her efforts to make the concert a success, and also for the enjoyable reception in honor of the club after the program.

THE "CHEEK" OF HER.

From Both: (Silence).
From Him: "Is it all over?"
From Her: "No, just a little bit on your shoulder."

Speakers and Debaters For Commencement Bouts Elected.

At the regular meeting of Monday, February 2, the Clariosophic Literary Society elected class speakers for the commencement contests as follows: Senior class, Sig Levi; Junior, J. R. Duncan; Sophomore, P. D. Scrivner and Gerwin Myer; Freshman, W. N. Dark and George R. Stuart, Jr. At the following meeting, March 1, the society chose J. M. Baty and L. V. Howard as commencement debaters. Howard was one of the teams who triumphed over the Belles Lettoes in debate during the fall term of last year. These speakers were literally picked, and the Clarios are on firm foundations as they look forward with hope for a recurrence of the results of last commencement, when they took the honors in every instance except one.

Contestants for the Ladies' Debate to take place in the high school auditorium the third Friday night in this month have also been selected. They are: Debaters, W. N. Dark, Ernest Cleverdon, H. G. Moseley, and P. D. Scrivner; declaimers, J. M. Metcalf and A. B. Davidson. There will also be an orator for the occasion, in all probability an alumnus. The name "Ladies' Debate" comes from the fact that the judges are to be ladies. This night is to initiate the working of a new rule whereby two such occasions will be given each year, one the first Friday night in December, and the other as just said. Ladies' Debates were a regular part of the year's work of the Clario Society at Southern University, but conditions have made them impracticable in the society's new home up to this time. The occasion will be public, and students and the general public are cordially invited.

The Clarios recently drew up and adopted a constitution suited to the peculiar needs found at B. S. C. They have started out with freshened interest. They intend to work in the direction of making the literary society what it as yet has seemingly failed to become in full measure—a helpful, delightful and powerful factor of our college life.

Democracy is: "You are as good as I am." Not: "I am as good as you."

BASKET BALL HAS PASSED AWAY

Howard Wins Second Game of Series With the Plucky Panther.

In the last important game of the basketball schedule, the Panthers met the Howard College Bulldogs in one of the hottest games of the season. The final score was 16 to 12, a Bulldog victory.

The Panthers entered the arena with odds against them, but determined to fight to the last. Odds were heavily in favor of the Bulldogs.

The Panthers started the game with a rush. The first five minutes brought no results. Both teams were on their toes and watching their opponents closely. Then Paul Norton, the plucky Panther captain, took a shot at the goal from a difficult angle with about three Bulldog men on his back. The ball hesitated a moment and then fell through the hoop.

The Panther backers let out a terrific yell. Groans arose from the Howard stands.

This lead was short lived, however, for O. B. Newman dropped one into the basket tying the score. Howard then surged ahead two more goals followed Newman's. With their usual tenacity and fight, however, the Panthers tied the score. Clyde Propst and Mike Norton, each gave the ball a trip through the basket.

The first half ended with the score 6 to 6.

The second half showed great prospects for the Panthers. Before the Bulldogs could get set Mike Norton had shot two more field goals. The Bulldogs tied the score, but Greek Griffin put another one through the hoop, giving the Panthers the lead. The Bulldogs, however, came back with three goals, two by W. D. Newman and one by O. B. Newman, and the game ended in the Bulldogs' favor.

The stars are hard to pick. There were five Panther stars on the floor all during the game.

But probably among the first Tom Frank Vardaman should be mentioned. His guarding was a big feature in the game. Although much lighter than any man on the Howard team, Vardaman showed more class than any man on the Bulldog team, outside of O. B. Newman. Vardaman came to Birmingham-Southern this year without the least experience in basketball. He went out however, and stuck to it. He managed to get into a few scrub games and his improvement impressed Coach Brown so that he was carried on the last road trip. He played a game and a half on the trip, including a half against Alabama. He continued to do better work in each game, but he startled the Panther student body by his work in the Howard game. He guarded W. D. Newman with bulldog tenacity and it was not until he was taken out in the latter part of the second half that W. D. Newman shot the two goals that beat the Panthers.

Mike Norton comes next, his shots rarely went wild and the nearness of some of them were distressingly close, not to be good.

B. S. C. CO-EDS PLAY AUBURN CO-EDS.

On February 28th, the Co-ed Panthers were defeated by the Co-ed Tigers in a very interesting game by a score of 25 to 6. The Auburn girls had the Birmingham girls beat in shooting goals, but the Birmingham girls showed much better pass work and team work. "here were really no stars in the game" The lineup for Birmingham-Southern was as follows:

Janie Grace .....Forward.
Harriet Chappell .....Jumping Center
Sara Pritchett .....Side Center
Ophelia Pearson .....Guard
Thelma Stacy .....Guard
Substitutions—Stacy for Grace; Grace for Pritchett; Pritchett for Stacy.

CURTAIN RISES ON BASEBALL AGAIN

Some of Best Material in Years Among Candidates For Nine.

The great asbestos curtain in the amphitheater of sports again has been lowered for the setting of the stage for another act. Slowly, to the tune of doleful music, it shut out the remembrances of a adverse season of basketball and the Panther, bold but battle scarred, turned again slowly from that stage and faced another horizon over which the sun is beginning to rise. The basketball has been stored away. The Panther today is oiling up its gloves and mitts, digging into its store room after balls, and getting ready for the third act in the great sports play. This act is entitled: "Baseball."

Some of the best material in years are among the candidates for the nine. Just who is going out, and who is not, is hard at present to decide on account of the prematurity of the season. However it seems pretty certain that there will be at least five pitchers: Raymond Hodge, "Hatchet" Evans, "Sophie Malone, Crew and Speer. Outside of Sophie Malone the mounds-men are unknown ability. Rumor has it, however that Crew and Speer are two good men. Malone twirled last year. Evans is said to have plenty of speed. Hodge looks like a good one, but is also new.

The infield positions will be the scenes of much competition. Jack Stuart, first-sacker of the last year's nine, H. O. Johnston and "Coop" Green are out for short. Stuart showed some good stuff last year. He will play short if unable to land the initial bag. H. O. Johnston seems to be a bright prospect. He possesses the build of a first baseman, and picks up the "grounders" with the ease of a veteran. He will push someone hard for the position. Green has had considerable experience at first.

"Taniac" Burney seems to be alone on second base. Probably the aspirants to this position realize their hopelessness in ousting the plucky little key-stoner. Burney played that position last year, and is one of the fastest infielders in this neck of the woods.

Capt. John T. Bradford will probably hold down the hot corner. He filled that assignment last year with unfaltering steadiness and will more than likely do so again.

Among the aspirants for short stop are: Baker, Cleverdon, Henderson and Freeman. There will be a lot of competition for this position. Only time will determine the winner.

For the outfield are: Paul Norton, Clyde Propst, Bob Rowe, and about 15 others going out. Paul Norton played center last year. It has been rumored that since the foundation of the institution there has been a Norton in center field. However, "Mike" will have competition this year in Clyde Propst, the snappy football and basketball center. Bob Rowe played varsity in left field last year.

Antibal Gomez, the young Cuban, probably will go out for outfield. Gomez made varsity on the Candler College nine of Havana, Cuba, and is a fast man. He is said to be a good hitter. His catching abilities have already been demonstrated in the work-outs. He has not yet made up his mind as to whether he will play this season, but it is more than likely that he will.

The High School department received with joy the announcement of Prof. J. M. Malone, head of the high school, that they would put out a team this year. Bradford Robertson, former football and baseball star for the Panther, will coach the high school nine.

The number going out for the nine this year warms the heart of the ardent student who looks with great eagerness to the opening of the season here about the 25 and 26 of March with Auburn and soon afterwards games with Howard.

MEETS MILLSAPS IN DEBATE SOON

Birmingham-Southern College and Millsaps College will soon meet in a contest in which the palms of victory are not won by those possessing superiority in physical power and ability as in football, but by those who by their eloquence and persuasive forcefulness are able to lay their opponents in the shade. Birmingham-Southern has chosen as her representatives in this contest Mr. Denman of the Belles Lettres Literary Society, and Mr. Davidson of the Clarosophie. This is a revival of the contests which were held between the Southern University and Millsaps College in past years, in which the Southern University usually came out the victor. We are not uneasy over the outcome of this debate for we are sure that our able speakers are superior to any that Millsaps College can produce and that Birmingham-Southern shall carry off the honors in this field of college activities as she has done in athletics.

REPORT OF THE DES MOINES CONVENTION.

The Conventions of the Student Volunteer Movement for Foreign Missions have "literally marked epochs in the missionary and religious life of the students of Canada and of the United States." Of the series which began in 1891, the Eighth Convention has just been held in Des Moines, Iowa. Certainly it was the greatest of the series in the number of students and professors present, in the number of the institutions represented and in the number of students from foreign lands who shared in its great sessions. Moreover, as a result of the new vision coming to students growing out of the great War and its aftermath of world unrest, combined with the vision of the world's spiritual need and Christianity's answer thereto, as set forth in the addresses and discussions at Des Moines, this last Convention gives promise of being fully as epochal as those which have gone before.

Convention messages, as presented in platform sessions and in sections meetings, will be made quickly available both for delegates and for those not privileged to be at Des Moines, in a report volume for which orders received at the Student Volunteer Movement Headquarters, 25 Madison Avenue, New York City, before March 15, and accompanied by remittance, will be accepted at $2.00, carriage prepaid. The price of the volume when published will be $2.50.

FOR ALL MOTHERS

O God, we offer thee praise and benediction for the sweet ministries of motherhood in human life. We bless thee for our own dear mothers who built up our lives by theirs; who bore us in travail and loved us the more for the pain we gave; who nourished us at their breast and hushed us to sleep in the warm security of their arms. We thank thee for their tireless love, for their voiceless prayers, for the agony with which they followed us through our sins and won us back, for the Christly power of sacrifice and redemption in mother-love. We pray thee to forgive us if in thoughtless selfishness we have taken their love as our due without giving the tenderness which they craved as their sole reward. And if the great treasure of a mother's life is still spared to us, may we do for her feebleness what she did for ours. Amen.

—WALTER RAUSCHENBUSCH.

WOMEN.

There are women who are healthy,
There are women who are wealthy,
(Was there ever any woman who was old?)

There are women who are painted,
There are women who are sainted,
There are women who are worth their weight in gold.

There are women who are tender,
There are women who are slender,
There are women who are large and fat and red;

There are women who are married,
There are women who have tarried,
There are women who are talkative—but they're dead.

A GREAT RECORD

Wouldn't the folks at home feel proud, if "you" had a perfect record? Think what they would say when they saw all A's and no demerits. Fellows some of our parents would never live to tell anyone, while others would know that A stands for awful.

What is a perfect record? This is most too deep for the writer, but it was announced at chapel that a student at Birmingham-Southern had an average of A in all subjects, and not an absence for the entire term. Upon investigations we find that the guilty party is none other than "Bill" Locke. Bill is a faithful worker, loves his studies and enjoys all phases of college life. He has been in college two years and has made excellent grades all the time. Yet it is difficult to see how any specimen of humanity could keep a record like this. Boys this is not a Victrola record, but one made in classes.

Boys ain't that guy got a brain? Yes, the Profs. know it too, and they also know that "Bill" sees every show in town, but he knows those lessons.

"Bill" we may envy you, but trust you will continue to make records the world will be proud of, and that is one that can't be beat.

CO-ED WINS NATIONAL ORATORY HONORS.

For the first time in American college oratory, a woman has won a national intercollegiate oratorical contest. Hundreds of Co-eds have completed in collegiate oratory, and twice before has one achieved to the national contest. But this is the first time that one has actually walked away with the honors. Miss Margaret Garrison, of Willamette University, Salem Oregon, is the victor, Des Moines, Iowa, January 5 were the time and place, and the National Oratorical Contest of the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association was the event.

The seven interstate winners, already victors over 1,500 orators from 300 colleges, put up an awfully-contested meet, and Miss Garrison won the decision and the $100 cash prize by just one point. H. K. Cassidy, of Kansas, was the close second winner. B. R. Fogue, of Indiana, was third.

BASKET BALL HAS PASSED AWAY.

Greek Griffin showed plenty of speed and did good work, but his shots were a little inaccurate.

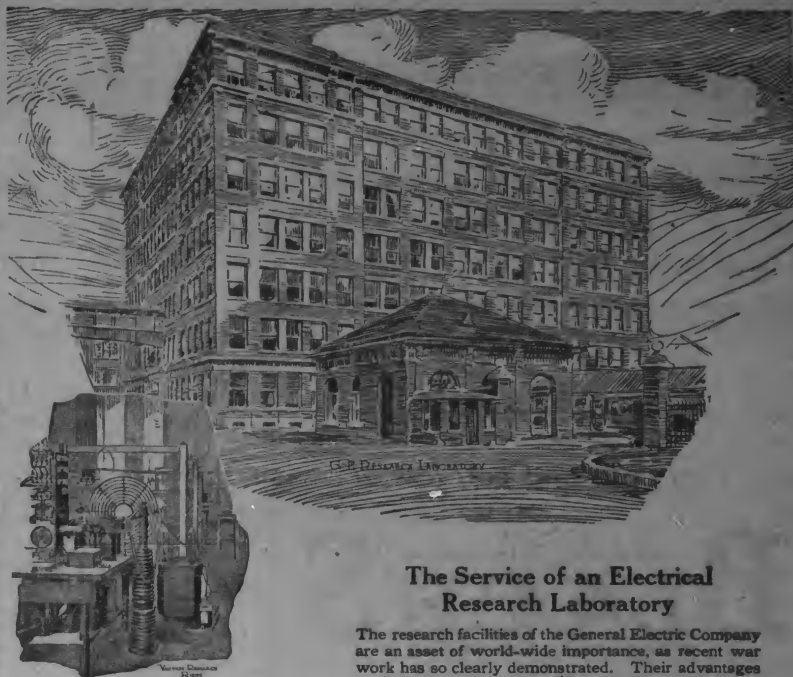

Clyde Propst guarded O. B. Newman in such a manner that it made the Howard Star look sick. In passing it might be said that Newman was held to one of his lowest scores in this game. He managed to get in six field goals.

Stanton Gandy stood head and shoulders over the Howard team on guarding. He was a thorn in the side of the Bulldog.

John Burnsey, the scrappy forward, was unable to get into the game until about the middle of the second half. It was immediately afterwards that the baby riot occurred.

John Ingram, Howard forward, had been pulling considerable "rough stuff," and getting away with it. However, when Burnsey got into the game Ingram's rough stuff did not get far before Burnsey was down on the floor with him "tooth and nails." What happened immediately afterwards was over so quickly that it could hardly be described, but one impression was a brown overcoat which seemed to soar over the heads of the fighters and laid in the center. Clyde Propst was in this overcoat, and no sooner had he landed, than he walloped Ingram one on the ear. He got "Tink" Gilliam's walking cane and was for cleaning out the Howard team when about three men grabbed him. Birmingham-Southern students thronged out on the floor anxious for blood, but few Howard men showed any inclination of fight and the arbiters managed to quiet things down.

The Service of an Electrical Research Laboratory

The research facilities of the General Electric Company are an asset of world-wide importance, as recent war work has so clearly demonstrated. Their advantages in pursuits of peace made them of inestimable value in time of war.

A most interesting story tells of the devices evolved which substantially aided in solving one of the most pressing problems of the war—the submarine menace. Fanciful, but no less real, were the results attained in radio communication which enabled an aviator to control a fleet of flying battleships, and made possible the sending, without a wire, history-making messages and orders to ships at sea. Scarcely less important was the X-ray tube, specially designed for field hospital use and a notable contribution to the military surgical service. And many other products, for both combatant and industrial use, did their full share in securing the victory.

In the laboratories are employed highly trained physicists, chemists, metallurgists and engineers, some of whom are experts of international reputation. These men are working not only to convert the resources of Nature to be of service to man, but to increase the usefulness of electricity in every line of endeavor. Their achievements benefit every individual wherever electricity is used.

Scientific research works hand in hand with the development of new devices, more efficient apparatus and processes of manufacture. It results in the discovery of better and more useful materials and ultimately in making happier and more livable the life of all mankind.

Booklet, Y-863, describing the company's plants, will be mailed upon request. Address Desk 37

THE STUDENT VOLUNTEER MOVEMENT

J. M. METCALF

The Student Volunteer originated at the first international conference of christian college students, which was held at Mount Hermon, Mass., in 1886, at the invitation of the late D. L. Moody. Of the 250 delegates who attended, twenty-one had definitely decided to become foreign missionaries when the conference opened. Before the conference closed one hundred of the delegates had recorded their "purpose, if God permit, to become foreign missionaries." At the conference it was decided that a deputation should be sent among the colleges, and four students were selected for this purpose. Of the four selected, Robert P. Wilder of Princeton alone was able to go, and John N. Forman, also of Princeton, was induced to join him. Messrs. Wilder and Forman visited 176 institutions, including a majority of the leading colleges and divinity schools of Canada and the United States.

In the summer of 1888 about fifty volunteers attended the student conference at Northfield. It was there decided that some organization was necessary, and a committee was appointed by the volunteers present to effect such an organization. This committee met in December, 1888, and an organization was effected, taking the name of the Student Volunteer Movement for Foreign Missions, which is incorporated under the laws of the State of New York. There is an Executive Committee, a Board of Trustees, and an advisory committee.

Student Volunteers are drawn from those who are or have been students in institutions of higher learning in the United States and Canada. Each student volunteer signs the "declaration" of the movement, which is as follows:

"It is my purpose, if God permits, to become a foreign missionary."

Because the Student Volunteer Movement is a movement, and because it is a movement for foreign missions, the principal proof of its efficiency is to be found in the going forth of its members to the foreign mission field. Since the movement was organized, the records show that 3,149 of the students, whom it has enrolled as volunteers, have gone out to the mission fields. Of this large number, 2,202 have gone out during the past six years. When it is remembered that this period embraced the world war, the effect of which was to interrupt and contract so much of the missionary work of the world, this showing is indeed remarkable. The 3,149 volunteers who have sailed, have gone to virtually all of the battlefields of christianity throughout the entire non-christian world. The sailed volunteers have gone out under the auspices of sixty-six Foreign Missionary agencies and includes members of not less than sixty christian denominations.

It has been the custom of the Student Volunteer Movement to hold a great International Convention once in each student generation of approximately four years. Since 1891, when the first convention of the movement was held at Cleveland, attended by 680 students, the volunteers have increased in number until, in 1894, at Detroit, 1,225 assembled; in 1898, at Cleveland again, 2,231; in 1902, at Toronto, 2,957; in 1906, at Nashville, 4,235; at Rochester in 1910, 3,747; at Kansas City in 1914, 5,031. At the Des Moines convention just held, the number of volunteers and other delegates reached 7,700, and represented more than 900 American colleges and other institutions of higher learning.

This is a brief statement of the origin and achievements of the Student Volunteer Movement for Foreign Missions during the first generation of its history, 1886-1919. These facts have been gathered from the various reports and speeches at the Des Moines convention, and are here presented for the benefit of students wishing to know more of the Student Volunteer Movement.

A SERMON

Statistics show us that the population of the world is 1,700,000,000. Of this number 1,065,000,000 people have not adequately heard the gospel of Jesus Christ and 100,000,000 have not even heard his name.

The true statement of democracy is,
"You are as good as I am, not, I am as good as you are." If this is true all men have the right to hear the gospel message. God has given to the students of America the great privilege of telling the story to all men. Christ included all men when he stated that "God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten son that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life.

We are told that in Latin America 42,000 babies die each year of the lack of knowledge of sanitation and proper care of infants on the part of the mothers and fathers.
There are 27,000,000 widows in India, 100,000 of these are under the age of 10 years, 14,000 are under the age of 4 years. Widowhood means humiliation, loneliness, drudgery and despair. A widow may not marry in India. This picture of child widowhood in India presents to us a most appalling custom, and sets forth a stirring appeal to the christian students of America to carry the message to India of him, who said, "Suffer the little children to come unto me and forbid them not or such is the kingdom of God."

Africa, the black continent, black not only in color, but black in hopelessness and despair, sends out the Macedonian cry for help. There are thousands of square miles in Africa without even one school in them. One youth is said to have walked 1500 miles to attend school. There are 116, 000,000 people that have not one peice of literature, while 9,000,000 miles of territory is untouched by any missionary. Africa not only needs teachers and evangelistic missionaries, but Africa needs all sorts of workers, and especially medical missionaries. A picture was showed at Des Moines of a child that had been born with one eye closed. The child became sick, and the parents sent for a native doctor, who examined the child and said that the child had an evil spirit in it, and taking a hat pin the doctor pierced the little fellows body in several places, so that the evil spirit might come out of the child, but the child grew worse, and finally the doctor pierced the only eye that was left, thereby leaving the child blind forever. The curse of the witch doctor, for this native was a witch doctor, can only be disposed of by sending into Africa, and into other countries where the need is equally great, competent doctors to care for the sick.

All kinds of missionaries are needed.
God asked Moses what it was that he had in his hand, and Moses replied that it was a rod, then God told him to cast it upon the ground, when Moses did so the rod turned to a snake. In doing this God gave to Moses a means of convincing the children of Israel that he had sent him, and also left to you and me a lesson that God uses what we have for the forwarding of his kingdom. Financiers, bankers, engineers, practical builders, physical directors, musical directors, nurses, doctors, etc.

The non-christian religions are inadequate for the needs of the heathen lands. They have no place in their teachings for mother in their worship.
There is only one temple among hundreds for women. Widowhood and child widowhood is endorsed by the sacred writings of Mohamad. The child is not recognized in the non-christian religions. The kindergarten is a product of the christian religion.

The hope of the world is the teachings of Jesus Christ, lived and demonstrated in the heart and life of men.
A Chinese statesman, Yuan Shi Kai, said, "I am not a christian, but a confucianist, but unless the ethics of christianity shall dominate the scholarship of China, there is no hope for the republic." We can enlarge on this statement and say that there is no hope for the world outside the teachings of Christ. A missionary in Africa was going along a path one day when a man came rushing up to him and asked him if Christ satisfied. Although startled the missionary replied, yes, Christ does satisfy. The man turned and rushed off down the path. The missionary attempted to overtake him so that he might talk with him more about Christ, but the man disappeared in the woods. The missionary soon came to an opening in the woods and looking at a distance he saw the same man rise from a kneeling posture, and seeing the missionary the man approached him with a new light shining in his face and shouted "Christ does satisfy indeed!"

An old African chief was approached by a missionary who attempted to tell him the story of Jesus. The old chief shook his head and said, I cannot understand, you are too late, if you had come when I was a young man I might have understood, but you have waited too long to come. I wonder what the students of Birmingham-Southern College, with such a challenge before them will do.

The slogan of the Student Volunteer movement is "The Evangelization of the World in this Generation." Shall it be said in the next generation that the students of B. S. C. waited too-long, or shall each of you reply, "Here am I, send me."

APRIL 1st TO BE AN ANNUAL HOLIDAY

Students Enjoy All Fool's Day In A Very Quiet Manner.

"All Fools Day" again obtained recognition by the students and faculty of Birmingham-Southern College. The students celebrated it last year in the usual manner, a general strike; but, this year, by means of an influential petition of the student body, the faculty declared it to be a holiday before it dawned upon us fools. The students celebrated the day with all the quietness, reverence, and seriousness of a matrimonial service. Books were laid aside for the day, and thoughts were centered upon the significance of the celebration. The fact that no great disturbances or vaudeville acts were staged, proves, to some extent, that college life has some beneficial effects upon the lives of foolish young men and women.

No one is perfect, few are wise, but many are fools. Out of the 365 days in a common year, it seems very natural that all fools should be given one day for celebration, just as we celebrate the birth of our great revolutionary leader, George Washington. "Some men inherit greatness, some achieve greatness, others have greatness thrust upon them"; but many, many men never become great. It is for the last class that April 1 is celebrated. Realizing that the great majority of the students are victims of this class, the faculty has pronounced April 1 an annual holiday for the students of the college. The students are very glad the faculty has taken this action, because, it not only affords them a day of rest or recreation, but also one on which the foolish nature of them are allowed adequate freedom of action.

FOOTBALL SQUAD ISSUED LETTERS

The warriors of the Birmingham-Southern Football Team fought their battles bravely and manly during the autumn months, and an enviable record was made by them. Every student of the college is proud of this, and the Athletic Association has obtained the sweaters, which have been ordered for some time, and they will be awarded to the following men: Tanlac Burney, Mike Norton, Gabby Scott, Tink Gillam, Toto Jaffee, Tappy Bradford, Aubrey Miller, Jim Rodgers, Buck Larson, Jim Baty, Eddie Lewis, Morrell Montgomery Cooper Green, Sig Levis, Hoss Gandy, Shorty Propst, Slim Neese and Dave Evans.

DELEGATES TO STUDENT VOLUNTEER CONVENTION.

The annual conference of student volunteers of Alabama was held at Judson College, Marion, Alabama, on Friday, Saturday and Sunday of last week. At the regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. last Thursday, W. P. Snuggs and P. D. Scrivner were elected as delegates to attend the conference with J. M. Metcalf who is President of the conference. Since Birmingham-Southern was allowed four delegates, it was decided at a special meeting of the "Y" Monday evening that since R. J. Rowe and H. O. Johnson would be in Marion, Friday and Saturday with the baseball team, they could also act as delegates to the conference without additional expense to the Y. M. C. A.

That the number of scholastic failures this year has broken all records in the universities represented is reported from a conference of ten university Deans of Men held at the University of Illinois, February 20-21. University standards in general were reported lower than usual, while interest in social affairs and student activities was greater. The war was blamed as one cause.

BELLES LETTERS HOLD MOCK TRIAL

W. G. Barnes Indicted, Tried, and Convicted for Improper Use of Word "Tahoe."

"Kangaroo" Court was in session here last week. The court was held by members of the Belles Lettres literary society, who had as their guests on this occasion the members of the Clarisophic literary society. "Charlie" Maxwell had brought suit against Mr. W. G. Barnes for having caused him to lose his girl by the use of the word "Tabboe" in her presence. Mr. Barnes was duly arrested by Sheriff Hall and brought before the court which was presided over by Judge Tipton. The lawyers who upheld the case of Mr. Maxwell were Messrs. Travick and Lock and those of the defense were Messrs. Sparks and Snugs. Witnesses and jurymen were selected from both societies. Miss La Page had the honor of being the only lady to testify as a witness. After much discussion the jury rendered the decision that the accused was not guilty and that the plaintiff should be hung on Friday, April the thirteenth.

While the jury was deciding upon the question, a delightful program was rendered by Miss Chappel, who gave a reading, and Miss Rosamond of the Clarisophic, who rendered a piano selection.

A world federation of university students against the liquor traffic is the announced plan of the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association. It plans to unite with the student temperance organizations already existing in a number of countries, and then to develop similar movements in all the other countries.

AN EXPLANATION.

The staff of the Gold and Black regrets very much that this issue is so delayed. However the business manager found it hard to rush up the "ads" and without advertising matter it is impossible to make the paper go. Printers' rates have gone up since Xmas. We trust and believe that all of our readers will appreciate the circumstances which have combined to make this issue late.

CONCERT AT NORWOOD.

On Tuesday evening, March 16, the Glee Club gave a very successful concert at the Norwood Methodist church. By the faithful work of Mr. Newman Yelding and some of his Sunday school classmates, a large number of tickets were sold before the concert. The church's part of the proceeds will be used in the construction of a new church. A good and very appreciative audience was present despite the fact of much rain before the concert. Every number of the program was well rendered, and the recently learned songs proved to be very interesting to the auditors. The scrap iron quartet received much applause from the humorous selections, most especially the Donkey song, which always causes a burst of laughter from the audience. After the concert, ice cream cones were served to the members of the club, in the church, and after several minutes of social enjoyment, the vocalizers happily returned to the Sunshine Slopes.

No universities and no state liberal arts colleges exist in Brazil. Indeed there is only one liberal arts college of any kind. But there are a large number of high grade professional schools.

PANTHERS FALL BEFORE YANKEES

Illinois Boys on Tour of Sunny South Show Fast Work.

Birmingham - Southern Panthers proved easy for the University of Illinois baseball players Saturday morning, the latter winning the one-sided affair 12 to 2. The Illinois team didn't take but six innings, the Panthers having seven.

The northern lads were by far the best hitters, all but two of them chalking up at least one hit. English got three hits out of four times at bat. Johnson, for Birmingham-Southern, got a needed double in the fifth.

Illinois batted consistently until the fourth, when Malone went to the mound and stopped the onslaught. Malone pitched good ball for the remainder of the game.

English played the best game for the northerners. Kopp played a good game behind the bat, after he had relieved McCurdy, who was injured in the first inning.

Stuart and Norton did good work for the Methodists. Bradford's work at third was excellent.

THE PANTHER.

By Edwin Markham

The moon shears upon Tahoe now;
The panther leaps to the tamarack bough,
She crouches, hugging the crooked limb:
She hears the nearing steps of him
Who sent the little puff of smoke
That stretched her mate beneath the oak.

Her eyes burn beryl, two yellow balls,
As Fate counts out his last footfalls.
A sudden spring, a demon cry,
Carnivorous laughter to the sky.
Her teeth are fastened in his throat
(The moon rides in her silver boat.)
And now one scream of long delight
Across the caverns of the night!

Of blazing wickedness and misery
It shines more fierce than fierce iniquity.

Oh, heed you not those lying mouths which tell

Gods' burning zeal of love most terrible

To lie in pools of passive piety.
For goodness is a passion in the soul

More fierce than earthly passion, and its peace

Is pinnacled on violence. Desire Burns there in blossom of white ecstasies.

Mighty as thunder hear God's message roll:

What is the letter "B?" It is only a piece of felt, dyed gold, but it is eagerly sought for by the athletically inclined students of Birmingham-Southern College. Why do they seek to wear it? Is it because they wish to let people know where they are from or do they wear it for an ornament?
No, these are not the reasons, but because it is only given to those who land a place on the "varsity" teams.
These teams are not made in a day or two; but only after weeks of practice and hard knocks. Many pleasures have to be sacrificed and a great deal of time and labor given; but the students feel well repaid for their sacrifices, when they are awarded this letter.

It is very seldom that any one student makes as many as six letters during his college course, but we have a Senior this year who has already made thirteen letters and before his course is completed will probably make two more. The Senior referred to is none other than "Tappy" Bradford.

"Tappy" has received many honors during his college course, but none which show any larger amount of time and labor. Any man who can make so large a number of letters in four years time is very likely to make them in later life, and in so doing make his mark in the world. "Tappy," we wish you every success.

PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL.

Two representatives from each of the three fraternities at Birmingham-Southern met on March 14, and organized a Pan-Hellenic Council.

The men composing the council are:
Vaughan Howard and Jim Baty, A. T. O. U.
Albert Branscomb and John T. Bradford, Pi K. A.; Jimmie Meigs and John Akin, S. A. E.

The object of the council is to bind the fraternities into closer bonds of friendship so that they may exert a greater strength toward the betterment of Birmingham-Southern College. The fraternities are behind the college and are going to help put it at the top of athletics and scholarship.

The council elected the following officers: J. M. Baty, President; J. H.
Meigs, Vice-President; Albert Brans-comb, Secretary-Treasurer.

OWL'S NEST VACATED NOW.

In the early autumnal days, the Owl's Nest was made somewhat undesirable, as a place of abode, by the courage of the sharp-billed mosquitoes.

Twenty students and two Professors,
Cooper and Owsley; occupied the well-known building in the woods. After the warlike mosquitoes became extinct, the Owl's Nest became to be a very pleasant place to live, and the general environment seemed to stimulate the bodies and brains of the occupants so much that other people became somewhat jealous of their location. Its popularity quickly waned when the extremely cold atmosphere of winter came into the cool rooms, and the "Owl's" gradually drifted away from the "Nest" and sought warmer places of rest. The rain fell and water rose in the basement and cooled the fiery furnace; the ice came and made the position of the water secure, but still many of the fellows and the two Professors retained their hardihood through the gloomy months of winter. But now the house is vacated, on account of securing other rooms in the dormitories, and it has been rented to other parties.

The name Owl's Nest seemed to be very suitable because of its environment, and two of the Owls, Owsley and Dark. The dwellers had quiet, only, when three of the noisy rats, Duke, Paul White, and Whatley, were asleep. Thus the only four "rats" mentioned above made a very unique quartette for the club of wood dwellers. However, unoccupied now, thoughts of the Owl's Nest will live forever in the minds of those who once called it their home.

"A cynic is a man who claims to be tired of the world. But in reality the world is tired of him."

CHUNKS O' FUN

There is a certain little fellow into whose heart his mother has been for some time striving to instill the sentiment of generosity, which, to her repent, did not appear to be naturally present. The son of a poor family of the neighborhood she had particularly commended to her boy's consideration.
The other day he came in with beaming face.
"You know Tom, that poor boy?" he said eagerly. "Well, I gave him half that box of candy you gived me!"
"You are mamma's own sweet little man!" the fond mother approved.
"Was he grateful?"
"Oh, he precalated it all right," the little fellow assured her. "He let me lick him when two other kids could see, an' tomorrow he's goin' to come round by the school and let me lick him right in front of everybody, for the other half of the box!"—New York Times.

Maxwell (entering a sixteen floor office of the Syndicate building, ver-spering and panting)—"Them stairs must be sev'ral miles long!"

Occupant of Office—"Why didn't you come up in one of the elevators there?"

Maxwell—"Not much! I jes' see one of 'em full o' people fall down that hole there!"

A little lad of 5 came to his mother in a great fluster and exclaimed, "Oh, muvver, Eddie and Wose found such a nice dead cat and they are going to have a funeral and can I go?"

Permission was given and when the boy returned he was questioned about the ceremony.

"They didn't have it at all," he said.
And why not?"

"Muvver," was the answer, "the cat was too dead."—Boston Evening Transcript.

"Where are you going,
My pretty maid?"

"I'm going shopping,
Sir," she said.

"May I go with you,
My pretty maid?"

"Why yes, certainly; if you'll agree to chaise with me from one store to another, up and down stairs, and in and out of elevators, the way I've got to; wait for me to have a fitting;
help me pick out some bridge prizes;

give me the benefit of your advice in selecting Xmas presents for my four brothers; take me to lunch somewhere; carry a few bundles and bring them home to a maid."

"Sir," she said.—N. Y. Sun.

PI. K. A.'s TAKE A HIKE

On last Monday evening, under the guidance of the secondary illuminating planets, the members and several friends of the Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity took a pleasant hike to the large spring in Shady-side. On the white rocks, overlooking the flow of water, a large bonfire was built for lighting, heating and toasting purposes. After the meeting of new and old acquaintances and their conversations, some time was spent satisfying the appetites of the hikers with roasted weiners, toasted marshmallows, rolls, and fruits. Soon the attention of each one was centered upon several humorous selections of songs rendered by some of the members of the Glee Club, and pleasant smiles were produced by the readings given by Miss Harriett Chappell and Messrs. Cooper Green and A. B. Davidson. Miss Chappell's reading was especially interesting and entertaining, and it showed that she is possessed with great ability as a reciter. Finally the fire burned low, the atmosphere grew cool, the host of friends took some apples and oranges and turned their faces toward their places of abode, bidding good-night to the various friends around the fireside.

Since this was the initial outing of the season, every member of the party seemed to enjoy it to the fullest extent. Those present were: Misses Sara Newsome, Gladys Green, Vera Padgett, Myrtle Thompson, Thelma Stacy, Harriett Chappell, Myrtle Painter, Katie Stagg (Cleo Anderson), Margaret Drennen, Elizabeth Riordan, Elsie West, Loreno Norton, Catherine Mason, Catherine Williams and Mary Rauser; Messrs. Cooper Green, Milton Griffin, Paul Norton, Beauregard Bagley, W. P. Snuggs, J. W. DeYampert, J. T. Bradford, W. W. Locke, P. D. Scribner, A. B. Davidson, Howard Stansel, Fred Riggan, H. G. Moseley, and Enoch Morris of the Pi K. A.'s; L. V. Howard of the A. T. O. Fraternity; J. H. Meigs of the S. A. E. Fraternity; and Professor Owale and Miss Elliott as chaperons. The chaperons had no troubles in quelling riots or other disorders in the camp, and they, as well as the other members, enjoyed the evening with social enjoyment.

TALK GIVEN BY MR. NESSBIT.

A very much enjoyed talk was given the student body by Mr. Nesbitt during the chapel hour last Monday. Mr. Nesbitt spoke in the interest of foreign missions. He said that one of the main reasons why we should carry the gospel to other nations is to prevent war. In the late war, two main things were clearly brought out: the influence for good and the influence for evil; but the influence for evil predominated. The moral standards of men were lowered, the value of human life was lowered, and the dangerous philosophy, "That the end justifies the means," came into prominence. These facts go to show that the late war was more harmful than beneficial to mankind, and we should preach the gospel to all nations, so as to prevent another war.

He then said that a remedy for the root of evil could be found from the statement made by Ambassador Brice, "That we need a change of heart in the people of the world," and the only power with which to do this is found in Jesus Christ. Every one should develop the talent given him by Christ, and join himself to some great task.

He said that one of the main needs of the world is the need for doctors. Thousands of people in China and India are dying for the need of doctors. One doctor has to look after several thousand people, and consequently he can't do his duty. There are also thousands of people who are starving because they haven't intelligence enough to provide for themselves.

There is therefore a strong appeal, not only to ministers, but to doctors and other educated men and women, to go and aid the helpless thousands.

The government of Ecuador expends $125,000 annually for university education, while there are only 340 students in its universities.

Utilizing Nature's Power

ELECTRICAL energy generated by water power has grown to be one of our greatest natural resources—and we have only begun to reach its possibilities. It mines and refines our ores, turns the wheels of industry, drives our street cars and lights our cities and towns. The power obtained from Nature saves many million tons of coal every year.

At first the field of its utilization was limited by the distance electricity could be transported. But soon research and engineering skill pointed the way to larger and better electrical apparatus necessary for high-voltage transmission. Then ingenious devices were invented to insure protection against lightning, short-circuits, etc., which cause damage and interrupt the service. And now all over the country a network of wires begins to appear, carrying the magic power.

The General Electric Company, with its many years' experience, has played a great part in hydro-electric development. By successfully co-ordinating the inventive genius of the company and its engineering and manufacturing abilities, it has accomplished some of the greatest achievements in the production and application of electrical energy.

The old mill wheel of yesterday has been replaced by the forces of immense volumes of water are harnessed and sent miles away to supply the needs of industry and business and the comforts of the home.
